THANK YOU!

Following from the Oregon Enterprise, shows that we are to get strong support from the Astoria valley. It voices a new sentiment, which we hope to see prevail in that section of the state: We take it that every resident of Oregon is proud of his own state, and he would be moving on to some more satisfying to his personal desires. We are to pull together for the benefit of Oregon, we must take a broad view that whatever helps the development of the state is going to benefit to the entire commonwealth, and we should not refuse our assent to any legitimate proposal on the ground that it is of no immediate benefit to our own town and county. In Eastern Oregon, separated from us by a range of mountains, are thousands of acres of land of great value. These lands are arid, when irrigated they produce great crops and add much to the wealth, some estimates place the increase to the taxable wealth of the state as high as $10,000,000.

Many Eastern and Central Oregon communities have bonded themselves to pay the cost of bringing water to these broad acres, and because of the manipulation of bond buyers, these bonds have been sold in some instances, notably at Vale, in Malheur county, for 90 cents on the dollar. The residents of that enterprising section have lost $75,000 on a single district bond issue of $750,000, and this money might just as well have been saved to the people of Malheur, instead of going into the pockets of the rich bond brokers. The market value of the lands has been pounded down because no one but the settlers themselves and their holdings were back of the bonds.

The legislature, recognizing the injustice to the people who are working hard to build up homes for themselves and their posterity, has submitted to the people at the special election June 3rd next, a constitutional amendment which, in substance, that the state shall lend its credit to guarantee the interest on irrigation and drainage bonds whenever an individual project shall have received the approval of a commission consisting of the state engineer, the attorney general and the state superintendent of banks.

Under the terms of the amendment the state will pay the interest on the bonds for the first five years after the date of issue. The bonds will be issued by the state, which will mean they will be sold for not less than par and the state will pay the interest for not to exceed five years and the amendment provides that the state is to be reimbursed, with interest, six months after the maturity of the bonds.

This appears to us to be a fair measure. Western Oregon, generally knows little of irrigation, and many of its residents, unfortunately, care less. This is all wrong. If we are to build up our state we should make it possible for the eastern part of Oregon to work out its own salvation and meet its own problems on a business basis. We are asked only to lend the money needed, at the legal rate of interest, and ample provision is made for its repayment. Vote 304 YES.

TRUCKS FINISH RAPID JOURNEY

RECORD TIME IS MADE BY ATTERBURY TRUCKS IN COMING FROM PORTLAND. NO ADJUSTMENTS WERE NEEDED EN ROUTE

A truck performance that set all of the dealers agog was completed yesterday afternoon when G. R. Bemis and Fred V. Couch rolled up in front of The Herald office with two big 3 1/2 ton Atterbury trucks which they had just piloted from Portland. They left that city Thursday afternoon, coming by way of The Dalles, Bend, Crescent, Beaver Marsh, and Chiloquin, arriving here a little afternoon yesterday. During all of the trip they never used a wrench on either machine, with the exception of adjusting two spark plugs, and they ate that some of the roads they travelled were holy terrors. Both machines were mounted with Firestone tires, and they looked as if they were just put on in view of the fact that the highways covered are just being opened up, the record made by these two machines will stand for some time.

The Atterbury Truck, which is handled in this territory by the Howe Garage, is one of the leaders in the truck family. Those brought in by Messrs Bemis and Couch are to be used as a seven mile lumber haul, these gentlemen having a contract with the Dwinell Lumber company to handle the output from their mill to Macdoel. These trucks are fitted with lumber rolls, dump sheets and buck-boards. When the truck reaches its destination, the lumber is rolled off until it balances, when the truck is driven ahead, dropping the material on the ground.

COAST MAY GET FAIR FREIGHT RATE

PORTLAND, May 21—Equalization of freight rates for foreign trade between Atlantic and Pacific ports will result from a conference of western representatives of the foreign trade convention with officials of the railroad administration, it promises of the later are fulfilled.

This is the message brought to Portland by City Attorney W. P. La-

Roche, who attended the western trade convention and the conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce, held in Chicago and New York. Mr. LaRoche represented the Portland Dock commission at the eastern conference.

The conference of western representatives with officials of the railroad administration, according to Mr. LaRoche, followed an announcement that a differential of 80 cents on iron and steel good in favor of Atlantic ports had been granted by the railroad administration. Following the conference the officials of the railroad administration promised to equalize the rates if it could be shown that the differential diverted traffic to eastern ports.

OLD JOHN BROWN'S RIG IS SOLD AT IOWA CITY.

IOWA CITY, May 21—While John Brown's body lies a moldering in the grave, his carriage has gone marching on all these years, and a few days ago was placed on sale at a closing out auction of livery stock and disposed of for a paltry sum of money here in Iowa City.

to drive across country from his early home in West Branch, he always used a certain closed carriage. It is said, a very fine carriage, he saw for those pre-war days, and many a time he "put up" at the old country home which held a prominent position on the down town street in Iowa City as it was in the early days.

When weary he to the Hot Spring Bath House.
