

STATE OVER SUGAR QUOTA FOR CANNING

There are some particulars as to food conservation that the public should know, and it is only fair to the people to refer to them.

It is stated from headquarters that home canning has been much heavier than was anticipated, and that the sugar quota for this state has been exceeded so that when the canning season is over dealers will be restricted to a most careful observance of the personal allowance of two pounds, and they will all be called upon to make no sales for canning purposes except upon a permit issued by the county food administrator.

It is very important that sugar should be available for the usual amount of canning, in order to save the crops and provide nourishing food for the winter months, and with prospects so discouraging as to prices of so many food products, says the Federal food administrator, "but you will have to continue to use your best judgment in issuing permits for what little sugar that may still be required for canning purposes."

As to the use of sugar for entertainment purposes, I am informed that a rule has been adopted not to allow sugar for entertainment purposes except for people from outside the state. All picnics and entertainments are required to furnish their own sugar from their two pound allotment.

The chairman of the distributing division says: "The different lodges and organizations can show their patriotism in no better way than by abstaining from asking for more sugar when the government is asking people to conserve as much as possible in every way for the purpose of winning the war." O. C. APPELGATE, County Food Administrator.

Lenine and Trotsky Paid Tools of Germany

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—German trickery in breaking the Ukraine away from the bought and paid for Bolshevik government, plots against loyal Russian soldiers and their leaders to insure complete German sway after the false peace conference at Brest-Litovsk, and further evidence of the precautions of the Tenth against Bolshevik preaching in their own ranks, are shown in the next installment of the secret documents from Russia, made public by the United States government.

Communications written in January disclose that the Bolsheviks were fully informed of what the Germans were doing in the Ukraine and knew that peace treaties with the Ukraine and Roumania were coming. They also learned quickly enough that Germany was disposing of their hopes to set their revolutionary propaganda to root on German soil.

Notes from the German intelligence service to Trotsky, the commissar of foreign affairs, show first that a Turk with a Russian passport was sent to Petrograd to keep watch over the Russian commander-in-chief, and that a month afterward, late in February, removal of the commander-in-chief, General Bonch Bruevich, was demanded. Bruevich, whose continuance in the position was "particularly no longer desirable," to the Germans, was turned out and General Paroki, named by the German intelligence service, complains that "the agents sent to kill Generals Kaleidina, Bogovsky and Alexiev, were cowardly, non-enterprising people." This same document shows that as long as December, 1917, former German prisoners of war were being dressed in Russian uniforms to fight loyal Russian soldiers.

The significance of the documents is discussed in notes by M. Edgar Sisson, who brought the documents out of Russia for the committee on public information.

The betrayal of Roumanian and elaborate advance plans of Germany and her Russian Bolshevik tools for suppressing and murdering loyal Roumanians, Russians and Poles, are exposed in detail by chapters of astounding secret Russian documents.

Other installments of the series have described how the Bolshevik leaders, Lenine and Trotsky, and their associates, were bought by the Germans for millions in gold and engineered their bloody overthrow of Russia for the benefit of their masters. Now the story is told of how, while the Brest-Litovsk peace conference farce still was in progress, the Bolsheviks were sending hired agents into Roumania to disorganize the armies of Russia's ally, overthrow the Roumanian king and turn loose the German armies occupied there for service in a great offensive on the western front.

The second phase of the latest disclosure shows the Bolsheviks, at German direction, undertaking not only to kill refractory Russian generals, but to shoot individually and wholesale Polish soldiers who were refusing to be sold to the Germans and patriotically keeping the field against their enemies. One of the documents transmits orders from the German intelligence service to "take most decisive measures, up to shooting en masse against Polish troops," and to institute surveillance of institutions and persons including the Roman Catholic Polish clergy.

Explanatory notes by Edgar Sisson, who obtained the documents and many details lacking in the papers themselves, include a story of how the Roumanian minister barely escaped assassination after being arrested by the Bolsheviks and released thru the efforts of Ambassador Francis and other diplomats.

FRIEND DOUG. NOW SMILING AT THE STAR

About once in every so often when the world gets old and stale, comes our joyous and peppery friend Douglas Fairbanks like a flash of sunshine to clear away the grouch which has begun to preambulate thru our systems and to infect us with that smile which you can see clear thru from the back of his neck.

This time he appears as "Mr. Fix-it" at the Star Theatre and with his usual happy manner he butts into the affairs of his associates turns their unhappy predicaments into pleasant paths and incidentally bumps into lifelong joy for himself at the close of his antics. Mix Douglas Fairbanks in a scene with a pretty girl and a half a dozen children and you've got a good show any time. The play last night, was unusually well received. He came some any too often to suit Klamath Falls.

Twelve Tire Tests No. 11

This series of twelve tests is designed to take the uncertainty out of tire buying.

Universal Usefulness

NOWADAYS many tire-makers are urging motorists to use non-skids on rear wheels and smooth-treads or "driving" tires on front wheels.

The reason given is that ordinary non-skids, with their small projections, make steering difficult when used in front, the effect being much the same as driving over rough roads.

Though some non-skids are unsatisfactory on front wheels, it is evident that the use of two different kinds of tires involves serious disadvantages.

In the first place it becomes necessary to carry an additional spare in order to be properly equipped for emergencies.

Secondly, a smooth-tread driving tire does not afford protection against skidding. The ideal tire is a non-skid constructed so that it protects against skidding and yet steers easily and smoothly.

Such a tire is the Michelin Universal Non-Skid. It is a Universal tire in fact as well as in name. Its patented tread is the most effective rubber non-skid ever devised. Yet this tread is so broad and flat that it steers just as smoothly and easily as a plain tread.

When used on all four wheels Michelins ensure the utmost economy, satisfaction and safety all around.

Look for the Man on the Red Wheel

Michelin Universal Non-Skid tires are guaranteed driving tires.
