

ENGLAND WILL NOT LIMIT HER NAVY

DESERVED SUPREMACY NOT TO BE FETTERED

WINSTON CHURCHILL DECLARES NO ARGUMENTS WILL BE BROUGHT TO BEAR WHICH WILL ALTER THIS DECISION

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT DEMAND SURRENDER OF HELIGOLAND — NATIONALIZATION OF RAILROADS DECIDED

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Winston Churchill, minister of nations has announced that the British Naval authorities have decided it would be unnecessary to demand the return of Heligoland to Great Britain from Germany and he also said that the government had decided upon the nationalization of the railroads.

Mr. Churchill said, "We enter the peace conference with the absolute determination that no limitation shall be imposed on our right to maintain our naval defense. We do not intend no matter what arguments or appeals are made to us, to lend our selves in any way to any fettering restrictions which will prevent the British navy from maintaining its well tried and well deserved supremacy."

TERMS FOR GERMANY WILL NOT BE EASY

LONDON, Dec. 5.—There will be no "attitude of tenderness" toward Germany in the terms to be demanded by the British, Walter Long, secretary of state for the colonies, declared in a campaign speech at Bristol. He advocated solution of the German colonies question by their inclusion in the British empire.

"I could see no other solution than their inclusion in the British empire," Long said. "Where the natives have been consulted they are overwhelmingly in favor of this."

"As a member of the committee appointed by the premier to consider the terms to be demanded of Germany, I can assure you that any tenderness will be shown toward Germany."

THEODORE SAYS ENGLAND MUST KEEP HER NAVY

EX-PRESIDENT SAYS NOT ONE IN THOUSAND OF FIGHTING SOLDIERS EVER HEARD WILSON'S FOURTEEN PRINCIPLES

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Asserting that the United States had not done nearly as much as the British navy and the British, French and Italian armies, to bring about the downfall of Germany, Theodore declared in a statement here that it is "our business to stand by our allies at the peace conference."

He declared it "sheer nonsense to say the American army was fighting for President Wilson's famous 'fourteen points.'" He made the assertion that "there was not one American soldier in every thousand who ever heard of them."

"The British empire imperatively needs the greatest navy in the world and this we should instantly concede," said the colonel. "Our need for a great navy comes next to our need for the second navy in the world. Similarly, France needs greater military strength than we do but we should have all our young men trained to arms, on the general lines of the Swiss system."

"The 'freedom of the seas' is a phrase that may mean anything or nothing. If it is to be interpreted as Germany interprets it, it is thoroughly mischievous. There must be no interpretation of the phrase that would prevent the English navy in the event of future war, from repeating the tremendous service it rendered in this war."

"The British must, of course, keep the colonies they have conquered."

The war ministry expects that this step was necessary to keep down threatened labor troubles. Klamath Falls first soldier to return from the battlefields of France, Roy Lewis, was greeted in a most fitting manner on his return to the city last evening.

A large crowd of enthusiastic citizens gathered at the depot to meet the train and the hero of the trenches was given a rousing ovation as he stepped from the coach.

Accompanied by his father on one side and his mother on the other he marched along the stars and stripes between two files of the Women's Relief Corps from the car steps to the depot platform, where E. E. Hall gave a brief but most inspiring address of welcome in behalf of the Community.

Members of the Klamath Falls Band, which were sobbing at a late hour yesterday, accompanied the depot in response to the hearty summons and with patriotic airs added very largely to the success of the reception.

Lewis was wounded in the hip and both thighs in the turning point battle of the war near Soissons, July 29. He was a member of the medical department of the 18th Infantry first division and has been cared for in hospitals in France and the United States for four months. He is in first class shape now, and says he could run a mile after a Hun. He declared today that he had some scars on his legs that he wouldn't take a million dollars for. The order to the men said:

"As we helped to destroy old Germany let us help to build up the new. If we convince them that our aim is restoring the war was to make the world's better place in which to live, we shall succeed in implanting in each German heart a deep and abiding respect for American and American institutions. We must deal with infinite tact and patience and have appreciation of the smart that still lies in the open wound of their pride." The various orders were read to the men and they were instructed on the subject they must observe.
