NEED GREATER NOW THAN EVER.

Press reports show that the coal industry is facing serious competition from oil.

The oil requirement of the U. S. shipping board for the coming year will amount to 34,000,000 barrels. Thus this one agency alone displaces 10,000,000 tons of coal.

As the bulk of the coal mined in the U. S. is in the eastern states and as petroleum products and electricity derived from waterpower, are rapidly displacing coal wherever they can be obtained, it is easy to see why the east has fought for conservation measures which would tie up these great natural resources of the west.

The days of obstructionists like Pinchot and LaFollette are numbered as the world needs oil as it never did before, and the public is coming to realize the necessity of rapid development of this great natural resource.

In January, 1919, more crude oil was consumed daily and more refined products obtained therefrom than in any corresponding period in 1918 or 1917.

It is hard to conceive of a better argument for measures encouraging oil development than this.

BANKING VS. BOLSHEVISM.

The biggest factor in the business outlook at any given moment is the subtle factor called "confidence."

When business men have courage, all the producing elements get out to produce their capacity, which keeps everybody busy earning money.

City and country banks were never working in such close touch with the farmers and wage earners nor so closely identified with community service.

The keystone of confidence is that there is now in existence, tried out in the furnace of war, the great federal reserve banking system.

Before this organization was created the United States suffered from business depressions about every decade or a little oftener.

The bank laws were so rigid that a perfectly sound and solvent business could be wrecked merely by a lack of ready money.

This weakness in the financial structure has now been removed by legislation that makes possible the massing of reserves to protect every solvent business.

Thus the principal cause for the old periodical panics has been removed.

The country still faces the peril of Bolshevism. But the school educated American masses will not be fooled by the follies that have deluded poor, blinded Russia.

So with prudent and courageous enterprise, with justice to all elements of the working community, all clouds should evaporate in the clear sunshine of American optimism.

HELP TURN THE FLYWHEEL.

Millions of people are waiting for that "after the war prosperity boom" to hit them in the face.

There is just one way to cause that boom to strike you, get busy and don't wait any longer for prices to "drop."

The drop in prices will come so slowly you will never know it.

The nation is marking time today with every one waiting for the other fellow to move first.

The best authorities say a million new buildings are needed. Other millions need painting and repairing.

Manufacturers using western metals such as lead, copper and zinc are waiting for orders for hardware, plumbers' supplies, etc., before they buy raw materials from the mines. Lumber yards are waiting for orders before they stock up with lumber and so on, while Mr. Citizen sits back and waits for lightning to strike him.

Prosperity rests in our own hands. If we go ahead with necessary construction, industrial activity will soon manifest itself. Our metal mines will again gain their stride, the lumber industry will be rushed with orders and jobs will be hunting the man.

The General Motors Co. has lead off with a construction program for its plants aggregating $43,000,000. This company knows that prices will not be lower for a long time to come.

Prosperity for us will come with our own activity, and not in waiting for foreign orders, which are months and years away.

Continued good times in the U. S. today are right up to the individual. Go ahead with your building and construction work and your hand will be one of millions to help turn over the great flywheels of industrial prosperity.

THE SWEET-TOOTH ERA.

The people of the United States spent three-fourth of a billion for candy last year.

If national prohibition ever gets completely established these figures will be easily doubled.

As a nation we are substituting caramels for cocktails and popcorn balls for highballs.

Candy kettles and chocolate dipping tables are being installed in breweries and sweet-shops in saloons.

The old-time tippler is turning to bonbons and the booze-fighter is nibbling at walnut creams.

Indirectly this means a boom for the sugar beet industry, for the real estate dealer and farmer.

The victims of the sweet-tooth age will not have such evils to contend with as delirium tremens and cirrhosis of the liver and there will be more employment for labor.

The west is fortunate in having a number of big sugar beet companies that are bending every effort to develop sugar beet raising and manufacture.

The Utah-Idaho Sugar Co., which is a good representative of the industry has just issued a report which shows total assets of $33,030,069.70, of which over $18,000,000 are permanent.

The company has 3400 stockholders, and paid the government over $1,250,000 income taxes in 1918. It manufactured 300,000,000 pounds of sugar last season, which put into local circulation about $27,000,000. That's what industrial development means.

Klamath county should have one of the plants of this company.

CASE DISMISSED.

PROFESSORS OF FINANCE WARN NO BANK LOAN

U. of C. and Stanford Experts Point the Way to Sound Reconstruction Finance

The banks of the United States must be left free to finance the reconstruction of productive enterprise and must not be cluttered up with the Victory Liberty Loan. That is the composite, thought-out opinion of two of the West's most noted professors of finance, Carl C. Plehn, professor of finance in the University of California, and Murray L. Wildman, head of the department of economics and finance of Stanford University. Both agree that the money needed to finish paying for the war should not come out of working capital, but should be raised out of individual savings of humble and wealthy.

"If the people take the Loan, as they must," Professor Plehn says, "the banks will be left free to lend to the manufacturer, the farmer, the grocer, the butcher, and the baker, so that they can get busy again on a peace time basis. Then production and business will grow and, by the formula, prices will come to normal. If we leave it to the banks, they will have no funds left for business, big or little. We, ourselves, will not profit and the day of our redemption will only be postponed."

Professor Wildman, whose ability caused him to be called from Stanford to Washington for war finance service, agrees with the California economist, adding: "It would be a grave mistake to saddle the banks of the country with the Victory Loan at this time."

When two professors agree, it's time to sit up and take notice. When two professors not only agree with each other, but agree with the Government, that settles it. Finance is their business—particularly Government finance. They have spent their lives studying it and are paid good salaries for teaching the principles of it to the men who are going to run the nation tomorrow.

Finance is not the business of the wisacre who screws down the corners of his mouth and says, "Let the banks do it." Better take the advice of scientists who know.

Leper Colony Reaches $62 Per Capita W. S. S.

Hawaii's War Savings Stamps reports for the year ending December 31, 1918, show total sales of $2,020,000 worth of War Savings Stamps sold, which is $20,000 over their quota.

Two thousand dollars of this amount was sold to thirty-two lepers at the Penikese Island Leper Colony, which amounts to $62 per capita, or three times more than the per capita quota for the United States, namely: $20.

BANNER YEAR FOR SHEEP INDUSTRY

A letter received today from Chas. McCartie brings the information that this is to be a banner year for the sheepmen, so far as lambing is concerned. The loss is practically nothing and the percentage of income is above the usual annual amount.

BUY RUM JAGS FOR FOUR BITS.

SALEM, April 29.—The indiscriminate sale of bay rum and similar concoctions containing a generous supply of alcohol will be prohibited in Salem following report to the city council by a special prohibition investigator working under the direction of Mayor Aikin.

The investigator says Salem's thirty population is now able to procure a good and lasting drunk as cheap as 50 cents. The actual traffic in whiskey is almost negligible. For the first time in several weeks, Chief of Police Varney last night confiscated a trunk filled with liquor arriving from California. Arrests will follow shortly, he says.
