

HOUSE PASSES MEASURE FOR FUTURE DAYS

SALEM, Feb. 17.—Shooting ducks from an airplane is not yet a popular sport in Oregon. Neither is the catching of salmon from submarines generally indulged in—at least not by the rank and file.

Yet the defenders of fish and game in the lower house forced just such a condition in the not dim and distant future, and, in anticipation of that time, an amendment to Representative Roman's bill, prohibiting the shooting of ducks from airplanes, was brought in to include the catching of salmon and other food fish from submarines.

The house at first was inclined to treat the amendment as another one of the numerous jokes which have been perpetrated in the house but Representative McFarland assured the legislators that both the original bill and the amendment were introduced in all seriousness and insisted that they be treated as such.

The report of the committee was adopted and the bill will come for final reading in regular order.

At the Theaters

"Zongar," the physical culture play at the Liberty tonight, is one of the most out of the ordinary films local play goes will have an opportunity to see this season. It shows the degree of perfection right living and exercise will enable a young man to reach and should be a stimulus to every boy and girl to take care of their health. A charming love story is interwoven and the climax is most thrilling. After a hard battle where Zongar's wonderful strength and agility enables him to successfully battle eight men, he is finally knocked by a blow from a shovel. After he recovers his senses he takes up the chase, as the gang have abducted his sweetheart. It seems impossible to overtake them but by the aid of an airplane he succeeds in gaining ground and finally snatches Helen from the speeding car.
