WOMEN HAVE BIG WORK IN CHEERING MEN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—"I went to France to 'lend a hand' and they took a leg.

He was a big lad from a middle western farm, the American soldier who called out this jest to cheer his neighbor in the sick bay of the Empress of Britain, the first transport to arrive here with "litter cases" from the American hospitals in France.

"That is just a sample of the never failing humor of these boys, rising above suffering, above helplessness," said Miss Maude Kellein, chief nurse on the big vessel, as she came ashore a few days ago.

"All the way over they yearned for a sight of the old girl in the harbor," she continued, "yet when we came up the bay and none of them could get on deck to hail the Statue of Liberty as we passed, there were no complaints.

"This is the spirit now but I'm afraid for the future," said Miss Kellein, who was superintendent of nurses at the Colorado Training School before she entered the army service. She urged women to prepare themselves for their part in the reconstruction period, not in the devastated regions of Europe, whose people, she said, preferred to handle the problem themselves, but here at home.

"There is plenty of reconstruction work for the woman who wants to help," she asserted. "I'm afraid our enthusiasm is going to spend itself after a year or so—just about the time our wounded soldiers are beginning to feel only bitterness at the thought of the 'missing leg.' Then they will need the women. I don't know just what the women will be called upon to do, but their work will turn up. The boys will need their enthusiasm and sympathy then more than now."

At the Theaters

Fred Stone, for many years a foremost comedian in musical comedies, makes his public debut in motion pictures in "The Goat" a splendid photoplay which will be seen at the Star Theater tonight. Mr. Stone is noted for his athletic prowess, and his skill in all forms of agile and dexterous gymnastic work. Upon the stage, in many of his finest musical comedy productions, he gave continuously new examples of his expertise in this direction.

Mr. Stone is, perhaps, best known for his eccentric comedy roles, such as in "The Wizard of Oz," but in "The Goat" it will be Fred Stone almost in personae propria, so far as make-up is concerned. The character he portrays in "The Goat" is that of a young iron maker who is infatuated with the movies and he has many interesting adventures. The play

CHILDREN OR PARENTS' FAULT?

Whose fault is it that so few children really play the piano? Mostly it is the fault of both the father and mother. You see, father and mother do not purchase the piano when the child is young enough but this money goes for something that brings them greater personal satisfaction. Your child can be moulded if worked on in time, so don't blame the child, but consider the parents' duty. A beautiful Lyon & Healy Piano awaits YOU at our store. Begin nineteen nineteen right by making some sacrifice and securing that piano now for home and children. Convenient terms.
