ROSEBURG GETS CUT TO CRATER LAKE

ROSEBURG, Ore., May 26.—County officials, headed by County Judge Marsters, have returned from a visit to the Tiller-Crater lake cut-off road and bring a promise for the proposed construction of that road. The government makes an appropriation for the highway to be met by a like sum by the county. The trip was made for the purpose of deciding whether or not to accept the offer. It shortens the route from this city to Crater Lake by several miles, and for tourists arriving from the East, it makes a difference of over 90 miles, if they wish to come north over this cut-off instead of having to detour to Medford and then come to Roseburg along the Pacific highway. This route is much more feasible for the Pacific highway, and had the state highway commissioners visited this section according to the officials' report, they undoubtedly would have routed the highway here instead of thru the Canyon creek canyon, as it very materially shortens the distance between Roseburg and Medford and the entire grade is an easy one.

WIERD STORY BY ACCUSED DESERTER

CAMP LEWIS, Mass., May 26.—A tale that rivaled anything ever screened to the movies was told by Paul J. Nace of Castle Pt. when he was placed on trial before a general court martial here charged with deserting from the 101st field artillery.

Nace swore that one "Rudolph Groggson" and "Louis B. Newman" shanghaied him out of his compartment drugged him, placed him aboard a German submarine that had a base somewhere off the Virginia coast, where he swam three miles to Fort Storey, Va. He said this was done to obtain plans of inventions he had made while working as an aviation mechanic.

Officers at Fort Storey admitted they saw him swim ashore.
