THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1919.

A TALE IN THREE CHAPTERS.

CHAPTER I

(Point one, of the Fourteen points of President Wilson, January 8, 1918.)Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understandings of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view.

CHAPTER II

(From a Paris dispatch to the Associated Press, June 7, 1919.)President Wilson, interviewed by a Paris newspaper Friday, declared his conviction that the peace treaty handed to the Germans violates none of his principles and conforms in its entirety with his fourteen points.

CHAPTER III

(Cablegram of President Wilson to Senator Hitchcock, June 9, 1919.)I have felt that it was largely undesirable officially to communicate the text of a document which is still in negotiation and subject to change.
Anyone who has possession of the official English text has what he is clearly not entitled to have or to communicate.

CONCLUSION

"An open covenant of peace openly arrived at" with Germany is the private business of President Wilson and his fellow delegates, and is none of the business of the United States senate, nor of the American people until it shall have been submitted to Germany, conveyed by them to the German people and signed by them.
—Oregonian.SOUTHERN OREGON PUBLICITY COMBINEASHLAND, June 12.—The first step towards Southern Oregon's part in the publicity of the state was taken at a meeting of five representatives each from the commercial clubs of the towns of Grants Pass, Medford, and Ashland, held in Ashland last week.Plans for a publicity campaign to be jointly conducted by an auxiliary organization of these clubs, to be known as the Southern Oregon association were mapped out. The object is to acquaint the tourist with the climate and scenic advantages of this section. An effort to interest the state in developing post and scenic roads and forest trails will be pushed. The next meeting will be held in Medford June 17. Mr. Bramble of Grants Pass was elected chairman and V. O. N. Smith of Ashland secretary.COUNTIES TO GET FUNDS
FOR FAIRSSALEM, Or., June 12.—Each county in Oregon will receive a substantial sum for county fairs, land products shows or livestock expositions, according to the apportionment of state funds which has just been set by Sam A. Koser, deputy secretary of state. The apportionment is made by virtue of a law passed at the 1913 session which levies one-twentieth of a mill for this purpose. Each county is given its share of this money, based upon the amount of taxes produced. The law stipulates that no county shall receive more than $15, 000 in any one year.Koser's figures show that the total taxable property in Oregon for 1918 was $887,528,886.77. The total amount apportioned for fairs and expositions is $43,574.67. Multnomah county's apportionment is in excess of $17,000 but because of the $15-000 limitation, the additional $2,000 is apportioned equally among the other counties of the state. Klamath County will receive $521.21.

At the Theaters

"The Call of Her People," the marvellous screen adaptation of Edward Sheldon's play "Egypt", in which Ethel Barrymore is the star and which will be seen at the Liberty Theatre tonight is the first of a series of Metro features of size and lavishness to be produced during 1919.Announcement of the productions was made in January by President Richard A. Rowland of Metro, and work on "The Call of Her People" was begun soon afterward. Miss Barrymore and her company went to Florida for the exterior scenes.
The cost of "The Call of Her People" was more than $100,000, and 600 actors appeared before the camera for it.Miss Barrymore considers her role of Egypt, the gypsy girl, the greatest of her screen career. In it she has unusual opportunities for displaying her great dramatic power. She is supported by Robert Whitler, who won praise in "The Awakening of Helena Richie," and William B. Davidson who, as The Stranger in "The White Raven," scored a great triumph."The Savage Woman" contains many elaborately produced scenes, costly and marvelously staged. See Clara Kimball Young amid the wild beauties of the African jungle, as the reincarnated queen of Sheba in the ruined splendor of an ancient palace and as a half-famed thing amid the artificialities of Parisian high life at the Star Theatre tonight.
