At the Theaters

"A Soldier's Oath," one of the greatest photodramas ever produced by William Fox, has been revised, along with five others of his best productions, and will be seen at the Orpheus theater tonight with William Farnum as the star.

One of the earlier of the war films which grew out of the world conflict, "A Soldier's Oath," set a standard for thrilling situations and throbbing heart interest which has not been surpassed since. The story, it will be recalled, relates the life tragedy of a soldier of France, who, falsely accused, is sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife.
How he vindicated himself forms a drama of tremendous power.

A new William Fox photoplay of the most interesting kind is to be shown Sunday at the Orpheus theater. It is called "Six Shooter Andy," and Tom Mix is the star. In this drama he has a role that is distinctly of the Western type.

"Six Shooter Andy" is built around a personality that is little known and which, strange to say, has up to this time never found its way into drama or story. Mix is not only a trapper and a pioneer, but a punisher of corruption.

The story is essentially a romance, the heart is touched at every step, and the delight of those who view it as the work of the hero brings peace and happiness where there has been none before.

A notable cast surrounds Tom Mix in this production. The young woman in the case is presented by Edna Mayer and others who will support him are Sam De Gramme, Charles Stevens, Bob Fleming, George Stone, Virginia Lee Cobb and Violet Radcliffe.

Appearing to signal advantage in "M'Liss," Bret Harte's story of the Golden West, of '49, Mary Pickford scored another triumph at the Star theater yesterday. The legion of admirers of this popular screen star turned out in force and they emphasized in no uncertain way the popularity of the star and the superiority of her latest Arctcraft picture vehicle.

As "M'Liss," Mary Pickford had abundant opportunities for the display of her versatile genius. She was at her best as the hard-core child of the mines, the daughter of a drunken father, to whom she paid the most devoted care. The object of ridicule wherever she went, the sport of the boys and girls of Red Gulph, she had learned to take her own part and in numerous scenes

PERSONAL MENTION

LITTLE SIDELIGHTS ON LOCAL HAPPENINGS
AMONG THE PEOPLE OF THIS CITY AND VICINITY.
GOINGS AND COMINGS OF LOCAL FOLKS

N. H. Dimick was among the arrivals yesterday from The Dalles.

Miss Ellen Thurber is a guest at the Hotel Hall from Concord.

Mrs. R. C. Crowley was a county seat visitor yesterday from her home near Lorella.

F. H. Chamberlain is here for a short time on business for San Francisco.

L. H. Pearl is a recent arrival from Portland. He is registered at the White Pelican.

H. Carlson is down for a short time on matters of business from Fort Klamath.

P. P. Curtiss came in last night from Bray to look after matters of business here.

Mrs. A. E. Galas of Lorella was in the city yesterday trading with Klamath Falls merchants.

J. H. Cookson, P. S. Rose and W.
A. Wilson were passengers this morning on the stage to Ashland.

Miss Rosella A. Wells is in Klamath Falls today from Portland on her way to Fort Klamath.

Mrs. L. M. Hogan was among the train arrivals last night from San Francisco.

W. T. Elliott was in town from his ranch in the Pine Grove district yesterday afternoon.

R. B. Davies is a Klamath Falls business visitor from Sacramento.
He is a guest at the Hotel Hall.

James Straw is down for a few days from his ranch in the Odessa section. He is registered at the Hotel Hall.

Mrs. William Jannette and daughter, Miss Fay, arrived last night from a three months visit in Southern Illinois.

W. C. Dalton, who operates an extensive stock ranch in the Malin district, was a county seat visitor yesterday.

James Jory, a well known farmer of the Midland district, was in the county seat looking after business interests yesterday.

with these children, and to the delight of her audience, she demonstrated beyond question her fighting qualities. "M'Liss" will be repeated again tonight.

Roy Stewart is one of the big actors of the screen. He is a versatile, winning, dominant, hard as iron in a crisis, soft as a woman in love moments. "Boss of the Lasy Y," Tri-angle's latest production, gives Roy a chance to make use of every element of acting power that he possesses.

Revenge, love, suspicion, struggle, gun play, maniacal fury and tender forgiveness all unite in a play of sweeping power. Roy Stewart is the ideal hero for this story, adapted from Charles Alden Seltzer's great novel, which enjoyed an enormous popular success. The name, Roy, finds its origin in the "Roy" which means royal, and Roy Stewart is a royal screen artist—more, he may be called the "king" of western character actors. With pretty Joie Sedgwick as his dainty leading lady, an able cast, a beautiful production, and a story of such merit as that in Charles Alden Seltzer's novel, "The Boss of the Lasy Y," will prove to be rare entertainment. At the Temple theater tonight.

Blackmail, slander, heartaches and finally happiness follow the trail of Beatrix' thoughtless little lie and some of the complications worked out in the picture are amusing in the extreme. Among other things the hapless pair are forced away by the well-meaning family on a honeymoon cruise aboard Franklin's yacht, the Galatea, and only Beatrix' quick wit provides the necessary chaperones.

Portraying the role of the worst spoiled girl in America, Constance Talmadge as Beatrix Vanderyke in "Scandal," the new Select production gives an exceedingly clever study of the pampered New York debutante, self-willed and high tempered, but strangely appealing in her moments of sweetness. The picture will be shown Sunday at the Star theater and promises to hit the high water mark in popularity.

Purchase a Thrift Stamp before retiring. "They work while you sleep."

I. L. Wakefield, Mrs. E. L. Neashan, Mrs. N. Bogner and Lute Henderson came in yesterday afternoon from Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. George Noble, Jr., and family, and George Noble, Sr., were in town yesterday from their stock ranch in the Langell Valley.

Mrs. H. G. McCarthy is expected to return tonight from Dunsmuir for a short time before moving to that place to live.

W. O. Smith left this morning for Lake county, where he intends to spend the next few days hunting sage hens and fishing. He expects to return early next week.

R. J. Sheets of the Link River Electrical company left yesterday by auto for Susanville, Cal., to negotiate for a contract of wiring a large box factory under construction there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fredenburg, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Chandler and William Horn from the Malin district are county seat visitors today.
They are stopping at the Hotel Hall.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Zoberbier of Seattle have arrived in Klamath county for their annual summer vacation at Odessa. The doctor and his wife have a little summer home near the Odessa postoffice and come for a few weeks nearly every summer.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we would all practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleaning, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to any one its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.—Ad

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY ARE SHOWN

The following letter, which appeared recently in a German language paper in Lincoln, Neb., and which has been translated, is of unusual interest in the "inside information" given.

This letter was written by Peter Schnell, from New York, in a part of Russia controlled by Germany to a son in Nebraska. It is thought to have come thru Japan, as there are parts of it which the German censor would never have allowed to slip by.
At the same time it is plain the writer feared it would fall into unfriendly hands and was afraid to write all that was on his mind.

New York, Russia.
Dear Son: Yours of July 13th just received, at Rosenberg P. O. Was very glad to get and hear from you all. Give everybody our best regards.
We are all well here and hope you are the same.

I have to tell you your brother-in-law is dead. (Killed in the war beyond a doubt, but afraid of censorship—Ed.) It is terribly hard times and I can't see how she will ever make it with the children. Everything is so high—we can scarcely secure what things are needed for living (necessities) seem highest, and it is terrible on the poor people. Here are prices of a few things just to show the awful shape we are in.

Pair shoes, $40 to $50.
Shoes, soled, $15.
Pair pants, $20 to $40.
Yard of cloth for patching, $15.
1 pound sugar, $5.
1 pound tea, $10 to $15.
Box of matches, $1.20.

Hay, $3.40 per but. (40 pounds).
Straw $30 per load.
Wheat flour, sack of 200 pounds, $100 to $115.

Wheat, $20 per but. (50 per lb).
Rye, $15 to $18 per but.
Potatoes, $5 per bushel.
Butter, $5 per pound.

A good cow, $400.
Yoke of oxen, $1,000 and none to be had at that price.

Old sheep, $40.
Lambs, $35 to $40. (The writer states that another son, Harry, had that week sold two lambs for $75.— Ed.)

Horses, $800 to $900.
Pork, $3 to $3.50 per pound.
Long sheepskin coat, $100. (The government recently seized the writer's coat, allowing him therefor $9.

O Lord, how we wish war times were over and we had peace once again! Everything looks so bad, the times are so terribly hard! There are a few here who do not care how long war lasts, as they are making money out of it, but there are so many near starvation. I don't know how it is with you in America, but here it is awful—none can afford to help his closest relatives or neighbors.

When the war is over, if I am alive and I am 73 years old, I can tell you more fully and freely of what we are suffering right now. Now we can do nothing—we are compelled to keep silent. And, child, you should be glad you are in America, where you don't have to go thru the terrible times we are experiencing. Again, best love and wishes from father and mother. PETER SCHNELL.

ALLIED AIR SUPREMACY EVIDENCED

LONDON, Aug. 10.—During the year ending June 30, 1918, 2150 enemy aircraft were destroyed by the Royal Air force on the western front.

One thousand, eighty-three enemy aircraft were driven down out of control. The Royal Air force, working with naval airmen, brought down 623 enemy aircraft.

During the same period 1094 British machines were reported missing.
Including 92 working with the navy.

During the period from April to June of this year the British destroyed 156 enemy machines on the Italian front and drove six down out of control. On the Saloniki front, between January and June, 21 enemy planes were destroyed and 13 driven down out of control. From March to June in Egypt and Palestine 26 enemy machines were destroyed and 15 driven down out of control.

A total of 1121 British machines have been reported missing in this time, while 4102 enemy machines were brought down.

BIGGEST WIND
HERO OF WAR IS DISCOVERED

PARIS, July 29.—(Correspond of The Associated Press).—The heroic exploits and hair-breadth escapes of D'Artagnan as narrated by Dumas in the "Three Musketeers" fade into comparative insignificance when compared with the achievements of Rene Bertrand, as told by himself.

Mus an arm and a leg, with nine medals glittering on his breast, and asserting that his body bore more than 30 bullet and bayonet wounds, "Private Rene Bertrand of the French Colonial Infantry," posed in Paris as the greatest of the war.

Now he has been arrested as perhaps one of the war's greatest fakirs and the police authorities declare that he lost his leg and arm in a railway accident and that five imprints compose his record. It was the publication of Bertrand's photograph in a French newspaper that led to his undoing.

Meantime, while reveling in the fruits of his own romance, Bertrand enjoyed the confidence of army officers and the credit of the leading Paris cafes. One famous and fearless aviator made Private Bertrand his godson and "adopted" him for the balance of the war.

The medals he wore included the cross of the legion of honor, the military medal, the war cross with seven palms and five stars, the British military cross, the Belgian war cross, the colonial medal, medal of Morocco and the medal for saving life, and the medal for wounds. In addition he wore the "fouragere" of the legion of honor.

Where he got them has not been disclosed, but to account for them Bertrand constructed a story of wonderful incidents. According to this tale he won the military medal by saving the lives of two officers and was himself wounded in the thigh when surrounded by natives while fighting with the French Territorial forces in Morocco in 1917.
