No Peace In Sight For Alaska Indians

SITKA, Alaska, (By Associated Press.)—The father of the peace move, died before the meeting was held. So now there is peace on the north which in past generations has blazed the way for the Eskimo and the Aleut. The Eskimo and the Aleut will no longer be on their hunting and fishing grounds when they visit each other and their friends.

CORRECTION

There is an error in an announcement in the Herald of the 24th inst. that Mrs. G. W. Burnett was a Klamath Falls visitor from Coosburg on December 24th. This was a mistake for the fact that there is no Mrs. Burnett and that he visited alone.

YANKEES MUST NOT SPEAK TO HUN WOMEN

(By Associated Press) COBLENZ, Jan. 1.—An order has been issued to the American soldiers that an officer or soldier who speaks to a German woman is to be at the risk of court martial. The dinner hour in Coblenz and throughout the American zone of occupation has been advanced from one to two hours. In restaurants and hotels the evening meal now is eaten without music. These changes are regarded as necessary because of the recent American order that the sale and gift of light wines be prohibited except within certain hours of the evening.

Several days of the operation of restricted regulations has produced some muzzling by the Germans. There has been no open protest, but many of the people appear to be mystified as to the reasons for the change in American attitude, as it seems they believed that the Americans would not be so strict as the British or French. In addition propagandists have been diligent in urging the people to be friendly to the Americans, in the apparent hope that an attitude of friendliness might have some effect on the peace negotiations.

The prohibition of the sale of alcoholic liquors of any kind and the restrictions on light wines has upset the ordinary routine of the Germans, and has resulted in some cafes closing. In the discharge of restaurant orchestras and in grocery stores withdrawing stocks from their windows.

Premier Clemenceau, despite his years and the weight of his labors as head of the French government, always kept in close touch with the fighting front. He is shown here affectionately greeting the children of Laon just after French and American forces had driven out the Huns in the last big drive. The Huns had oppressed Laon for more than four years.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious — merry, bright alert — a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten coils of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drugstore, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do — Adv.

YOUNG GIRL HELD UNDER BAD CHARGE

CHICO, Butte, Co., Jan. 1.—What may develop into one of the most interesting cases that ever came to the knowledge of the juvenile courts in northern California, is that of little Gertrude Blum, nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. Chamberlain, a resident of this city, who has been caught trying to cash checks she had taken from letters addressed to the city marshal, sent to him in payment of taxes. Her extreme youth and the fact that a strange child should be entrusted with valuable documents from the city marshal's office aroused the suspicion of bank and postoffice officials and resulted in her apprehension by the police before she had accomplished her purpose.

CARLISLE, Eng. Jan. 1.—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, came to Carlisle last Saturday in rain and a cold penetrating mist to visit the girlhood home of his mother. But the warmth of the greeting of the people of the town and of the thousands of strangers from the surrounding country more than offset the dreariness of the weather.

EVERY STATE IN UNION REPRESENTED BY BOYS WAITING IN LONDON TO FACE HUNS

Every state in the Union was represented recently at the Y. M. C. A. Eagle Hut in London. Outside the building, where our soldiers and sailors have been able to get home dishes and a "bed with real sheets," a blackboard was placed. Every man in uniform present was requested to write his name and that of his home state. With a certain regularity every state in the Union had been recorded as the birthplace of some of the boys.

Children's Aid Society Started Famous Men

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—America is a land of opportunity even for street waifs and foundlings was recalled by the recent death in Sitka, Alaska, of John G. Brady, former Governor of that territory, and the fact that when a child young Brady had been taken from an almshouse and placed in the custody of the Children's Aid Society of New York which educated him and placed him on the road to fame and fortune. Hundreds of other cases similar to ex-Governor Brady's it is said, could be cited by the organization which for more than half a century has been taking homeless boys and girls off city streets and sending them to farms in the West where they grew up to be self-reliant, trustworthy and honored citizens. A certain delicacy surrounds the publication of the names of the more noted of these former waifs but, the report of the Children's Aid Society for 1918 shows the following harvest of "success" up to date: One governor of a state, one governor of a territory (John G. Brady of Alaska); two members of Congress; two district attorneys; two sheriffs; two mayors; a justice of the supreme court; a federal judge; four state judges; two college professors; seven high school principals; two school superintendents; an auditor-general of a state; nine members of state legislatures; 24 clergymen; one cashier of a life insurance company; two artists; a senate clerk; six national officers; eighteen journalists; 24 bankers; 19 physicians; 25 lawyers; 12 postmasters; 3 contractors; 67 teachers; 4 civil engineers; "and a vast number of other business and professional men, clerks, mechanics, farmers and their wives and others who have acquired property and filled positions of honor and trust."
