

At the Theaters

Bessie Barriscale, the Taralia star playing in "The White Lie" at the Liberty theatre tonight believes in the play with a moral. She likes the story of every day life that shows how really big our petty weaknesses are.

"The White Lie" written by William Parker and adapted for the screen by Julian Louis Lamothe, is a story very much to Miss Barriscale's liking. It pictures in a forceful manner the unhappiness and tragedy that can be brought about by a guilty conscience.

Dorothy Kinsley, the role portrayed by Miss Barriscale, demed children and realizing she was losing the love of her husband, adopts a baby during his protracted absence in Belgium. When he returns he assumes the child is theirs, and for years Dorothy keeps her secret, realizing she can never tell the truth for her husband would never forgive her for her deception.

One dramatic situation after the other is built around the husband's unjust suspicion of his wife, and his plan to wring from her a confession by playing on that inhuman jailer—conscience.

Appearing for the first time in her screen career in what is generally termed a "western" photoplay, Elsie Ferguson was seen with great effect in her newest Arterart picture, "Heart of the Wilds," at the Star Theatre last night. This is a splendid picturization of Pierre of the Plains, a stage play by Edgar Cowen, in which Miss Ferguson scored a pronounced hit in New York six years ago.

The versatility of Miss Ferguson was never displayed to finer advantage than in this superb story. As customary as she has been in the continuation of subtle roles, such as Nora in "A Doll's House," which was recently seen here, and similar strong photoplays, it is a distinct novelty for her admirers to see her in a photoplay of the West, in which she does daredevil riding and other stunts so often seen in red blooded plays of the western variety. It will be repeated tonight.

Roy Stewart is scheduled to be the attraction at the Temple theatre on Sunday night in "The Silent Rider," a Western drama dealing with the activities of cattle rustlers.

As Bob Gordon, a member of that iron-nerved organization of snuff-takers, known as the Texas Rangers, Stewart takes a job on the ranch of Jim Carson, Incognito. He obtains evidence against Merrill, foreman of the ranch, and is called upon to do some quick and rather accurate snuff shooting to come out with a whole skin. Incidentally one of Stewart's most pleasant tasks is that of solving love to pretty Ethel Fleming and rescuing her from "Ner" Kalmayuk, Merrill.

Miss Fleming bears a remarkably resemblance to Mary Pickford. All the cowpunchers are calling her "Our Western Mary" since Miss Fleming is rather modest about accepting the compliment.

With "Shogrinks" Jones, "Slim Jim" Austin, "Saw-Rail" Elliot and "Nervous" Canon and "Sleepy Faw" Whitmore, the comedy end of Harvey's Greater Minstrels would be superior to other similar shows without Clarence Powell, Ed Tulliver and Frank Kirk. After all they cannot be too much comedy in a concert provided of course it is enjoyable and of an interesting kind.

Manager Hoover is highly proud of all the new he has secured, and although it is expensive to his high salaries to so many clever people, yet it is a lot of satisfaction to the manager to feel assured that no matter where the Harvey Greater Minstrels play, it is going to please the patrons.

Kirk's performance is clever but likewise is the work of Alton Moore the man of much mystery, the four old men dancing number and the comedy aerobatic buck and wing dancing of Buster Miller.

This company will be at the Opera House two days Tuesday and Wednesday June 10 and 11.

CONVENTION BAPTISTS HERE

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF SOUTHERN OREGON AND NORTHERN CALIFORNIA TO BE HELD HERE NEXT WEEK

The annual convention of the Southern Oregon and Northern California Baptist Association is to be held at the First Baptist Church of this city on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of next week.

Special Evangelist A. F. Marshall of Portland will be here to take a message to this convention and it is expected that delegates will be present from all over the district. A large number of important matters are to be brought up at this gathering and in view of the fact that planning to come to Klamath Falls next August. Will the railroad make special value for the occasion? This question has now been settled. Klamath Falls is centrally located there will probably be an unusually large meeting. Three sessions will be held each day, commencing at ten in the morning, two in the afternoon and eight in the evening.

MOTHS ATE FAR TOO MANY APPLES

PELLICAN, Wash., June 7.—The damage to the crops of Washington last year suffered, losses from pestilence which amounted to $100,000,000, has been estimated by the department of agriculture in the Washington State college, who recently returned from a trip of investigation thru the apple districts of the state. At least four-fifths of this loss, Dr. Mendenhall declared, could have been avoided by proper methods of spraying.

U. S. MEN WILL DEMONSTRATE PLAN OF GRAIN GRADING

LEWISTOWN, Mont., June 7.—Representatives of the United States department of agriculture are to attend a meeting to be held here July 15 and 19, when the Northwestern Grain Dealers' association will be in session, and will explain and demonstrate federal grain grading to the delegates.

Later they will visit the principal grain points of the state, for the same demonstration.

A large attendance is expected at the meeting of the grain men which will be attended by farmers and men of affairs as well as grain men.

DIG FOR MASTADON ON PALOUSE FARM

SPOKANE, June 7.—Excavation work on the ground believed to overlie the bones of a mastadon in the southeast part of Spokane county on the old Copelan farm will be carried on in June and July, according to announcement by W. S. Lewis of the board of trustees of the Eastern Washington Historical society, which will excavate the skeleton for the Spokane museum.

A skeleton found at this place in 1878 when assembled, stood more than 13 feet high. It is now on display in the Chicago Academy of Science.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Days inside-bathing makes any one look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wake yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. It is the most important because the star pores do not absorb impurities like the blood, causing illness, while the bowels purge do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it builds up poisons and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or soaked into the blood stream through the lymph ducts which should be only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink before breakfast every day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a harmless way to wash the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and to keep a clean and pure on the morning's activities. It is the most effective remedy for constipation, indigestion, and for putting more food into the stomach.

A morning glass of limestone phosphate water is very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make someone an enthusiast on inside health. Men wake up with a dull, aching head or heavy, lured tongue, bad teeth, hoarse breath, salivary congestion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.—Adv.
