At the Theaters

Louise Glaum, known to fame as "The Peacock Vampire", has cast aside the role of a seductress forever and in the future will be seen in straight dramatic parts which will enable her to play upon the heart-strings of her audiences. In her latest Paralta Play, "Wedlock," which comes to the Liberty Theatre tonight she will interpret the role of a young girl who conquers the mores and persecutions of society thru the nobleness of her nature. Miss Glaum's old admirers who have enjoyed her work in the past will find in her new role she surpasses her former achievements and establishes herself as one of the foremost delineators of sympathetic types of the present day.

Trustful Son of the Hun Who Has Just Filled Up on Doughboys' Chocolate

If you hadn't had an ice cream soda or a nut sundae or a piece of chocolate for ever so long, wouldn't you groan when an American soldier came along who was just loaded down with chocolate? Ask this little German boy who almost hung on our doughboys' coats when they marched into the territory taken over by the Army of Occupation. The doughboys did their best to exterminate the fighting Hun but his little son is an altogether different thing.

BABY BOY ARRIVES.
Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Reed of the Reed Rooming house are the proud parents of a baby boy born at six o'clock yesterday morning.

Heiress to Carnegie Millions and Her Fiance

ENSIGN ROSWELL MILLER MISS MARGARET CARNEGIE

At the launching of the steamship Strathnaver which she christened at the yards of the Downey Shipbuilding Co., Arlington, N. J. Miss Margaret Carnegie, daughter of Andrew Carnegie, and probably the least conspicuous to the heirs to great wealth made her first real public appearance. She is seen in this photograph standing beside her fiance, Ensign Roswell Miller, U. S. N. The announcement of the engagement of the steel king's daughter was made in November but no date has been set for the wedding.

Champion Swimmer Who Saved Ship and Won Medal

Ensign Tedford H. Cann has proved that swimming is not a "non-essential" sport. When as an amateur he was winning championships in the colors of the New York Athletic Club he did not dream of the valuable service his ability as a swimmer was to be to Uncle Sam. He now wears the Congressional Medal of Honor for saving the U. S. S. May. When that vessel sprung a leak Cann dived into a flooded compartment and plugged a hole. This photograph was taken when he arrived recently in New York.

Live vs. Let Live.
"Do you think your poems will live after you are dead?"
"Can't say. I wish they'd let me live while I'm alive."—Boston Transcript.

Political Cavalry.
Every now and then it is said of one statesman or another that he is riding for a fall. Presumably the fall of 1920—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
