At the Theaters

At the Star Theatre tonight there is a splendid bill, headed by winsome Enld Rennett in her newest Paramount photoplay Naughty Naughty quite as affuring as the title indicates. Written especially by C. Gardper Sullivan, the production was dipeted by Jerome Storm under the personal supervision of Thomas H Ince himself. The story is full of laughs from start to finish and contains many new and unexpected twists of plot. Other items on the program are Fatty Arbuckle in "The Sheriff. . . .

Why Germany Must Pag." the great Screen Classics, Inc., production to be shown today at the Liberty theatre is a play at the timeliest deeription, dealing with the ideals of the world which ruthless Germany has wantonly destroyed and for which she must be made to pay in it tells the story of how a young Alsatian, serving in the German army is horrified at how his officers and fellow soldiers have developed from the men he knew them to be before the war into flends let home to revage and destroy the happiness of the world. How women and can't no are their rightful prov and was remither ideals or religion hold place is their debased hearts. Atmost insame with the horror of it all and were and escapes to like for the North End Hot Springs Addition, term of freedom and right.
