LADIES DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

USE GRANDMA'S SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR RECIPE AND NOBODY WILL KNOW

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wynth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

BOYS HAVING FINE TIME AT HOME COMING

The following interesting letter from Coleman O'Loughlin is written in diary form and gives a fine idea of the reception given the boys on their return from the big fight. Something of the feeling they have on reaching this side of the Atlantic can be imagined from this letter.

By Corp. Coleman F. O'Loughlin

Well, here I am in my own U. S. I have heard a lot about heaven, but never expected to reach it here on this terrestrial sphere of ours. I did, though, for I am there now. Talk tears of joy, well, I shed them when we came into sight of the lights of New York Harbor. I am afraid I'll wake up and find it is a dream.

We saw the lights first at 9 p. m., dropped anchor at 11, but believe me no one went to bed. We just could not get our fill of looking at those lights. Were under way early this morning, docked at same pier at Hoboken from which I departed 22 months ago.

Six hundred of us, all sick and wounded, were immediately placed on a small river ship and taken across to the New York side, reviewing the Atlantic Fleet on the way, loaded into ambulances and brought to Greenhut hospital.

Last night I saw "Under Cover" at the Lexington. This afternoon I saw the big show at the N. Y. Hippodrome. We always have the best seats in the house. People stop their cars and want to take us wherever we are going, or if we are going nowhere in particular they want to take us somewhere.

But its the Red Cross that really makes us feel at home and takes care of us. Signed up today for an entertainment and dinner with the Catholic Woman's league.

Met my friend Wagner at supper time. He is the kid I took around with me in Brest. I'm playing nurse again. We went to see "Take It From Me," one of the big musical successes of the season. This poor kid has paralysis following an attack of diphtheria. Can't handle his feet. He can pick them up alright but don't know where they are going to land, and can't walk any more than one-third speed. He goes along with a cane in one hand and holding onto me with the tiber.

Went on a sight seeing trip today. Twentyfive of us left here at 10 a. m. in charge of the Red Cross in a car donated by a member of the New York Stock Exchange, went through all the business district shopping districts, theatres, etc., then lunch at Delmonico's. They treated us as they would have treated the president.

I had the kind of steak and French fries I've been dreaming about for 22 months.

Everywhere we stopped they loaded with candy, smokes and whole boxes of fruit. We had our pockets bulging. That made no difference; we had to take more.

Had the most enjoyable time I have in my whole stay today. Were entertained by the Lamb's Club. Began the day at 1 p. m. Were taken to the show. It is classed as the most popular comedy success of years and is truly wonderful, the best acting I have seen or hope to see, and the best part of it, the chap with us from the Lamb's Club took us back and introduced us to the leading character and we had a party for an hour. I feel in love with the leading lady "fact" think I'll go back tomorrow again.

This chap who with us writes all the lyrics for Ziegfeld's Follies.

After the show we went to the Lamb's club for a regular feed served by the actors of the show, most of them members of the club. They are the most human people you could imagine.

After the feed the fun began. Irwin S. Cobb got off a lot of funny stuff that brought down the house. Remick played and sang his very newest songs and also played the old A. E. F. favorites that he had written while every one sang, and believe me he has written a bunch of them.

Augusta Parker, a famous psychologist, gave us a wonderful talk.

Wilton Lackaye came across with another and a dozen other, song writers, playwrights and actors, added a bit. Altogether it was most enjoyable: They wound up by telling us that they were doing it, not because they were proud of the stunts or of themselves, but because they considered it an honor to have us there. That got to us and we stood up and gave them three cheers that shook the roof.

We shook hands all around and were taken back to the hospital with an invitation to call at the club now or fifty years from now and we would always receive a warm welcome.

I saw "A prince There Was," at the Geo. M. Cohan theatre. My box seat was marked $15.00.

I didn't write yesterday. We enjoyed the Lamb's club so much that yesterday 10 of us went to the Aldine club for a dinner. It proved to be a Liberty Loan meeting and all the talk was in hundreds of thousands. "But" the dinner was good. In the evening saw boxing and wrestling at the hospital, put on by K. of C., and at 10 p. m. a bunch of us went to the Friars' club to see Cannefox play De Oro for the championship of the world at three cushion billiards and had a feed afterwards. They are another bunch of regular guys. Geo. M. Cohan, Irwin Belaire fair examples.

At last I am on my way west. Am somewhere west of Harrisburg, Pa. Left New York at 5 a. m.

Were loaded in ambulances, taken to the pier, put on board a ferry, taken to Hoboken, N. J., and loaded on a hospital train on the Pennsylvania R. R. The whole proceeding took only one and one-half hours.

Stopped at Philadelphia and at Harrisburg for an hour. Passed up a dozen other small cities as though they were not there. It seemed as though everybody in those two cities knew we were coming. They got on the train at one end and came thru and almost every one had something to give us, fruit, candy, smokes and flowers enough to bury the train. When we pulled out we looked like a mixture of a funeral and Xmas.

There are some Red Cross ladies who are going from New York to Camp Lewis with us. Some from Philadelphia who are going to Pittsburgh, where, I suppose more will come aboard.

The lower berthes have been removed from these Pullmans and regular hospital beds substituted. We are as comfortable as it is possible to make us. Are travelling via Pittsburgh and Chicago. Were supposed to stop in Chicago four hours but on account of rain only stopped one. Made our four-hour stop at Omaha, one hour at Fort Wayne, also Council Bluffs, Kearney, Nebraska, also Grand Island. Wish you could see this car. It is loaded with flowers. We have them tied to everything and stuck on the woodwork with adhesive plaster.

BEND BANK AIDS RAISING OF PIGS.

BEND, May 17.—The First National Bank of Bend this week began its campaign for a Pig club in Deschutes county. As a starter the bank will advocate one pig on every 40 acres in Central Oregon. The boys and girls of the district will be interested first in this club. The bank will buy the pigs with the understanding that every boy and girl will strive to bring the pig to market next fall.

MERRILL SAILOR IS BACK FROM TURKEY

MERRILL, May 17.—S. E. Enman arrived home Saturday from Constantinople. He has been firing on the U. S. S. Western Belle, which left Portland, December 3, 1918 with a cargo of flour for the hungry Europeans. The Western Belle was the second American vessel to go thru the Dardanelles and barely escaped running into a German mine at the entrance to the channel. Sam brought home a number of souvenirs, among them, a three inch shell and a knife such as are used by the Turks.

IT'S A POOR DOCTOR Who Won't Take His Own Medicine

THAT'S WHY WE ARE USING THIS SPACE TO TELL YOU WHAT JOLLY LITTLE BUSINESS STIMULATORS HERALD WANT ADS ARE—AND WHY THEY GET RESULTS

THERE IS NO GUESSWORK about a Herald Want Ad. They do the business. We know they pay. Our customers have told us so time and again. We have used them ourselves and they have never failed to get results. They are the short cut to a quick turn-over—the modern method of merchandising on a small scale, where the value of the article to be sold or the importance of the want to be filled will not justify a heavy outlay.

If you had something to sell, trade or give away and went out on the street and told each person you met about what you wanted to do, you might get results—but the people you talked to would be very likely to say: "That poor fish has bats in his belfry." If, on the other hand, you used a Want Ad, you would talk to the whole country at once, instead of only one person, and do it in a businesslike manner.

The same rule applies to hiring help, renting a house, looking for a job, or any one of the important little incidents of life where you must call in the assistance of someone outside your immediate family. You MIGHT get results by telling your troubles to the neighbors—but the certain, quick and economical way is to use a little classified ad.

Do you want to buy, sell or trade, want to hire help or find work; do you want to find a room, a house to rent, or to rent the same to someone else; do you want to call attention to some new feature of your business, seek information on some subject, or have you any little unfilled want?
