NEBRASKA LAST STATE

Thirty-Six States Necessary to Put the Entire Country in the Dry Column Have Passed Amendment. Will Take Effect One Year From Date of Ratification.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—The United States today completed the legislative process of voting itself dry, when word was flashed over the wires that at the thirty-sixth state, Nebraska, had ratified the prohibition amendment.

Prohibition leaders said today that this was the greatest piece of moral legislation in the history of the world. Oregon which ratified the amendment yesterday was the thirty-third state and prohibition leaders expect the number to be increased to at least forty-two.

The resolution submitting to the states the National Prohibition Amendment to the Constitution of the United States was finally passed Congress, after December 18, 1917 just about eleven months previous to its final ratification.

The resolution was adopted by the Senate on August 1, 1917 by a vote of sixty-five to twenty, and was passed to the House of Representatives with slight amendments on December 17th following, by a vote of 282 to 128, the Senate on the following day voting to concur in the House amendments.

The prohibition provides as follows:

Section 1.—After one year from the ratification of this article, the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof, or the exportation thereof from the United States, and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof, for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

Section 2.—The Congress and the several states shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 3.—This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(Later) Missouri and Wyoming have now ratified the federal amendment.

Altho the amendment becomes effective a year from this date, the Nation will go dry on July first as a war measure, unless the President rescinds the order before that time.

FARMER WHO CAME HERE A SHORT TIME AGO GETS FINE RESULTS ON NEWTON RANCH IN KLAMATH BASIN

That farmers unfamiliar with irrigation may make a success of farming in the Klamath Basin was demonstrated this year on the ranch owned by Martin Greene, formerly known as the Newton ranch. Mr. Greene came here from San Francisco two years ago, and from the beginning has been successful, though this was his first experience with irrigation. This year, according to the report of the Latta Brothers, who threshed much of the grain in the valley this year, the results on the Greene ranch were better as a whole than any other on which they worked. Their report shows that the average per acre was as follows: Oats, 70 bushels; barley 60 bushels and wheat 20 bushels to the acre.

The Mayor made the selection without consultation with or solicitation from anyone and his decision has met with unanimous approval.

Letters received in the city today convey the information that the Captain has been suffering from an attack of the mumps, and has just been released from quarantine. Noted Red Cross Worker Tells of Methods Used by I. W. W. to Embitter Returning Fighters—Bills Would Aid Relief and Furnish Work on Oregon Highways.

SALEM, Jan. 16.—As a result of a conference between the Portland delegates, headed by the Mayor, with the joint ways and means committees of the Legislature last night, two measures were introduced today for the immediate relief of discharged soldiers. One of these would instruct the Highway Commission immediately to begin enough units of road work to employ a thousand soldiers.

The other is a bill creating a soldiers and sailors commission of five members and fixing it $250,000 for immediate relief.

James Kerr of the American Red Cross, said at the Conference, "If we do not aid six thousand soldiers now walking the streets of Portland, other forces will. The I. W. W. are giving beds and clothing and food to make converts of these men and to embitter them against the government."

SALEM, Jan. 16. (Later)—The House of Representatives ten minutes after it had convened adopted a resolution for Highway work to relieve soldiers. The House also unanimously passed a bill placing a quarter of a million dollars in the hands of a Commission for the immediate relief of soldiers.

The rules were suspended and the bill put thru in thirty-four minutes. The Senate will probably act on the matter later today or tomorrow. Oregon will be the first state to propose aid in a financial way for the returning soldiers.

THE INFLUENZA SITUATION

Each day there will be published in this column complete information as to the influenza situation. Here will be found the report of Health Officer Soule, the names and addresses of new cases, and all information that will convey the exact condition of the public health. As all official information regarding this question will be published, the public is warned against believing any stories that do not have as their foundation the facts contained in The Herald.

DR. SOULE'S REPORT

Following is a list of the cases reported to me during the past 24 hours. Also seven names that were reported to me and which should have appeared in the report of yesterday, but which were not published because they were without the proper street address:

Mrs. John Yaden two children, Pacific Terrace.

John B. Morgan, 608 California.

J. F. Ethridge, 114 Lewis

Mrs. W. C. Davenport, Third and Lincoln.

Burge Mason, Crescent and Canby.

Mrs. O'Flaherty, Jefferson street.

Verne Houston, child, Washington.

Sam Smith, child, Higgin's flat.

O. L. Brown, 604 Ninth.

Glen Helkey, Emergency hospital.

Moore, Cedar and Pine.

Mr. Bacus, 1006 Main.

Mr. Washington, 124 Sixth.

J. C. Johnson, 1146 Canby.

Mrs. Setzer, White Pelican hotel.

A. A. SOULE, Health Officer.

There is a decided change for the better throughout the city. All of the old cases are showing signs of quick recovery, and none of the new cases possess symptoms of an alarming nature. Best of all is the fact that the people have quieted down to a realization of the fact that the health authorities have the situation well in hand. The public, however, is urged to render every aid possible in the enforcement of the quarantine. The health board has decided that wherever the quarantine is broken those guilty shall be quarantined in the pest house until any possible danger of spreading the disease is passed, and this rule is to be rigidly enforced, without fear or favor.

Handsaker who is state manager here has had charge of the organization of seven other western states in which $4,000,000 is to be raised. The National drive is for $30,000,000. The states quota is $184,000 and the quota for Klamath County is set at $2,550 which ought to be raised with the same readiness and willingness which has characterized all the other drives. Rev. E. P. Lawrence has been appointed chairman for the county and will count on the loyal assistance of every citizen of the county in this call of overwhelming need. Herbert Hoover, who is to have charge of the administration of this fund, cables that "There is probably no greater suffering today anywhere than among the persecuted people of Asia Minor who have no fund, cannot secure government loan, and have no other credit."

SMELLS EVERYWHERE

Smells, Smells, Smells. If the people of Klamath Falls have not obeyed the recent order of Health Officer, A. A. Soule regarding the disinfecting of the city business houses, there is nothing in the evidence of odors hereabouts today. Formaldehyde scents greet the nose from every point and the citizens and business men were to be seen during a large part of the day yesterday and today, in overalls and old tags of every description, standing on their deaks while sweeping the walls and pounding at the offensive flu germ, in every corner where they thought he might be lurking. Any Germ that has the nerve to come out and show himself after this renovation will be a wonder. Those who did not get done with the job yesterday will finish it up today.

There is not a person in Klamath County but who has something he wants to sell or buy, and if he will make his wants known thru the classified columns of the Herald he will get quick results. You may not get returns as large as Mr. Greene, but you will get results. If there is anything you want to buy, sell or exchange, advertise for it. A $500 SALE ON A 25-CENT INVESTMENT

A Business Transaction That Is of Interest to Every Householder and Business Man

The day has passed when it is necessary to argue with a successful business man about the value of advertising. Like insurance, both life and fire, the live investor carries as much advertising as he possibly can, for he knows that it is the best investment he makes. Seldom, however, is the truth of this statement brought home so strongly as on a recent occasion when the classified column of the Herald was used by a local farmer to sell his hogs. Mr. Martin Greene, who lives on the Midland road near the Miller Hill school house was in the Herald office a few days ago, and incidentally mentioned the fact that he had some hogs for sale. It was suggested to him that he advertise them in the Herald, but never having had any experience with advertising, he was dubious about making such an investment. He finally decided he would try it, and inserted an advertisement that cost him 25 cents. The advertisement brought immediate results. The next day for Mr. Greene and Mr. Maddocks it fourteen hogs for $22.90. He is satisfied with the price he received and Mr. Maddocks is satisfied with the buy he made, and in the case of both the columns of the Herald have rendered a distinct service.

The purpose of bringing this to the attention of the readers of the Herald is to tell them that what it has done for Mr. Greene and Mr. Maddocks it will do for them. There is not a person in Klamath County but who has something he wants to sell or buy, and if he will make his wants known thru the classified columns of the Herald he will get quick results. There have been so many instances of the effectiveness of this class of advertising, that this paper has no hesitancy in recommending it. You may not get returns as large as Mr. Greene, but you will get results. If there is anything you want to buy, sell or exchange, advertise for it. Figure your advertising cost at the rate of a cent a day for each word, send it in with your money and the Herald will do the rest.
