

PROPAGANDA OF GERMANS STILL BUSY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senatorial investigation into the affairs of the nation's breweries this week will show that German propagandists are still active in America, in the opinion of Senator King of Utah, member of the committee.

With the great guns that spelled the doom of German ambitions silenced for a few hours, King maintains that insidious propaganda is on foot, which if not quelled, is bound to be a grave danger.

King, who has made a study of German activities in the United States was head of the committee that investigated affairs of the National German-American alliance, resulting in the society's charter being annulled.

"The investigation will be very complete, and will, I am convinced, show the German propagandists are still active," said King. "Unless I am greatly mistaken the disclosures will be startling. The investigators will delve into the activities of brewers with alleged German sympathies in connection with the purchase of newspapers and along many other lines."

"The defeat of Germany on the battlefield and the campaign against a propaganda in this country, which resulted in annulling the charter of the German-American alliance, have accomplished a great deal, but the propagandists are still active.

"The campaign they are conducting now will endeavor to direct hatred against England and everything Anglo-Saxon.

"The new cry will be along the lines that 'We must organize to keep our mother country from being crushed.'"

RECREATION

It fills the heart with joy oftimes, to contemplate in prose or rhyme, the wealth of humor which the land seems sticking full on every hand. The witty writers with their puns, just bust our sides, the sons of guns. And then these fellers with the shows convulse and strangle him who goes. John Bunny, 'ere his passing date, brought tons of joy to poor and great, while Charlie Chaplin, still on earth, propels us up in clouds of mirth. There's jokes of every kind and size, the some fall flat when once they rise. There's smiles hung up in every nook for him who has the time to look. But if one wants to laugh a week, a snorting, howling, spitting shriek. If one has time to shake and roar, until his aching sides are sore, we'd say the greatest joke of all, is Council Meeting, City Hall.

WILHELM'S FORTUNE MELTS RAPIDLY

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Count Wilhelm Hobenzollern is now nearly broke, except for considerable property in the United States and Canada held in another person's name, the Daily Express, is informed by its Amsterdam correspondent.

The ex-kaiser's 152 palaces, chateaux and shooting boxes in Germany, having been bought with the German people's money, probably will be returned to the nation by the German Socialist rebels now in complete control at Berlin and in every other city and town of any importance in Germany.

The former emperor was one of the wealthiest men in Germany, but his fortune has been clearly diminished during the war. His vast number of shares in the German shipping concerns are now practically worthless.

It is recalled today that William II always insisted upon his sons marrying wealthy women, possibly with a view of a day of reckoning which he may have foreseen.

Prince Eitel Fritz's wife, nee Grand Duchess of Oldenburg, and August Wilhelm's spouse, the former Princess of Sonderburg-Glueckburg, are among the wealthiest princesses in Europe.
