STEINER GOES HIGHER.

The friends of Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner in this city will be glad to learn of the increasing confidence that is being placed in him by the people of the state. The following from the Oregonian will meet with cordial endorsement here:

"Dr. Steiner has been superintendent of the state asylum for the insane at Salem thru a long term of years. He has survived changing political administrations, without a serious suggestion or effort from any quarter that he be replaced. It is a record made, we believe, by few public officials in Oregon. Certainly no other superintendent of the asylum in a generation has long survived the political life of the appointing power. It appeared to be taken for granted, prior to the Steiner regime, that a change for the better could always be made. It was not sound policy, of course, and not true, besides, but the public manifested no special interest in the matter, and the patients were in no position to register an effective protest.

"Now Dr. Steiner is projected into the management of penitentiary management. It is not easy to understand why there has always been internal trouble at the state's prison, and none for 10 or 12 years at the asylum, unless Steiner is the explanation. It is a reasonable hypothesis that he is in large part the explanation. He is not only a physician of skill, replete and experience with the fine personal quality of human sympathy, but he is both an organizer and a diplomat. He has made of the asylum the prize public institution of Oregon for orderliness, economy and efficiency; and he has given his unfortunate charges, thru himself and a competent staff, the highest measure of scientific treatment. What he has done there it is now assumed that he can and will do at the prison.

"It is a difficult job. It is agreed that the convicts are poorly housed, and that most animals in Oregon in their pens or barns are physically far better off. There is much cause for irritation among the men on that account; but it must be agreed also that they have been coddled and humored a great deal too much by exponents of the new idea as to criminals and their responsibilities and rights. The result is that the temper of the prisoners, or many of them, is rebellious, and the atmosphere for discipline is bad. Any reform leading to more rigid control is likely to meet with many obstacles from within, not to say a renewed outburst of mistaken and misdirected protest from without.

"Yet, from his record the prison inmates should and will know that Superintendent Steiner will deal with them justly and humanely. They can hardly ask more; the state will not expect less. Under the backing of a governor who will insist that the state, and not the inmates, must control the prison the prospect that Superintendent Steiner will perform the same meritorious service there that he did at the neighboring place is favorable."

CHANGE OF PRICES AT THE LIBERTY.

Owing to an additional war tax of 5 per cent having been placed on picture films which is placing a heavy burden on the theatre people as they already bear a straight 10 per cent tax on admissions, it is necessary that part of this tax be borne by Theatre has paid the entire war tax but the extra tax makes it impossible to do this. However by the new plan the afternoon prices remain the same as before, namely ten and twenty cents. In the evening the prices will be ten and twenty five cents for the regular shows, subject to variation on special attractions.

SHASTA VIEW

M. Loventik and surveyor Humphrey of Klamath Falls were busy in the Lake Lake vicinity one day last week surveying laterals which are already carrying water to a 200-acre tract of land.

Mary and Ada Hunt spent last week in Klamath Falls visiting friends and attending the chautauqua which they pronounce most interesting and instructive. We believe the people in many rural districts are availing themselves of this privilege more each season.

C. A. Hayden of Klamath Falls was a business visitor in this section one day last week. He was accompanied by his wife.

Simms and Ernst are busy these days rounding up their bronchos for the big show at Ashland the 4th. Judging from the teams and tractors still busy on the lake front we believe quite an amount of grain will yet be sown this season.

The ladies of the Helping Hand Society were being entertained Wednesday by Mrs. G. W. Myers. At the last meeting, held at Mrs. Chandler's there were fifteen present and three new members added to our number, namely, Mrs. C. C. Miller, Mrs. O. E. Hunt and Mrs. Macken.

TRADE CONDITIONS IN OREGON BEST

PORTLAND, June 6.—Trade conditions in Oregon are placed in the highest class in the June classification of trade conditions in the United States by A. W. Douglas, chairman of the bureau of trade statistics of the United States Chamber of Commerce. In May only the Willamette valley was placed in the high class. The statistics are published monthly in the magazine, the Nation's Business.

The state of Washington is nearly wholly placed in the second class, as only the Puget sound district and that section of the state tributary to Portland are classed on a par with Oregon. The entire United States is placed in three classes and in the entire Northwest only one small section in Northern Montana is placed in the lowest class.

BASKET DINNER AT KENO NEXT SUNDAY

The Christian Church of Klamath Falls will have Sunday School and preaching service on the river near Keno next Sunday. All are invited. We have provided motor busses and automobiles for the Sunday school, and likely there will be room for many more. For those who feel able to pay, a charge of 55c will be made for transportation—round trip. All who have cars are requested to use them and take as many with you as possible. Bring your cars to the church. We will leave the church at 9; we will have Sunday school on the river at 10, church services at 11, and dinner at 12. Bring your dinner and have a pleasant day with us. C. F. TRIMBLE, Pastor

Mr. J. Hartman, cement contractor, located at 538 Pine st., is now ready for business. Mr. Hartman comes here highly recommended as a first class mechanic in every respect. It would be well for those wanting first class work in this line to interview him before going elsewhere. Look for his advertisement on page 7 of this paper. 6-1

FOUR FATALITIES FROM ROAD RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—St. Molinaro, injured during the 300-mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway Saturday, is in a dying condition at the Methodist hospital, it was stated today.

Molinaro, who home is in Newark,

N. J., suffered a fractured skull and other injuries when Arthur Thurman of Washington, D. C., was killed when his car was wrecked by a "dished" wheel. Hospital physicians say there is little chance for the recovery of Molinaro and his death would bring the list of fatalities to four.

The body of Thurman was sent to his old home at Chattanooga, Tenn.,
