THE LINK RIVER DAM.

Next Saturday will be the day on which the landowners will be expected to mail their ballots, by which they will express their wish as to whether they want the District to join with the Water Users in testing the legality of the contract entered into between the government and the California-Oregon Power Company. If the landowners will take sufficient interest in this question to send in their ballots, there will be no question as to what instruction shall be given the Board of Directors of the Irrigation District. It will be practically unanimous in favor of joining with the Association. Every ballot should be plainly marked and should bear the name of the landowner. While there is no place indicated for a signature, the ballots, nevertheless, should be signed by the voter, so that a check may be had when they are counted.

Every landowner should distinctly understand that if they do not instruct the Board of Directors to test this contract, there will be no effort made to stop the construction of the Link River dam nor any attempt to hold the power that the Reclamation Service is trying to pass over to a private corporation. You might just as well understand that the majority of the present board is against such a lawsuit and unless it is compelled to engage in it it will not do so. The statement that the suit started by the Association will be sufficient, it not true. Just as soon as a transfer of the powers of the Association is made to the District you will see the last of your lawsuit. Under the terms of the iniquitous resolution that this Board passed, the maintenance of this suit would be then impossible, for it clearly states therein, that in as much as the members of the Board of the District constitute, a majority of the board of the Association, then all acts of the District, insofar as they relate to the power and power possibilities, are binding on the association. That is the joker in the whole proceedings, together with the fact that the Association would have no power to levy an assessment on the lands of the District for the maintenance of a suit. You can see from this the urgent necessity for the District joining and why those who oppose this step take the position they do. Does it look to you, Mr. Landowner, that there is an honest effort on the part of your representatives to protect your rights and interests? If you think your interests and properties are being dissipated, then take a hand in the game yourself, and do it so emphatically that certain interests will understand that you mean what you say.

THE NATRON CUT-OFF

Ever since the Southern Pacific started to build into Klamath Falls we have heard about the Natron cut-off, and each year there has been held out to the people of this county the hope that it would be built. If Harriman had lived it would have been finished long ago, for he had the foresight to see its great value and the courage and judgment to back it up. It is just as necessary to us today as when it was started and is just as valuable to Oregon, Portland and the Willamette Valley, and if all of these interests will get together and bring every bit of pressure to bear on its construction, something will be done to that end. If Klamath Falls lets this year go by without something definite being done for the construction of this important piece of road, then it might just as well say good-bye to it for all time. The Herald would suggest that the business and property interests of the county gather in a public meeting and undertake this work in an organized manner. One or two people cannot accomplish it alone. But if those who will profit by it will get in and do their share, then we will see actual construction would started this year, and if it is once more begun, it will not stop until it is completed.

On every hand we here the government urging the opening up of public works for the employment of the returning soldier. What better source of employment is at hand than railroad construction? Where can you find a more profitable piece of work than the Natron cut-off and the extension to Bend? The money for the Natron cut-off is in the treasury of the Southern Pacific company, and all that is necessary to turn it loose is one word from the government. Let us get the government to say the word. We can do it. Let us go to Eugene and Portland and ask them to help us. They will do it. They are ready and anxious to extend a helping hand if we are not so foolish as to sulk in a corner and ignore them. We must remember that we are of Oregon and must work for the development of the state and that every dollar that is spent in the state will help us. Let the next big job we undertake be the completion of the Natron cut-off, and when we start on it, let it be with a determination to stay with it until it becomes an accomplished fact.

FEDERAL HARD SURFACE ROAD WORK PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Immediate construction of hard-surfaced roads thruout the country is urged by the labor department as a means of relieving the unemployment situation.

Altho $48,500,000 of government money is available to assist in the work, only 45 miles of roads have been completed under the plan of the government, state and county sharing in the cost.

About $200,000,000 more soon will be appropriated it is expected.

The government has approved 766 road building projects, totaling 766 miles, and it is this work that the department is anxious to start at once.

Only eight states have completed roads under the government plan, although it has been in force since 1917. Arkansas has built 5 miles, California 7, Louisiana 4, Massachusetts 14, North Carolina 8, Vermont 1, Washington 4, and West Virginia 2. Texas, with 70 projects totaling 993 miles, leads in the number approved by the government.

Others have obtained government approval for the following mileage, the federal government's share of the money for the work being immediately available: Arizona 73, California 97, Idaho 156, Montana 86, New Mexico 244, Oregon 136, Utah 237, and Washington 76.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

YOU CAN BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

Thrift Pays the Bills

This world is full of bills. The grocer sends them, the butcher, the baker, the coal man, the ice man and the tailor.

To some people bills mean worry and unhappiness. To others who practice Thrift, who spend less than they earn and regularly save a stated sum, bills have no terror.

Is it not better to have dollar bills in the bank than dunning bills in the mail box?
