SHOOTING FRENCH PRISONERS CAUSE

BERLIN PAPERS SPEAK OF REGRETTABLE INCIDENT, AND DECLARE THAT ALLIED OCCUPATION WILL BE THE RESULT

BERLIN AND MANNHEIM TO BE OCCUPIED, ACCORDING TO A WIRELESS MESSAGE DECLARED INTERCEPTED

(By Associated Press)

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 6.—The Allied and American forces will temporarily occupy Berlin as exercising police supervision, according to Berlin newspapers, which say that an American wireless to this effect has been intercepted by the Germans. It is also declared that Mannheim will be occupied.

The reason for this move is said to be a "regrettable incident, during which the supervisor of one of the prison camps shot three Frenchmen."

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Serious disorders have arisen in Berlin, and considerable firing has occurred in the principal streets of the city, according to reports reaching the Dutch frontier, says an Amsterdam dispatch.

The trouble is said to have been caused by the German bolsheviks.

RECLAMATION NOW EXPECTED TO GO AHEAD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Western members of congress are greatly pleased over President Wilson's recommendations for reclamation legislation. Many believe it brings nearer the day for new irrigation projects as well as redoubled effort on projects already under way.

Representative Sinnott, leading member of the house committee on irrigation and author of a bill to expand the reclamation service for the benefit of returning soldiers, remarked: "The message, I hope, will set in motion activities which will result in the irrigation of arid lands."

It was noted that the President, in addition to larger plans, suggested "Congress can at once direct thousands of returning soldiers to reclamation of arid lands which it has already undertaken if it will but enlarge the plans and appropriations."

It is expected Secretary Lane will present concrete recommendations and a draft of legislation and that the congressional committee will promptly take up the question of enlarged appropriations for reclamation as an emergency measure.

POLICE KILLER MEETS END AT CHICAGO TODAY

MAN WITH LONG CAREER OF CRIME PAYS THE PENALTY FOR COLD-BLOODED MURDER HANGED IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Lloyd Bopp, who died on the gallows today for the murder of Herman Malow, a motorcycle policeman, at Oak Park, a Chicago suburb, was a member of the notorious band of criminals who figured in the sensational jail break here several months ago.

Karl Dear, a gunman, and "brains" of his fellow gangsters, also took part in the escape. He, too, is under sentence of death.

After a long legal battle, the state court on October 31st, affirmed the judgment of the trial court, which sentenced Bopp to death, and fixed the date of execution. Many times in recent years, Bopp's checkered campaign was halted temporarily, but he always succeeded in obtaining freedom after comparatively short periods, until finally convicted of murder.

Dear, who specialized largely as a dealer in stolen automobiles, was arrested with Eugene Hartnett, another notorious crook, and convicted of the murder of Rudolph Wolfe, a chauffeur, who had shown fight when they attempted to steal his employer's automobile. Then began the unraveling of a series of daring robberies.

Hartnett finally was sentenced to fourteen years in prison, and Dear was sentenced to death by hanging, but thru his influential friends Dear obtained a stay for several months.

It was while confined in jail that Dear came into contact with other members of the gang, including Bopp, Frank McEriane, whose intrepid exploits were long known to the police, and "Big Joe" Moran, who was notorious for his ability to break jail, and boasted that he could do it again.

The escape was planned and successfully executed, and then began a nation-wide search, which continued for several months. The men finally were located in a house in Chicago's fashionable north shore district. Police reserves were called out, and the house was surrounded, in preparation for a long gun battle. But the bandits furnished another surprise by calmly surrendering, while the 300 heavily armed officers looked on in amazement.

Moran was taken to Joliet to serve an indeterminate sentence for highway robbery, and McEriane will serve a like sentence.

KLAMATH FOLK MAY SOON BE OIL MAGNATES

A rich oil strike in the Sage Hen country in Harney County, in a neighborhood where several Klamath County residents hold property, is reported today. M. H. Edmunds, Constable Fred Morley, George Grizzle of the Mt. Lahi district, and others here, are interested in that district, having secured lands there for the strata deposits some years ago. They declare, however, that they would just as leave have it turn into an oil field. It is asserted that a flow of oil was found at a depth of 2,700 feet.

The experts who have made the new discovery are of the opinion that oil can also be found under a great part of the Eastern Oregon country.

FOOD ENOUGH FOR WORLD, SAYS HOOVER

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Herbert C. Hoover, food administrator of the United States, left for London Tuesday night for a conference on the shipping situation. Mr. Hoover is seeking to bring over such a huge amount of food stuffs from the United States that all food cards and restrictions can be eliminated in the allied countries by spring.

Mr. Hoover contends that there is enough food available to feed every one on a pre-war basis, if the shipping can be found to bring it to Europe.

PRESIDENT MAY VISIT GERMANY

PARIS, Dec. 6.—That President Wilson will enter Germany during his stay in Europe is regarded as virtually certain here.

Tentative arrangements made for the president include a review of certain American troops in company with General Pershing. The units will include veterans of the Marne, St. Mihiel and Argonne battles, now across the German boundary.

Arrangements are being made, also, to conduct Secretary Lansing and others on trips to scenes of the American victories.

Colonel E. M. House is now able to spend a little time outdoors and if his health permits he will meet the presidential party at Brest.
