

Willowy Women Want Silhouettes

Flaring lines which in reality are the inverted drapes are back in the newest silhouette. All of which means that the straight line frocks are about to bid a hasty adieu. This summer lace affair has its white satin straight skirt, but it is camouflaged beneath a shirt of linen pleated in narrow tucks. The lace overdrapes for the flare is a tunic extension from the elaborate yoke, caught at the waist with a narrow girde of French blue ribbon and a spray of buds. The summer hat is faced with blue to match the girde.

ANOTHER IRISH CARUSO FOUND

LONDON, June 26.—Thomas Burke is the name of a new tenor claimed by the British press and public as another Caruso. The strange tale came to light in the opening of the Grand Opera House season, when Mrs. Mella appeared in "The Bohemians." Mr. Burke was born in 1884 near Cork in a family where he was all but neglected in his infancy. At 10 he was sent to a school in Lehigh, where he was educated, he also taught himself the violin. Later he studied in Italy under Francesco Colli.

CARRIER PIGEON LIKES KLAMATH

GENTLE BIRD BECOMES SO ATTRACTED BY KLAMATH COUNTY SCENERY THAT POSTPONES TRIP

William Swift, who resides on the Klamath Indian Reservation in the Yainax district was greatly surprised Saturday evening when a friendly carrier pigeon came to his home. The bird had a silver band on the right foot on which was inscribed

2219 A. It was on the left foot that a hand

inscribed the number 303 the third same

This is the first instance of a carrier pigeon stopping in Klamath County as far as is known and there is a considerable interest manifested in the circumstances of the bird's trip and destination.

It is not unusual to hear stories of all kinds delay and exclaim over the beauty of this section in the summer season but to have a carrier pigeon apparently drop off on an important errand to stop indefinitely is going some, even for Klamath.

Are you getting ready? Why, don't you know that the Eiks are coming on August 14, 15 and 16? Now get busy
