DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS He Comes Up Smiling An ASTRACRAFT Picture AT THE STAR THEATER TONIGHT

THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Edward Everett Hale had a message for every American and in his story of "A Man Without a Country" that message is recorded. Stand by the Flag was the message and every one who reads that story will be a better American for having done so.

And now we have it on the screen, verile, real and presented in a masterful manner. Mr. Arnold Daly as "Philip Nolan" portrays that difficult character with much credit to himself and to his author.

That every boy and girl may have an opportunity to see this picture, a special Saturday matinee will be given at two o'clock at the Liberty Theatre.

NEW SUITS

This section holds much pleasure for the woman or miss interested in seeing what form the new Suit Modes for Spring take. The new Box Suits, for which a high popularity is predicted, are worthy of special attention. These with the Vestees of rich material in plain or handsomely embroidered effects are executed in luxurious new fabrics. Cutaway effects are also seen. Belted styles also continue in vogue.

NEW COATS

The new Dolmans are perhaps the leaders in the section devoted to women's Coats and Wraps. Short box coats are also prominently to the fore. Materials are of the most richly serviceable order. Linings are in a diversity of pleasing designs and colorings. Henna, of course, is well represented, and many other new shades are to be seen. New conceits are shown in collars.

NEW SPRING DRESSES

This is by no means the least interesting of the departments devoted to new apparel for spring. There are dresses for street, business, afternoon, dinner and evening wear in such variety of new materials, styles and colorings as one would never expect so early in the season. Skirts elect a narrow simplicity. Prices will come in the nature of a surprise—so moderate they are—

THRILLS OF CIRCUS BROUGHT TO SCREEN.

At The Temple Tonight, Eddie Polo and Eileen Sedgewick.

"The Lure of the Circus" With Eddie Polo Has Punched Galore.

Do you remember the indescribable tang of the sawdust ring? Can you recall the "ice cold" "swoon" of the white-coated attendant or the raucous call of the peanut vendor; the roar of the lions mingling with the multitudinous shouts of the spectators and performers, and the grand finale of the three-ring performance when the chariots dash madly round the outer circle, the foam-flecked horses urged to their utmost endeavors by the cries of the multitude?

All this and more can again be enjoyed by attending the Temple theatre where "The Lure of the Circus," a master Universal serial, with Eddie Polo is shown. Aerial stunts never before attempted outside a circus ring; bareback riding that will recall the ambition you had when a boy to marry a girl in pink tights who jumped thru the hoop; a street parade, that as a kid you waited hours on the street corner to see, will be features of the serial. In preparing the scenario Director McGowan, noted for his daring conceptions in the Helen Holmes series of railroad pictures, was given free rein in the matter of expense and with the assistance of owners and performers of several large circus companies has incorporated every interesting and exciting episode in circus life in the big serial.
