Why So Many Prefer the Brunswick

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction is the wonder of the phonographic art. And it wins acclaim from two principal ideas: The Ultona and The Brunswick Tone Amplifier.

The Ultona is an exclusive invention, an all-record player to be had only on the Brunswick. It plays all makes of records as they should be played—with the proper needle and the precise weight—and with the proper diaphragm.

The Brunswick Tone Amplifier is built entirely of wood, according to a new process. In this "Throat" of the phonograph all metal is discarded. This brings purity and volume of tone. There is an absence of the usual metallic sounds. You've never heard any record at its best until it is played on The Brunswick.

A tone test at a Brunswick shop is conclusive evidence. Your ear is a quick judge.

Your admiration for this superior phonograph will compel you to award The Brunswick first place. Come in today. Your judgment is final.

At the Theaters

David W. Griffith, master producer, scored another artistic triumph when his latest Artcraft photoplay of love and war, "The Greatest Thing in Life," was presented before an enthusiastic audience at the Star theatre yesterday. The photoplay introduces dainty Lillian Gish, one of the most charming screen players in the country, Robert Harron and other notable players, all of whom appear to excellent advantage in this remarkable production.

What is "the greatest thing in life?" The title, which may appear as unusually comprehensive, is suggested by the theme of the play. The greatest thing is somewhat different to nearly every person; but Mr. Griffith has selected what he believes to be the greatest thing for the majority of persons, as the foundation for a drama of fascinating variety and arresting strength.

"Peck's Bad Girl," Mabel Normand's newest Goldwyn Picture, gives the vivacious artiste a role certain to delight her tremendous local following when the spirited comedy-drama is presented at the Star Theatre beginning Sunday.

A sweetheart and a job bring a marked change in the life of Mabel Penelope Peck (played by Mabel Normand). Before the arrival of Richard Hayes in Yaptank the villagers have been roused to desperate deeds by the daily pranks of Mabel. But when Richard begins to "shine up" to her Mabel decides she wants to be more like other girls. So she gets a job as assistant to a milliner in the village.

Before long Mabel makes a discovery that the cellar under the store is being used for some strange purpose. Suspicious, she goes into the cellar and finds a tunnel has been drilled thru two of the buildings adjoining the store. Mabel returns to the store and tells her employer, Harrison. Harrison is packing up for a hasty departure, saying to Mabel the milliner's frequent talks with two slick strangers. Mabel seeks an explanation for the sudden decision to leave. A light is shed on which Harrison is working.

One of the oldest, most beautiful and most picturesque of "wheel" towns, Gloucester, Mass., was shown by Nazimova and All of Van Ham, her director, as the place best fitted for many of the scenes in "Out of the Fog," the latest Nazimova production in which this noted star will be seen at the Liberty theatre on Sunday and Monday.

This old fishing town, the home of the famous clipper ships and the pride and glory of Yankee Captains, has been sung in song and story and is the place where Kipling wrote his greatest adventure of the sea, "Captains Courageous," and where he made his home while he lived in America. It is a town filled with the romances and traditions of the sea and retains the customs and manners of over a century of seafaring people. These manners and customs have crept into the pictures taken here and make "Out of the Fog" a vivid piece of realism—a real story of real fisherfolk.

YANKEE FORM METHODS ADOPTED IN GREECE

CRETE, MAY 24—American scientific agriculturists are now completing a survey of the soil possibilities of Crete in the same thorough fashion in which they surveyed the Greek mainland. American farming machinery and up-to-date methods are needed and arrangements have been made to educate the farmers of Greece and Crete so that they can increase their yield of crops. Major C. G. Hopkins of the Illinois Agricultural Department, and Lieutenant G. J. Bouyoucos, a native Greek educated in America and a former instructor at Michigan Agricultural College, are in charge of the American Red Cross agricultural survey of Greece and Crete.
