FINE HARVEST WEATHER AID TO FARMERS

PORTLAND, Aug. 17.—Ideal weather for harvesting has prevailed in Oregon during the past week, according to the weekly summary of weather and crop conditions issued August 15 by the weather bureau. Bay temperatures were moderate with little rainfall.

Barley is giving poor yields of fair quality. Oats are ripening fast and are being harvested with a very light crop indicated. Threshing of spring wheat is under way, with fair to average yield. Considerable threshing of winter wheat was done, with fair to good yields reported. Corn is tasseling generally. Cool weather has been unfavorable for it.

Meadows under irrigation are doing very well. The third crops of alfalfa are being cut in Jackson county and have a good start in Josephine. The second crop promises well in Klamath, Malheur and Wallowa counties. Non-irrigated fields are very poor. Pastures and ranges are short and dry. While in some places cattle are losing flesh, they are looking better than unfavorable conditions would seem to warrant.

Pears are being picked in southern counties. They are plentiful and of excellent quality. Large shipments the coming month are in prospect. Dry weather is causing fruit to fall in Linn county, and trees have been broken and fruit blown off by high winds in Josephine county. A small crop of Crawford peaches is being harvested in Jackson county and a fair crop in Wasco county.

Rains are greatly needed for garden of all kinds. Hops show effects of drought and the red spider is damaging them. There is a fair crop of flax in Marion county.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW TEN COMMANDMENTS

The most liberal legislation for the protection of a nation's fighters ever known, has recently been passed by Congress. It is good enough, and strong enough, to be called the Nation's Ten Commandments. Reduced to simple sentences, here they are:

Thou shalt not evict, for non-payment of rent. A soldiers dependents, under penalty of $10,000 fine.

Thou shalt not cut off a soldier's life insurance because of delayed premiums.

Thou shalt not foreclose a mortgage on a soldier's property.

Thou shalt not take away a soldier's home on which he has made part payment.

Thou shalt not sell a soldier's property because of his failure to pay the taxes, national, state or local.

Thou shalt not settle a law suit against a soldier during his absence.

If a soldier sue, the courts shall postpone action until he can attend to it.

If a soldier have a mine, or timber or farm claim, assessments on which are over-due, it shall be held for him.

Honor thy soldier and thy sailor, that thy days may be long in the land of Liberty.

No man hath greater love than he that offereth his life for the world's sake, and it is commanded that neither lawyers, nor the loan-sharks, nor the gatherers of title shall fatten on him.

DRIVE FOR SALVATION ARMY SOON

Plans are being rapidly perfected for the Oregon state Salvation Army War Service drive outside of Portland, for $25,000 which opens all over the state Sunday, September 15, and closes Saturday, September 21. Evangelist John M. Linden of Chicago, campaign manager, announces three district campaign assistants, Prof. E. S. Hammond of the Kimball School of Theology of Salem, who will be in charge of the counties of western Oregon; and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Ditson, who will supervise the collection of all funds in the counties of central and eastern Oregon with headquarters in Pendleton. The general office for the drive has already been opened in room 325 Chamber of Commerce building, Portland, with Dr. William Wallace Youngson, general; O. C. Bortsmeyer, office manager and William M. Ladd, treasurer.

Already the widest publicity has been given the drive thru the columns of the press both city and country, and this week this work is being supplemented by the distribution of 10,000 flaring posters printed in red and blue on white paper, thus combining the national colors and bearing attractive pictures of Salvation Army lances passing out pies and doughnuts to the boys in the trenches. The posters also bear a group of statements bristling with loyalty and patriotism and commending in highest terms the work of the Salvation Army from the pens of President Wilson, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Governor Withycumbe of Oregon, Mayor Geo. L. Baker of Portland, the famous evangelist, "Billy" Sunday, and others equally well known.

Mr. Linden, campaign manager, said yesterday: "I am already having many encouraging reports from all sections of the state showing a sincere interest on the part of all the people, and the the game is still young. I feel sure that the drive is going over big, just as Oregon drives for all good causes do. The Portland drive for $25,000, which was held last winter, not only went over the top and considerably more, but it is still recalled as one of the most enthusiastic drives engendering the finest spirit, that the city has ever had, and I expect the state drive to be of the same character."

Evangelist "Billy" Sunday, who is taking a well deserved rest on his ranch at Hood River, has wired Mr. Linden the following typical commendation of the work of the Salvation Army and its war service.

"The Salvation Army is not an experiment. It is tried and true, we all found out before war was declared. When the Kaiser and his infamous crowd of blood thirsty Huns are licked to a frazzle and peace once more broods over this blood-stained world, some will occupy a higher place in God's Hall of Fame than the Salvation Army lasses. Whatever money you give they will turn it into pie and doughnuts for our brave defended across the sea."

YOUNG MEN URGED TO GO TO COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—

By their action in cutting off enlistments, the war and navy departments have greatly simplified the problem for the young man who wishes to know how he can best serve the country. The danger of the depletion of the source of the trained men to win the war and strengthen the nation in peace times has been to a considerable extent removed. Hereafter until further notice the departments will take the men only as they need them.

One question remains to the young man: What shall I do between now and the time that I am called to the service? For those of college age the answer is strongly suggested by the war department, "Go to college."

This movement is not suggested for the purpose of keeping young men out of the war as long as possible, but rather for the purpose of keeping them out until they are of age and training to give a higher grade of service. The formation of the students' army training corps in all colleges where 100 or more men enlist in it is the war department's way of working out this problem. This corps will provide, under the direct supervision of army officers, the maximum of military training the student can reasonably absorb along with scientific and other collegiate instruction which will fit him for special lines of work both in the army and in civil life after the war. This is real conservation of the nation's brains.

On reaching the draft age the members of the S. A. T. C. who, having the status of members of the United States army, subject to immediate call for active service, will have to register, being considered on inactive duty. They will then be placed automatically in Class 5-D by the local draft board and allowed to continue his college work and his training in the Students' Army Training corps until he is called to active service by the department.

It is urged that those contemplating joining the Students' Army Training corps do so promptly, as with a probable early lowering of the draft age, there will be no way of entering the S. A. T. C. save thru the draft board.

Six weeks during each summer the members of the S. A. T. C. go into an instruction camp. They are then considered on active service and receive the pay of privates during their time in camp.

The course suggested by the government to the youth is, that he go to college, join the S. A. T. C. immediately, pick out a stiff line of collegiate work in addition to his military training, which will be made sufficiently stiff, then work hard, quit worrying and wait for the call to service which will surely come soon if the war continues as now seems probable.

Those wishing to join the navy, it is learned, from the war department, will be released to that arm of the service and not compelled to serve in the army at the end of their period of college training.

The whole plan is being carefully worked out by the war department, and before college opens every doubtful point will have been settled, and the young man will know definitely and exactly just what he ought to do in the existing situation. The government has already moved to prevent his rushing into the service before he is called.

HUNS WHINING ABOUT ALLIED AERIAL RAIDS

LONDON, Aug. 17.—One of the most significant features of the aerial bombing offensive of the British is the loud response it has elicited from the German people, say British newspapers.

The bombing of England brought no complaint, but only renewed resolution from the British people; yet Germany, suffering from the first preliminary panics of the British attacks, at once began to cry out against it, and protest upon protest is pouring into the German authorities from the populace of the different areas attacked.

This means that the British bombing offensive is effective, that far-reaching destruction has been caused to railway junctions and factories, and that the German claim that British raids have accomplished nothing serious have been untrue.

Details of the damage caused by the British raids can easily be suppressed by the German censorship, but the voice of the German people cannot permanently be stifled, and it is asserted there is abundant photographic and captured documentary evidence that their fears are based upon real execution done.

WAR WORK

War work is calling many women of our country into commercial and industrial activities.

This releases men for military service.

To the women "over here" who are backing up our boys "over there," this institution would extend every encouragement.

MOVIE STAR SHOWING IN QUANT PLAY

Marguerite Clark in her Paramount production, "Frustrated," playing at the Star theater, is shown in a role radically different from anything in which she has heretofore been seen and one of a character altogether new to the local screen.

The story, which is somewhat in the nature of an analogy, is featured by quaint and unusual costumes and scenery, while the captions are principally in verse. The plot is simple and quaint, its oddity adding to its charm. The role in which Miss Clark is seen is one which only an artist such as she, could carry thru successfully.

Packers' Costs and Profits

How much do you think it costs—

1. To dress beef, cure hides, and prepare all the numerous by-products?
2. To cool the meat for two or three days before shipment?
3. To freight it to all parts of the country in special refrigerator cars, iced daily?
4. To carry it in hundreds of branch houses, each with its refrigerating plant?
5. And to deliver it to the retailer—sweet and fresh—in less than two weeks after dressing?

Swift & Company did all this for you in 1917 at an expense of less than 2½ cents per pound of beef sold, including an average profit of ¼ of a cent a pound.

Twelve Tire Tests No. 6

This series of twelve tests is designed to take the uncertainty out of tire-buying.

Tube-Shape

Perhaps you have noticed that some inner tubes become creased or cut or otherwise injured without any seeming cause. Such troubles are due nearly always to the fact that inner tubes, with the exception of Michelines, do not fit properly when inflated inside their casings.

Look at the photographs reproduced below. The tube on the right is a Michelin, the only tube made circular or ring-shaped to fit the casing perfectly and naturally. The tube on the left is typical of all other makes. Both are inflated to the same pressure. Compare the two.

Michelin Tubes are used by most motorists and endorsed by practically every tire dealer. They are unsurpassed in quality and yet are reasonable in price.
