WAR FINANCE SHOWS WORLD POWER OF U. S.

Victory Liberty Loan Will Clinch America's Position and Prestige

The Treasury Department in a recent review of American financial conditions gives some data which may well make the cynics and half-hearted Americans, who are shaking their heads over the Victory Liberty Loan, take notice. The figures bring out the latent but tremendous wealth and investing power of America. They follow:

A bond market which had less than 300,000 customers two years ago had, at the close of 1918, between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 buyers.

This army of American bond buyers absorbed during 1918 alone $11,165,563,850 worth of Liberty Bonds—billions, not millions, mind you.

For the less-than-two-year war period in its entirety the American public bought $16,974,329,850 in Liberty Bonds.

And despite all this, right now bond dealers report a lively demand for all sorts of municipal, school and industrial securities—such a lively demand that these dealers are looking about the country for new issues to market.

All this has one meaning. The Victory Liberty Loan is an assured success. The American people are going to absorb this last Liberty Loan. They are going to prove that the patriotism that brought a $1,000,000,000 over-subscription in the Fourth Loan was a solid patriotism—the kind that sticks to the end; not the "hurrah" kind that flickers to sordid cynicism when the band stops playing and the guns cool.

Peace Will Put New Value on the Dollar

The greatest merchants and industrial chiefs in the country agree that there will be a readjustment during the peace period. There will be a gradual decline in prices and a gradual improvement in the buying power of money.

The secretary of the treasury has a pretty good opportunity to form an opinion of financial tendencies. He says:

Every dollar saved now and invested in Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps will be worth much more when peace readjustment comes. Every provident man and woman in the United States may find their savings double in purchasing power in the next few years. How can any one more certainly make money than by saving it now with assurance of its enormous enhancement in value when normal conditions are restored?

LOOK AND LISTEN!

We, the Klamath Falls Fire department, wish to thank the people of this city for their conduct at the fire that burned the American hotel, also the men that helped in our hour of need.

The city council has promised us more equipment, so we can do faster and better work; it was impossible to save the burning building, so we were very lucky to save the surrounding buildings, and let us hope we have no more like it.

On cleanup day most of the citizens did their share, BUT there were a few who did not clean the rubbish from their buildings, so we ask these people to take notice and clean up, as it causes fires.
