JUDGE HUGHES AMENDMENTS TO LEAGUE'S CONSTITUTION.

Judge Charles E. Hughes has gone on record with seven amendments he would make to the constitution of the proposed League of Nations, and the suggestions he offers would do much to protect the United States from the dangerous alliance we are threatened with.

The "Hughes amendments" suggested "aside from formal improvements," were stated as follows:

- (1). Explicit provision as to the requirement of unanimity of decision. (2). Suitable limitation as to the field of the league's inquiries and action so as to leave no doubt that the internal concerns of states, such as immigration and tariff laws are not embraced. (3). Providing that no foreign power shall hereafter acquire, by conquest, purchase or in any other way any possession on the American continent or the islands adjacent thereto. (4). Providing that the settlement of purely American questions shall be remitted primarily to the American nations, and that European nations shall not intervene unless requested to do so by the American nations. (5). Omitting the guaranty (of the existing independence of member nations) of Article X. (6). Providing that no member of the league shall be constituted a mandatory without its consent and no European or Asiatic power shall be constituted a mandatory of any American people. (7). Providing that any member of the league may withdraw at its pleasure on a specified notice.

Hughes criticised severely the tenth article of the covenant and conceding the argument that this clause had been included to protect the nations born of the war, the speaker regarded it "as a trouble breeder" and not a "peace maker." It makes no allowance, he said for changes in the make-up of member nations which may be found advisable and "ascribes a soundness of judgment to the peace conference in erecting states and defining bounddaries which nobody in the history of the world has ever possessed."

Minor suggestions of the former Republican presidential candidate were that definite limitation be placed upon the league's field of inquiry, reserving to the several nations exclusive control of immigration, tariffs and other internal problems and that provision be made for the withdrawal of states from the organization.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

In relation to the revamping of the Commercial Club and the welding into the effective organization the various nebulous Chamber of Commerce, Boards of Trade or other suggested boosting organizations, the fact should not be lost sight of that the old Commercial club, the official personnel of which is composed of some of our most patriotic and capable men, chose to subordinate the activities of the Club to our part in winning the war; but the work has gone on, even with an empty treasury, and has added no little to the fame of Klamath county throughout the land.

Such literature as we have, including newspapers, Crater Lake folders, photographs of farm scenes, fish and game photos, bank reports, particulars as to irrigation and swamp drainage, the prospectus of the timber concerns etc., has been widely distributed and the numerous letters now being received from all portions of the United States and even from the soldier boys in France, show that the work done even during the apparent hibernation of the club has been pretty effective.

Now we have a committee of able, forward-looking men in the field to lay the foundation for a re-organization of the club for the work that is to make Klamath the first county in the state and let us all get in and make the new club the agency to achieve the desired result.

FAMILY THOUGHT HE WAS GOING TO DIE

WHEELER SAYS NOTHING HELPED HIM UNTIL HE TOOK TANLAC—HEALTH RESTORED

"Well, sir, Tanlac has not only entirely relieved me of my awful trouble, but I have regained twenty-five pounds of my lost weight and never felt stronger and better in my life," said Harry R. Wheeler, who is employed at the Pacific Coast Steel Plant and lives at 4744 Forty-Eighth Ave., South, Seattle, the other day.

"About a year ago," he continued, "I began to suffer with intestinal indigestion that, in spite of all I could do, got worse and worse till I was in a terrible condition. Everything I would eat fermented and I would be in such agony, that it was like a sharp knife cutting clean across my stomach. I got so weak that I could hardly do a thing, and it was only my will power that kept me going at all. When I would get home at night I would be so weak and in so much pain that my wife was always ready with a hot water bottle to put right on me, and even then I would be in such agony at times I thought it would drive me distracted. My hips ached with rheumatism, and the muscles of my right arm and leg would get all drawn into knots, and at times I couldn't raise my arm halfway to my head. I went down in weight from two hundred pounds to a hundred and fifty-two a loss of forty-eight pounds and my condition was so serious that my family actually thought I was going to die.

"I tried everything I could hear of to get relief, but nothing did me any good. Then my sister-in-law, who had been suffering with rheumatism, got me to try Tanlac, as it had done her so much good. I got a bottle and when I found it was helping me, I just kept it up till now I haven't a pain or an ache about me. I have a splendid appetite, and can eat anything I want without it hurting me in the least. I used to lay awake night after night suffering terribly, but now I go to sleep as soon as my head hits the pillow, and sleep like a log all night. I am picking up in weight every day and am feeling so fine and well that I am glad to tell everybody how much this wonderful medicine has benefited me."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by the Star Drug Co., and in Lorell by the James Merc. Co.—Adv.
