VIENNA PRESS SAYS ITALIANS ROB GALLERIES

VIENNA (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The Vienna press is making violent protests against the Italian claims for works of art, declaring that the Italians are introducing old Napoleonic methods of robbing galleries.

Professor Paolo d'Ancona of Milan, who is at the head of the Italian Art Mission, told the correspondent of The Associated Press that the whole matter had been laid before the Peace conference for decision, and that the Italians so far are only placing the works of art under sequestration so that they may be protected in case of bolshevik attempts to destroy, steal or resell them, as happened with the Hermitage Gallery, at Petrograd. The Italians feared this might be the fate of the Budapest gallery containing such priceless works as Raphael's Madonna.

Professor d'Ancona stated that the Italian claims fall under three heads: First, indemnities for art works valued at $10,000,000 destroyed by the Austrians in Italy during the war, including the air raids at Venice, Ancona, Padua, Ravenna and other points; second, works which have been stolen from Italy in the past; third, works which logically belong to territory now occupied by Italy or about to become her property, including Pola, Lissa Island and Fiume.

There are also provisional claims for Italy's share which belong to her historically in case the museums of Vienna and Budapest should be divided among the nations of the former empire, the Czech having already submitted a similar claim.

Professor d'Ancona said that among the works of art restitution of which is demanded by Italy are 18 paintings, of which only one is not Italian, the exception being the larger of two portraits of Rembrandt. These 18 works have been valued at about $5,000,000. Other notable works claimed are Raphael's "Madonna del Prato," "Jupiter and Io," by Correggio; five other Correggio's of the 20 that are in the Austrian Imperial museum; Titian's "Madonna Dele Cilegge"; Moretti's "San Giusina," and two Tintoretto's, one being "Susanna and the Elders."

Among second class works alleged to have been stolen from Italy and included in the Hof museum collection is the famous Florentine Diamond which Italians claim as part of the treasures of Tuscany carried off by Princess Anna Medici, contrary to agreement when nearly two centuries ago she renounced the Tuscan throne in order to become Empress of Austria. There is also a collection of Venetian arms and manuscripts and Italian war trophies which the Italians claim have been stolen at various times but which Austria has always refused to restore.

Regarding the 150 paintings which the Italians took in February, it is stated that the Austrians have admitted the justice of Italy's claims to them as these works were alleged to have been stolen from Austria after the downfall of Napoleon.

SHE'S MY GIRL.

I got a letter Yesterday
An' it said
That she (She's my girl)—
That she just heard
That I was in the hospital.
An' both
My arms were shot off.
An' she (She's my girl)—
An' she said
She was prostrated
An' that she'd
Take care of me
When I got back,
Dearest.
An' it was signed,
Helen.
An' she's my girl
An' I ain't in
The hospital
An' both my arms
Are on.
But she
Can take care of me
When I get back
An' besides
I'll show her
That my arms
Ain't shot off
When I
Get home.

GERMAN ARSENAL IN BAD CONDITION

BERLIN—The state arsenal at Spandau, which has been shut down by the government has shown monthly deficits of 35,000.00 marks for the past several months. Estimates for April, May and June indicated a further total operating loss of 60,000.000. Attempts to utilize the gigantic plant for peace production are unsuccessful in its present condition and it will have to be dismantled and re-equipped.

The arsenal, which in peace time employed 9,000 hands and in the past few years engaged 40,000 workers, has since the revolution developed into a hotbed of radicalism. Communist leaders openly engaged in the intimidation of other workers, threatening them with boycott and other forms of terrorism. It is stated also that the plant has been grossly mismanaged which gradually brought on a state of passive resistance and insubordination among the workers.

The trees will be marked by the American Forestry Association and registered on the national honor roll being compiled by the association.

As each tree is placed and the marker with the name put around the tree a hero's name will be called out while a Georgetown aviator circles above.
