

General Conditions On Coast Are Satisfactory

Nature of Products of Twelfth Federal District Such That Steady Demand Will Insure Good Business In Spite of Sudden Termination of World War

There has been full employment of labor, and industrial production is meeting government demands. Agricultural products have followed a regular and satisfactory course. The late crops of potatoes and beans, were harvested without serious loss. The ending of winter wheat with increased acreage is unusually well advanced on account of early rains in September, particularly in the Pacific Northwest. Delay in moving commandeer stocks has prolonged war price congestion and retarded liquidation. Mercantile collections in general have been good. The epidemic of influenza, subsiding in San Francisco under compulsory wearing of gas masks from a minimum of 2504 cases on October 25, to 75 on November 13, has interfered with distribution in the retail trade and wholesale stocks are reported as increasing. While the termination of the war greatly changes the aspect of trade and industry and injects uncertainty as to the conditions in the near future of business in general, it seems reasonable to expect that the shift from war activities to those of peace will occasion less disturbance in this district than in others, because its products are such that an uninterrupted demand for them will continue.

Interest rates in the industrial and agricultural centers remain firm at 6 and 7 per cent respectively. Bank clearing for eighteen principal cities of the district in October amounted to $1,316,689,000, an increase of $899,673,000, or 24.7 per cent over the same month in 1917, and $242,876,000, or 22.6 per cent over September, 1918. From October 1 to October 20 total checks paid by clearing house banks in seventeen principal cities of the district amounted to $2,494,838,000, of which $1,615,482,000 were debits to accounts of individuals, firms or corporations, and $1,879,356,000 were debits to accounts of banks and bankers.

Building permits for the eighteen principal cities totaled $2,114,000. Compared with October, 1917, this was a decrease of $1,317,000, or 38.1 per cent. As compared with September, 1918, however, the decrease was $1,925,000, or 48.8 per cent. Tacoma alone among the reserve cities showing an increase, 10 per cent.

During the first nine months of 1918 there were 353 commercial failures, with liabilities of $8,906,607 in California, Oregon and Washington. A decrease of 57 per cent in liabilities when compared with the same period in 1917, which showed 1,023 failures with $16,714,800 liabilities. The decrease from the 1918 period, with 1,978 failures and $12,515,917 liabilities, was 19 per cent. For the United States there was a decrease of 13.5 per cent in liabilities from the figures of 1917, and 50 per cent from those of 1916.

The 1918 sugar crop of Hawaii totaled 861,000 tons, as compared with 752,000 tons in 1917. The last 5,000 tons of the season were manufactured in November. Practically all of the output has already been shipped to continental United States, more than 600,000 tons being shipped in August. The grinding season for the 1918 crop, estimated at 900,000 tons, has commenced.

Washington will probably produce 6,000 tons this year, the present condition of the crop being estimated at only $2. Fricke for beets having 15 per cent sugar content have advanced from $19 per ton in Utah and Idaho, to $26.50 and $25.25 in California.

The potato crop of the district this year is 50 per cent less than last year. For the United States there is also a decrease of 31.6 per cent, the total production of the nation being 599,000,000 bushels, as against 885,000,000 in 1917.

In California, Idaho and Washington only 80, 70 and 50 per cent respectively of the crops are grown for the market, the remainder being consumed on the producers' farms. Between 30,000 and 40,000 bushels of certified seed potatoes have been raised in the Willamette Valley, Oregon, this year for shipment to California. The sweet potato crop in California is estimated at 1,020,000 bushels, an increase of 18,000 bushels over last year.

California raisin and bean crop have suffered from unfavorable weather conditions during September and October. November reports place the season's total of raisins at 135,000 tons, with an average yield of 1,800 pounds per acre. The crop in 1917 was 143,000 tons.

The bean crop has suffered more in quality than in quantity. The November estimate forecasts a total of 6,285,000 bushels of beans other than lima. The October estimate of lima was 2,610,000 bushels, which brings the total production up to 2,685,000 bushels, compared with 2,091,000 bushels in 1917.

In the Salt River Valley, Arizona, the long staple cotton crop grown this year on 75,000 acres is estimated at approximately 35,000 bales. The condition in September was 96, but later reports place it at 93. The salmon pack on the Pacific Coast of the United States for the season has been estimated at 3,300,000 cases.

The total production of crude petroleum in California during September was 2,747,710 barrels, a decrease of 435,150 barrels compared with August. From September 1 to October 1 stored stocks increased 70,920 barrels.

During the four-week period ending November 2, an average of 123 lumber mills in the Pacific Northwest reported a total production of 264,389,447 feet, which was $4,157,583 feet, or 75.3 per cent below normal. The first week's production was 3.85 per cent below normal, the second 4.01, the third 10.01 and the fourth 11.68. The general situation reported last month has not improved, and the congestion due to accumulating side cut lumber has not been relieved.

BRYCE THINKS ALLIES MUST TAKE ARMENIA

LONDON, (Correspondence of the Associated Press) In the opinion of Viscount James Bryce, former ambassador to the United States, "it is extremely desirable that every effort should be made to send in a sufficient Allied force to occupy what was Turkish Armenia and re-establish some sort of order there." This view is expressed in a communication to the Manchester Guardian, coupled with a regret that the conditions of the Turkish armistice failed to provide for the immediate occupation by the Allies of the six Armenian Vilayets and six of Cilicia (modern provinces of Adana on the Mediterranean.) Lord Bryce says however: "I cannot think that this omission was due to any doubt as to the necessity, and indeed the solemn duty, of delivering all the Armenian districts utterly and forever from the yoke of Turkish rule." The British government, he continues, has pledged itself "so frequently and clearly to this deliverance, and, as we understand, both President Wilson and the French government have expressed themselves so strongly in favor of such a policy, that we cannot doubt the honest purpose of the government."

"It need hardly be said," the statement goes on, "that to leave the Eastern Christians of Armenia and Syria under Turkish rule would excite the warmest indignation all over the country, and if possible still warmer indignation in the United States, where the interest in Armenia has been extremely great and has been evinced by enormous contributions which have been made to the relief of the Armenian refugees.

"Can anybody in this country be found who thinks that after the three hideous massacres which the Turks have perpetrated in Armenia since 1895, culminating in the worst massacre of all in 1915, when 800,000 Christians perished, it would be possible, for any Christian power, or indeed any power of human feeling to leave the Turk free to begin operations afresh, or to fail to show by turning the Turk out of the country the anger and horror which his cruelties have excited? I need hardly add that the presence of Turkish rule in these regions, with their great strategic importance, would be material to Germany, if ever she saw her chance, in realizing her schemes for pushing her influence towards Persia and Central Asia.

"One fails to see any reason why the Turks, being absolutely at the mercy of the Allies, and having committed, with the tacit approval of Germany, the highest single crime that has been committed in the whole course of the war, should not have been compelled to an absolutely unconditional surrender. Why should any favorable conditions have been granted to them who have shown that, whether under Abdul Hamid or under ruffians like Haev and Talant they are capable of the most revolting crimes?"

Lord Bryce points out that the demobilization of the Turkish army will let loose a large number of armed men accustomed to acts of violence, who will scatter over the country and for whom the Turkish government will not attempt to provide.

Another thing to consider, he says is that Allied forces, if on the spot, could rescue many of the Christian women seized by the Turks and carried off to be sold into slavery or to become inmates of Turkish harems. They might rescue 600, he thinks, numbers of the boys that were seized given to dervishes and carried off to be brought up as Mussulmans.

Furthermore, one should remember, he says, the great numbers of refugees that fled across the Russian frontier from the Northern Armenian provinces, and who have not ventured to return owing to the fear of encountering roving bands of demobilized Turkish soldiers. Only the presence of Allied troops would induce them to return to their homes.

"For all these reasons" he sums up, "it seems urgent in the interests of humanity that these territories should be reduced to some sort of order at the earliest possible moment. It is useless to expect any of these things will be done by the Turkish government."

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IN BACK PAINS OR BLADDER INFLAMMATION

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a notable authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost invariably settles in the kidneys and in other parts of the body. It is the cause of rheumatism, kidney trouble, bladder inflammation, and all the ills that attend a rich diet. To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from the pharmacy here, take two tablespoonfuls in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.
