

THREE MISSOURI FRIENDS OF GEN. PERSHING

General John J. Pershing, commander of the American troops in France, the man on whom the world depends to beat Germany in her war against civilization, was raised in Laclede, Mo., a small frontier town at that time. And here are three of the close friends with whom he was brought up. Charles Spurgeon went to the village school with him, as did J. C. Crowder. Aunt Susan Hewitt was well known in the town. She was older than the general, but she was one of his boyhood friends.

UNCLE SAM IS NOW SNAPPING UP BARGAINS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—A million barrels of flour at $1 a barrel is the fascinating bargain the government has just picked up.

The millers of the country are obliged to sell this amount at this price because they have been profiteering. It was arranged many months ago that the millers should have a certain margin of profit for their milling, including the sale of the bran and middlings. It is found that very large prices were extracted from farmers for these by-products used to feed cattle, so that in some cases the millers got as much as $3.00 a barrel profit on flour. All this profit must now be distributed in the form of flour at $1 a barrel to the government.

The war, with its government regulation of many lines of industry, has brought to light some peculiar things in the economic world. For instance, the Federal trade commission finds that as much money is spent for advertising flour and selling it as for converting wheat into flour and putting it into barrels.

At present all advertisements of flour represent money invested in the hope of profit after the war. All flour made in the mills today is alike. It is all one grade and consists of 95 to 100 per cent wheat.

All brands especially advertised were special refinements of ordinary flour. Their makers hope to preserve the value of the trade mark by keeping it in the public mind and plan to make their profits after the war permits them to resume their special refinements.

BOYS IN CAMP WANT MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

The following letter from the War Camp Community service at San Francisco tells of needs of the boys during their leisure hours. It may be that a number in this vicinity are in position to respond to the request made.

"We have requests constantly for Victrolas and musical instruments from the many boys leaving port, as well as from base hospitals and education camps.

Surely among the patriotic readers of your publication there are some who have Victrolas they can spare, banjos, guitars, mandolins or other instruments, and they will want to send them to us for distribution among the boys in khaki and blue in camps, forts and naval stations in California. Games of all kinds will also be very welcome.

The War Camp Community service is an official organization under the war department and navy department commissions on training camp activities.

Thanking you for your co-operation, we are, Very sincerely yours, S. F. WAR CAMP COMMUNITY SERVICE, 1058 Phelan Building, San Francisco, Cal.

MRS. BENNETT HAD SUFFERED EIGHTEEN YEARS

WAS IN BED WEEKS AT A TIME UNABLE TO MOVE—NOW DOES OWN HOUSEWORK

"For the past eighteen years my wife was a sufferer from rheumatism in one of its worst forms," said William Bennett, who is employed by one of the large saw mills at Redmond, Wash., recently.

"Whenever these attacks came on," he continued, "she would get so weak and crippled up that she would have to take to her bed, where she would lie for two or three weeks at a time, suffering untold agonies and unable to move. Her left foot was drawn up and twisted so with pain that she seemed to be permanently crippled, and one finger on her left hand was drawn all out of shape so it was useless to her. Her stomach, too, was all out of order, she had no appetite, and although she was just as careful as she could be about her dieting, her food would sour on her stomach and cause her great distress afterwards. Her nervous system seemed to be shattered, and her rest was so broken at night that she could hardly sleep. Her arms and throat appeared to be withered, the skin soft and flabby, and she was just about as miserable as anybody ever gets to be. For years she had been too weak and ailing to do any of her housework, and what time she wasn't in bed she was barely able to get around.

"I consulted specialists about her case but they could give me no hope and I took her to one of the most celebrated health resorts in the country, hoping she would be benefited through drinking the water, but it seemed to do her no good. Then she tried all kinds of medicines, but not till she started taking Tanlac did she find any relief whatever. After taking a few bottles of this wonderful medicine we are prepared to say that Tanlac is the only thing we have any faith in. Her last attack of rheumatism was all of two months ago, and she hasn't had a twinge since. Her twisted foot is getting back into its normal position and that bent finger is getting straight and supple like the others. Her stomach is in such splendid condition that she can eat anything she wants without suffering any bad effects afterwards. Her arms and neck are filling out, and are plump and firm, and she sleeps like a child every night. She is now able to do all her housework, and she is in better condition than she has been in many years."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by Star Drug Co.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN BUSY HARVESTING

NEVADA CITY, Aug. 14.—Over one-half of the work of haying and harvesting in the mountain counties of northern California, Nevada, Sierra, Plumas, Lassen and Modoc, is being performed by women and girls, according to reports received here. In the irrigated valleys where heavy crops are raised, regular crews of young women, many of them teachers and college graduates, go from ranch to ranch and render excellent service. Some are earning money for college expenses and others for the purchase of liberty bonds.

In this country over 30 young women are qualifying themselves as fruit packers, a vocation in which experts make large wages.

SOLDIERS IN ARISTOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS

HEADQUARTERS AMERICAN TROOPS WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, Aug. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press) Some of the "new" army men who have fallen ill or met with accident in France are convalescing in bracing air that cost sends visitors from five dollars to twenty dollars per day each before the war. They are living in a place that was once the favorite resort of royalty where a new mixed Anglo-American hospital town of 2,000 beds has sprung up on a high and dry promontory facing the sea and overlooking a handsome bay, a popular bathing beach and a little port into which picturesque fishing smacks bring mackerel every day to be sold at auction on the quay.

William Shorthouse, son of William the Conqueror, brought the port into history by using it for the embarkation of the forces with which he tried in vain to wrest the throne of England from his brother William Rufus. It would gratify all the home friends of these American boys to see how they are being cared for, and how they begin to thrive as soon as their passing ills are conquered. The American part of this hospital was originally Philadelphia enterprise with Philadelphia nurses, many of whom are still there. The British predominate largely among the patients. The small proportion of American cases are mostly ills such as mumps, measles with a few cases of diphtheria, principally contagious diseases contracted coming over. There are some that prove that a young man who has been engaged in professional or clerical occupations, unaccustomed to heavy work or long physical strain, may not through simple training become able to carry a load of sixty to seventy pounds on his back over distances that troops are obliged to cover. They have developed hernia under the strain. The number of these cases of rupture is not sufficient to cause alarm, but it is enough to emphasize the necessity of careful selection of young men who are not hardened to toil before they are incorporated in the army. The hospitalized men are so few in proportion to the size of the units from which they come, and the surroundings and care they are given are of such a character reassuring to the folks at home.

ALL CANADA NOW REGISTERED FOR INTENSE WAR EFFORT

Canada now has a National Registration system very similar to that of the United States. In order to know definitely whether the full industrial power of the country is really mobilized or not, and if the latter, to indicate where there is a weakness, June 23rd was set aside as "Registration Day" for the entire population of the Dominion above the age of sixteen. On that day, every man and woman in Canada of 16 or over were to be registered. There were thousands of registration bureaus. The information sought was what the registrants were doing to help the great cause at present, and what further they could do. The leading questions were—what farming qualifications did the man or woman possess, would he or she be prepared to quit his or her present occupation for more important national work, and would he or she help in farming? Women especially were questioned as to their home and domestic ties. Each man or woman, as they registered, received a card certificate, and can be challenged on the street in fact anywhere to produce them. Next to register carries with it heavy penalties. Americans visiting Canada are not, however, subject to this law, provided they can show evidence of their citizenship. There is a large business and holiday travel backward and forward between the United States and Canada. To prevent any misunderstanding, the Canadian Government has issued an official statement that American visitors in Canada are not required to register so long as they can produce their citizenship papers. No passports are required to enter or leave Canada by subjects or citizens of any Allied country, and Americans are allowed to pass freely back and forth without any hindrance, as at all times previously.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headaches, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach liver kidney and bowels drink before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and refresh the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation. To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment, and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver and bowels.—Adv.
