It will act as an aid in convalescing from coughs, colds, bronchitis and other similar disorders, and to properly assimilate your food.

SAY, JACK, LISTEN!

You know I've been loafing around that Diamond Tire & Vulcanizing Shop so much that I've got Diamond-tires. That place has always had an attraction for me, and I could never make up my mind why, but now I know what it was: It's an association of ideas. Do you get that? Every time I went in there I felt like there was something connected with the place that was making an insistent appeal, and after I had bought all the Diamond Tires that I could use, there was still that feeling that there was something else, and now I know what it is: It's a diamond for the Princess—and I'm going to get it if it takes the last button off my coat. I've had so much satisfaction out of my diamond tires that it sort of gives me confidence to take the big plunge, and when it's all settled, and I bid farewell forever to the boarding-house life, I'll have to admit that it was Diamond Tires that gave me the great inspiration. Say, Jack, don't you know, I can appreciate the remark of the negro, who when he asked the justice of the peace who had just tied him up to the dusky dame who filled the universe for him what he owed him, and was told to pay whatever he thought it was worth, replied: "Lordy, Judge, you-all has made me a poor man for the rest of my life."

There's going to be a cut in the price of Diamond Tires. They were cheap enough before, when you take their quality into consideration, in comparison with all other tires on the market, but they are going to be still cheaper. In fact, the cut has already been made, but the new prices haven't been forwarded from the factory, yet. Just the same, you can buy your tires now, pay the old price, and when the new prices get here you will get your rebate. My advice is get 'em at once, Jack, for the sooner you get them, the sooner your automobile life will begin to be a real pleasure, and then, too, it may help you over some big hump, just as it did me. Don't take my word for it—just go down and talk to Marple or Smith, and they can tell you the good points better than I can. All I can say is that I've got 'em, and am darn well satisfied, 'n everything. Try it yourself, and see if I ain't right—BUD.

GARICH'S GROCERY NEWS

VOLUME I. KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1919. NUMBER 10

EDITORIAL

You like fresh vegetables, don't you? And you want them on your table just as soon after they leave the garden as it is possible to get them. That is why I am going to see that you get them that way. Every night I go to the express office and get my vegetables, fruits and berries, take them to my store, see that they are properly cared for so as to preserve their freshness, and then in the morning they go to you on the delivery. They don't stay in my store until the next day and reach you 24 hours late. You get them fresh and crisp, just in that condition that makes vegetables so appetizing.

When you want some vegetables or berries, don't imagine that you have to come to my store in order to get them fresh. Just phone your order and the next morning you get those that arrived the night before, if they come by express, or those that are delivered at my store in the morning if grown locally. That is what I call service, and it is by this kind of service that I expect to merit your full patronage.
