Our
WITCH HAZEL

Many preparations are now on the market that are supposed to take the place of good old-fashioned witch hazel, but they have failed to rob it of its popularity.

There is nothing better for bruises, inflammations and minor wounds.

It is also excellent for the face after shaving.

ROTATION USED FOR PRESERVING STATE GRAZING

PORTLAND, May 7.—To prevent the national forests from becoming overgrazed and thus rendered useless for several years, a plan of rotation has been adopted by the forest service and the various stock associations, according to J. L. Peterson, grazing examiner of the forest service.

This plan is carried out of dividing the grazing areas according to altitude or by streams. In the first instance the stock are grazed first on the lower altitudes where the spring grasses are earlier, moving up the slope as the season advances. The highest altitudes are reached during the summer months and the stock work downward again with the oncoming of autumn. Movement of the stock is directed through the distribution of the salt troughs.

In cases where the topography of the country is marked by streams, the stock is rotated along the different watersheds, the mountains between forming a natural barrier to their wandering.

Special attention to grazing problems has been given in the Minnie and Wallowa forests in Eastern Oregon. Here the forest is apportioned off to the various cattle and sheep growing associations, common use areas where both cattle and sheep may graze and small allotments for individual stock raisers.

To show the methods of grazing, the effects of overgrazing, salt distribution, and plants that are poisonous to cattle and sheep, the grazing department a set of enlarged pictures, mounted plants and graphic diagrams and maps.

The total cattle losses due to poison larkspur in 1918 amounted to $15,850, according to Mr. Peterson. During the year 1923 acres were grubbed out at a cost of about $5.19 per acre.

Death camas causes the greatest sheep loss. In one locality alone, 900 sheep out of a total flock of 2,000 died from the effects of the plant. Lupine, while poisonous, is not so dangerous as the others, since it is more widely scattered and not concentrated in small areas, as are many of the other poisonous species.

E. N. Kavanagh, who is in charge of grazing at the forest service, and M. Peterson took the pictures to the recent Cattle and Horse Growers association at Bend, where they attracted much attention among the stockmen.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to aspirin, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

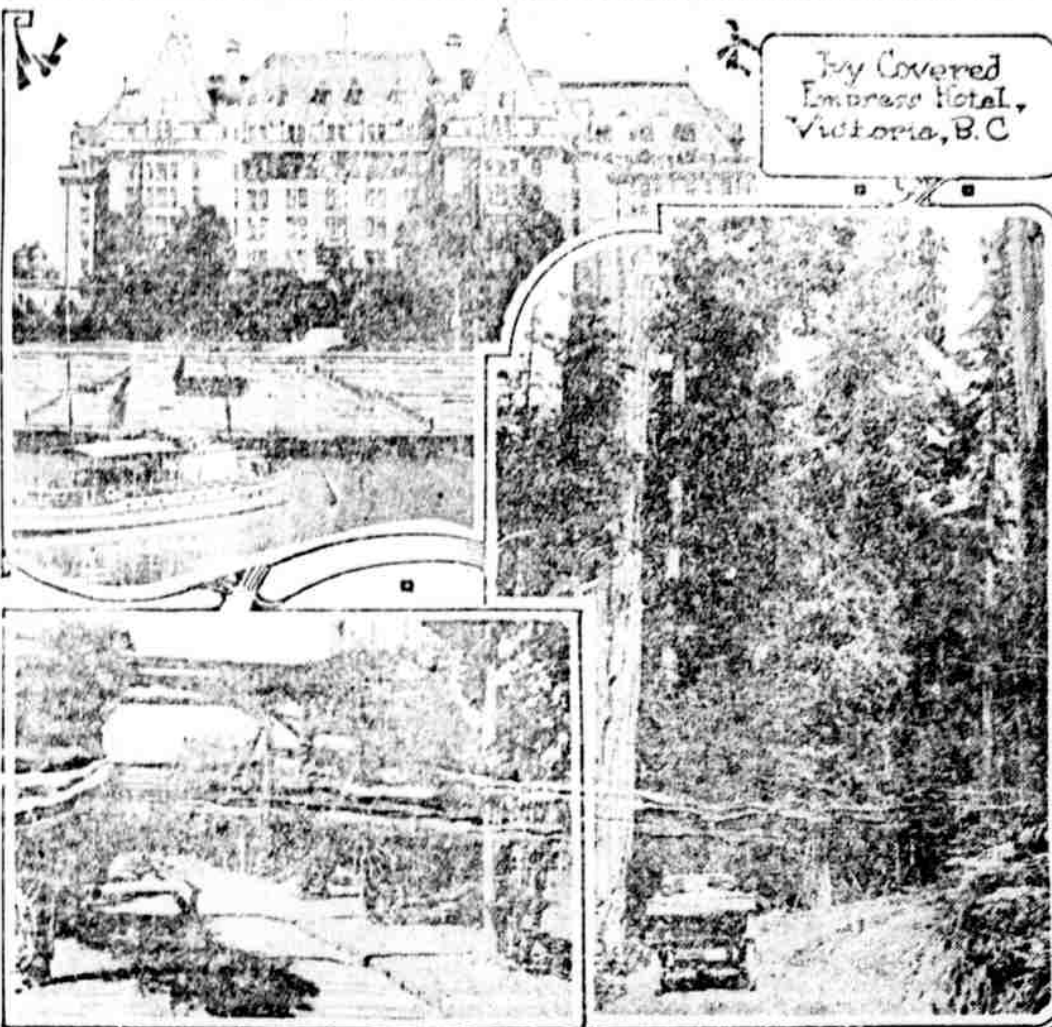

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning, never have any headache or know a miserable moment.—Adv.

VICTORIA, THE ROSE OF THE PACIFIC, KNOWS NO WINTER

In the Garden, Empress Hotel. One of Many Fine Roads, Vancouver Island

What a winter resort in latitude 48 north! Impossible! No, not impossible, but a fact, as Victoria, the capital of British Columbia, demonstrates. It may be a surprise to many to learn that the famous rose gardens of Victoria are in bloom twelve months in the year and that this very English city on the Pacific coast knows no winter. An ever growing number of winter visitors attest the popularity of this weather program.

Victoria is situated on the southern tip of Vancouver Island overlooking the Strait of Juan de Fuca, which connects the Pacific with the Gulf of Georgia, beyond which lies the mainland of the province. It is a beautiful city with a climate much like that of the south of England. It is also the oldest city in the province and prior to 1862 was a Hudson's Bay Trading Post. Since 1862 it has been an incorporated city and had grown steadily until now its population numbers about 50,000. Many people who have made fortunes in various parts of the west and northwest have chosen Victoria as the place wherein to enjoy their fortunes, the result is a city of beautiful homes and much wealth. Besides the magnificent Government buildings which rank among the finest in America, there are many fine public and private structures. The ivy covered walls of the historic Empress Hotel add a peculiar note of beauty to the town, while the hotel provides for the comfort of the most exacting of tourists.

Outdoor sports may be enjoyed here all the year around and not the least of these is golf. The fine 18 hole links maintained by the Victoria Golf Club and the Colwood Golf and Country Club are much appreciated by visiting golfers. Victoria has a large Chinese quarter and a busy water-front that visitors always find interesting. Steamboats run to various points about the island as well as to Vancouver and Puget Sound points. Coastwise teamers connect with Pacific coast ports of the United States, Mexico and South America, others run to Alaska. The trans-Pacific liners that ply between Vancouver and the Orient, South Sea Islands and Australia, stop at Victoria and many travelers make it a point to embark there. More than three thousand sea-going vessels go out of this harbor annually.

PORTLAND, May 7.—Greatly increasing its rate of enlistments, the local army recruiting office in the Worcester building announces that 111 men have joined the army in the Oregon district during the month of April. During the month there were 30 men rejected for the service. This record far eclipses the March record, when there were 22 enlistments and four men rejected.

CERTAIN FREIGHT TARIFFS REDUCED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Director General Hines of the railroads has announced reductions in import rates from the Pacific Coast east on a number of commodities from the Orient.

PERSHING TO MOVE OFFICES TO PARIS

CHAUMONT, France, May 7.—General Pershing has arranged to transfer general headquarters of the American expeditionary forces from Chaumont, where it has been located since September, 1917, to the building in Avenue Montaigne, Paris, now occupied by American aviation headquarters. The headquarters of the American service of supply is being transferred from Tours to Antwerp, Belgium.

The transfer marks entrance on the final stage of demobilization of the army in France. The service of supply headquarters at Tours will be discontinued after July 1 and only the army of occupation in Germany will be retained. Pershing's headquarters in Paris will wind up other details as soon as possible in order that the staff may return home.

The base ports of embarkation, Brest, St. Nazaire and Bordeaux, probably will be abandoned before July 1 and troops moved home from Antwerp. Besides affording quicker facilities the selection of Antwerp is a compliment to Belgium and permit expenditure of American money in Belgium, assisting the Belgian economic status. All troops not moved before July 1 will be concentrated in a single area to await transportation via Antwerp.

ORIENTAL PAGEANT AT CHAUTAUQUA

Julius Caesar Nayphe on Opening Night.

Julius Caesar Nayphe, brilliant scion of unbroken royal lineage, comes to Chautauqua with a lecture-entertainment that has been the sensation of the East. He is a young Athenian, educated in Palestine and in the University of England and America. He will tell you of the Holy Land, where customs of a thousand years ago are still in vogue; of the Oriental people, their lives and habits. With him he brings the wonderfully gorgeous costumes of the Syrians, the Greeks and the Armenians, which he wears and exhibits, making a spectacular pageant of the Orient. A feature of the entertainment is a wedding of the Holy Land, with the magnificent robes worn on this occasion.
