WITH THE AMERICANS IN FRANCE

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—To hang on to the heels of a retreating enemy and keep pegging away at him day after day is not an easy undertaking even for veteran warriors.

When the Germans recrossed the Marne northward bound with the Americans not far behind various units of the American army were called upon for operation in this kind of warfare for the first time. But even German prisoners taken by the Americans gave credit to the Yankees for their spirit of persistence and nerve at their ingenuity and resourceful abilities.

Field operations for the Franco-American offensive virtually were completed in a night. One American division marched all night, and went into action at daylight, July 18. Other divisions accomplished similar tasks equally as strenuous, several of them coming some distance and the boys encountering strange terrain, which appeared to stimulate their thirst for adventure as they went on and on not knowing what to expect next.

The men didn't know exactly just what the schedule called for—that is, they hadn't been told officially. Even captains and lieutenants say they were not notified formally of the attack contemplated—such is the way an army works—but like their men they had a pretty good idea of what was in store for them, or rather of the surprise that was in the making for the Germans.

When the Americans, in conjunction with the French, started the offensive that morning, and kept going until the Germans reached the Vesle, automatically began the task of the various departments in keeping in touch with an advancing army and furnishing it with ammunition, food and great stores of supplies which only armies need.

Several times while the advance was at its height it became necessary for a certain American division headquarters to move every day or two. On a number of occasions the divisional officers moved their headquarters once every twenty-four hours for three consecutive days.

To establish an office with telephone connection and provide working for various assistants, with their clerks and typewriters and quarters for different individuals of the department one morning, and then move on the next morning and in the mean while, to keep up with important and rapidly developing work at a battle front, is but one of a thousand or more routine details with which the commanding officers had to contend.

LENINE AND TROTSKY PAID TOOLS OF GERMANY

allowing money to Comrades Lenine, Trotsky and others for the propaganda of peace in Russia" of a bank in Stockholm had been "audited" to conceal the payment of money to Lenine, Trotsky and their associates by order of the German Imperial Bank.

This report is endorsed by Lenine, with his initials, for deposit in "the secret department" of the Bolshevik files. And the authenticity of the report is supported by document No. 3, which is the original of a report sent by a German General Staff representative to the Bolshevik leaders, warning them that he has just arrested an agent who had in his possession the original order of the German Imperial Bank referred to in document No. 1, and pointing out that evidently "at the proper time steps were not taken to destroy the above-mentioned documents." Document No. 3 is the original protoocol signed by several Bolshevik leaders and dated Nov. 2, 1917, showing that "on instructions of the representatives of the German general Staff in Petrograd" and "with the consent of the Council of People's Commissars," of which Trotsky and Lenine were the heads, two incriminating German circulars had also been "taken from the Department of Secret Service of the Petrograd district" and given to the Secret Service Department of the German General Staff in Petrograd. On the bottom of the protocol the German adjutant acknowledges receipt of the two incriminating circulars with his cipher signature of the head of the German Secret Service Bureau.

These two circulars apparently had been obtained by some Russian agent in Germany and transmitted to Russia. The German general staff evidently wished to get them back in order to destroy them. By the order of the German general staff and with the "consent" of Lenine and Trotsky they are turned over to the Germans to be destroyed. Why? Because they are conclusive proof that on June 9, 1914 the German government was preparing for war, several weeks before the assassination of the Austrian Archduke, which was made the pretext for war.

One circular is an order from the German general staff dated June 9, 1914 informing "all industrial concerns" in Germany to open the sealed envelopes containing their "industrial mobilization plans and registration forms" so that they might be prepared for the war for which the excuse had not yet been found.

The second circular is an order from the German general staff of the high sea fleet, dated Nov. 22, 1914, calling for the mobilization of "all destructive agents and observers" in the United States and Canada for the purpose of preventing the sailing of ships from American ports to Russia, France and England. The order calls for explosives, strikes "delays, embroilments and difficulties," and it recommends the employment of "anarchists and escaped criminals" for the purpose.

In these damning proofs of a German conspiracy against the nations of Europe in June 1914, and against the United States in Nov. 1914, it is shown that Lenine and Trotsky surrendered to the German secret service in Petrograd on order of "the representatives of the German general staff in Petrograd."

And they surrendered them in conformity with a working agreement between the Bolshevik leaders and the German general staff, of which agreement a photograph is included in the series as document No. 5.

It is dated Oct. 1917. It is from a division of the German general staff. It is addressed to the Council of the People's Commissars, of which Lenine and Trotsky were the heads. It begins:

"In accordance with the agreement which took place in Kronstadt in July of the present year, between officials of our general staff and leaders of the Russian revolutionary army and democracy, Messrs. Lenine and Trotsky, Rasalindok and Dybenko, the Russian division of our general staff operating in Finland is ordering to Petrograd officers for the disposal of the staff."

Among the officers named are Major Luberts, whose cipher signature is given as it appears on the two surrendered German circulars mentioned above (document No. 3.) and Lieutenant Hartwig, whose cipher signature is given as it appears on the receipt for the two circulars. And an endorsement on this letter from the German general staff records that the German officers assigned to Petrograd had appeared "before the military revolutionary committee" and had "agreed on conditions with regard to their "mutual activities." What their "mutual activities" were to be is sufficiently indicated by document No. 7 which is a photograph of a letter signed in cipher by this Major Luberts and his adjutant, Lieutenant Hartwig. They notify the Bolshevik leaders on January 12, 1918, that "by order of the German general staff" the German intelligence section "has informed us of the names and the characteristics of the main candidates for re-election" to the Russian Bolshevik "central executive committee" and the "general staff orders us to insist on the election of the American people." THIS WOMAN ONLY WEIGHED NINETY-FIVE POUNDS

MRS. BURBANK TAKES TANLAC AND NOW WEIGHS ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVEN POUNDS

One of the most noteworthy features, and one that stands out more prominently than any other perhaps, in connection with Tanlac is the very large number of men and women who have reported an astonishing rapid increase in weight as a result of its use.

One of the latest to testify to the remarkable reconstructive powers of the medicine is Mrs. Anna Burbank, who resides at 3233 2nd Ave., West, Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Burbank came in the Bartell Drug store in company with her husband recently and made the following statement, stating that she had actually gained thirty two pounds.

"I can't say," stated Mrs. Burbank in describing her case, "that I had any special ailment but for the last four years I have been gradually losing weight and strength, and going down hill. My appetite was so poor, that I never cared for anything to eat. I was dreadfully constipated, and suffered a great deal with headaches and pains in my back. I was completely rundown and tired out all the time, and hardly had energy enough to drag myself around. Nothing did me any good, and I fell off in weight until I was hardly more than a frame.

"When I began taking Tanlac, I weighed only ninety-five pounds. I had been reading so much about how others had been benefited, and were gaining in weight by taking Tanlac, that I made up my mind to see what it would do for me and the results have been far more than I ever expected. I now weigh one hundred and twenty seven pounds—having actually gained thirty two pounds in a little more than a month—and am still gaining. I am always ready for my meals now with a fine appetite, and have gotten rid of all the headaches and pains in my back, and my tired wornout feelings are gone, too. I got up in the morning now feeling thoroughly rested, strong, and full of life and energy. I can recommend Tanlac to anyone in a rundown condition, for it certainly has built me up wonderfully."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by the Star Drug Co. Adv.

Cabinet Officer Selects A Woman Secretary

Seldom in the history of the United States has a cabinet officer selected a woman for private secretary, but Secretary of Commerce Redfield has chosen Miss Agathe O. Stewart for that position in his office. He says she is making good.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Save glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow, and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gas and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.—Adv.

LATEST PHOTO OF A GERMAN BATTLE SUBMARINE

This is the latest photograph of a German battle submarine. The vessel stopped the Dutch liner Rotterdam early in August off the Norwegian coast, and permitted her to go on after the first officer had showed the boat's papers. The submarine quickly submerged when she spied a British cruiser on the horizon.
