THE LAND OF MYSTERY

Mr. Dawley went back to the Dawn of Time to bring before our very eyes the animals that lived when history began. How did he do it? Where did he go? How did he return? The answer is "The Ghost of Slumber Mountain."

Zane Grey, author of "Riders of the Purple Sage," "Rainbow Trail," "The Light of Western Stars" and numerous other stories will appear in Person

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

LOOK YOUNG! BRING BACK ITS NATURAL COLOR, GLOSS AND ATTRACTIVENESS

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 5-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just damping a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

PULLMAN GRADUATES OWN THEIR OWN FARMS

PULLMAN, Wash., July 3.—That the large majority of the students taking the agricultural course at the Washington State college expect to go back to the farm and to own or manage farms after a period of five years after graduation, is shown in the answers to an inquiry put out by Edward C. Johnson, dean of the college of agriculture.

Seventy-five of the hundred and fifteen students enrolled in agriculture during the spring term just closed answered in detail the question as to their plans for the future. Fifty-one of these students were reared in the country, and twenty-four in towns. Out of this number only one student owns a farm now, but fifty-five, or seventy-three percent, expect to own or control a farm within a period of five years after completing their college course. Thirteen of the number expect to inherit a farm, and five of the thirteen were reared in town.

Every one of the students who did not expect to own or control a farm, was planning to do work of an agricultural nature, such as club work for boys and girls, county agent work, extension work in agriculture, official cow-testing work, or other employment associated with the business of farming.

Don't Hammer Your Tires Driving Against Stones

You would not strike your tires with a great hammer, but the same injury may result if you drive rapidly against a stone. Such a blow may fracture the carcass of the tire and a blowout result later.

It is always well to drive carefully over places where tires may be injured by some unexpected shock.

Tires should be regularly inspected and if any injury is discovered it should be repaired at once. Let us tell you ways to save much annoyance and unnecessary expense.
