NEW YORK, Aug. 31 .- To some stag peace has become more important than victory of the military class on the battle field. This is indicated by the assertion recently in the German parliament by Dr. Cohn, an independent Socialist that he "had rather have peace without a monarchy than war with a monarchy." The speaker was discussing the army budget.

The Socialist declared that it seem ed to him that the world war was coming to be regarded as a "family affair of the Hohensollerns." A recent report had announced, he said. that "William had attacked."
