SOVEREIGNTY OF ICELAND ESTABLISHED

COPENHAGEN—Correspondence Associated Press—The principles of the people's right in self-determination found practical expression when the sovereignty of Iceland was proclaimed at Reykjavik, in full agreement with Denmark, who honored her former colony by sending a warship to salute the Icelandic national flag with twenty-one guns.

Acting as representative for Denmark, the commander of the fishery cruiser, Islands Falk, said that this salute was the first outward but significant evidence of the desire of the Danish nation to carry into effect the new act of confederation in the most loyal way. The Icelandic cabinet minister, M. Eggert, also spoke in terms of appreciation of the fact that Iceland had been granted the right to have its own flag. Apart from this ceremony and the hoisting of the Icelandic flag over the capital, no festivities took place on account of the influenza epidemic, which has so far claimed 260 victims in Reykjavik.

In Copenhagen the Icelandic colony celebrated the federation act at a banquet at which the Icelandic prime minister was present.

At a dinner given here yesterday evening by the King and Queen of Denmark, King Christian expressed the hope that the present order of things which had been established would form the basis for the happy development of future intercourse between the two peoples, and he concluded by expressing his best wishes for Iceland's future.

DISCIPLINE IN U. S. ARMY GROWS WEAKER

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Discipline of officers and men of troops returning from Europe has broken down that some officers have been placed under arrest, and trials by court-martial ordered, according to a statement issued by Major General David C. Shanks, U. S. A., in charge of the port of embarkation at New York.

Some officers, who disappeared without leave upon the arrival of their units in this country shortly before Christmas, have not yet reported back and continued orders for trials by court martial are threatened in the statement, which is issued in the form of an appeal to the public, especially relatives, to cease attempting to influence officers and men to leave their units immediately upon arrival in this country.

Drastic action, with the approval of high army officials at Washington, will be necessary unless the present practices are broken up.

THIS AMERICAN SERGEANT AND TWO LONE RIFLE BULLETS BROUGHT IN 375 PRISONERS

SERGEANT HARRY T. ADAMS

Sergeant Harry T. Adams and two rifle shots stopped 375 Germans in the heavy fighting in the St. Mihiel salient. This photograph, the first to reach this country, shows Adams just after he had turned in his Hun prisoners and tucked a receipt for them in his pocket. He said he deserved no particular praise because the American style of fighting had disheartened the boche, and that many of them were only too willing to surrender. That is Adams' story.

CARD OF THANKS

The following expression of thanks has been signed by the various city and county officials interested in the matter of caring for the influenza patients during the recent epidemic. A vote of thanks was passed by the city council at the last meeting in December, conveying to Mrs. Bogardus the appreciation of the city for the work she did during those trying times. Mrs. Bogardus, feeling that the necessity for her service was at an end, has resigned as assistant health officer.

"We wish to take this opportunity to thank those who volunteered their services at the isolation hospital, those who visited and cared for the sick in their homes, and the Woman's Library Club for the furnishing with meals those who were unable to care for themselves. We are proud of the spirit of generous co-operation that was manifested through the entire influenza epidemic. We know we voice the sentiments of the entire city administration and those who were the recipients of the help so freely given, when we say that each and every individual who gave his or her services has the heartfelt gratitude of those concerned.

At the Theaters

The Great seven reel picture showing at the Liberty Theatre tonight proved to be one of the greatest interest to those who saw it last night and held their interest from start to finish.

The title "Babbling Tongues" in a way gives the story in its title and shows how, as the Earth is made of grains of sand and the sea of drops of water so a mighty tragedy may be made from small remarks, sneering glances, and menacing actions of a lot of Babbling Tongues.

It would be impossible to put into these lines words to fully describe the interesting details of this pleasing drama. You cannot help but have a feeling of the greatest sorrow for the ones who are concerned in the scandal and you do not know until the very end of the picture that such a welcome ending will take place, and you will go away more than pleased and with a feeling that you may some day in your own life have cause to reflect and think of this production and treat lightly what you may hear from a lot of "Babbling Tongues".

This picture will be shown for the last time tonight. William Hart will also be shown in one of the short stories of a series that will be shown regularly at this theatre.
