At the Theatres

Two of the most thrilling hand-to-hand fights ever seen on the screen take place in "A Man's Country," starring Alma Rubens as a dance-hall queen in a rough western town of the early California gold-rush days. The picture is distributed by Exhibitors Mutual.

Huxley's Gulch was a rough hamlet and Kemp's dance-hall was a rough joint. Everybody toted a gun in the Gulch, and the handles of most of the six-shooters were notched. When they couldn't use a gun, they fought with their fists.

In the last reel Kate Carewe (Miss Rubens) is attacked by "Three-Card" Duncan (Len Chaney), a bad gambler, and Miss Rubens demonstrates that she's a "wild-cat," keeping the gambler as busy as a hairless dog in a bee-hive.

The big fight which follows this preliminary—when the pugnacious parson takes a hand and rescues Kate from "Three-Card"—is a corker. The preacher and the bad-man literally wreck the bar-room fixtures and glassware. The quantity of "bicker" spilled when they both crash into the bottled goods, bringing down the loaded shelves on their heads, generates joy in the gloomiest Prohib.

The production was made for Robertson-Cole by Winsome Stars Corporation under the direction of Henry Kolker. At the Liberty tonight.

Only in rare instances can a woman win a man's love by posing as a coquette. Stepping into the shoes of a notorious woman is the sole means by which the heroine of "When Men Desire," can find her way back into her lover's arms. The William Fox production, in which Theda Bara is starring, opens tomorrow at the Liberty Theatre.

Miss Bara plays the part of an innocent young woman who is kept a prisoner by jealous rivals. No matter what she does to escape, she is always caught. At last she dons the garments and the manners of a woman whose bad reputation is well known. Through her smiles and coquetry she wins the aid of some of the lovers of the woman she impersonates, and thus finds her true lover at last.

The picture is said to abound in hair-breadth escapes and thrilling situations.

A picturesque moving picture cowboy, who breaks into society with a bang and saves his sister's fortune in the nick of time is the character that Fred Stone, newest of Artercraft stars, impersonates in his new screen vehicle, "Johnny Get Your Gun," which was shown with unusual success at the Star Theatre yesterday.

This Artercraft picture is one hundred per cent. Fred Stone, which means it is one hundred per cent pep, fun and drama. Mr. Stone has literally bounded from a phenomenal success on the speaking stage to one equally as great on the screen. His wonderful ability as an eccentric comedian gets over life a million dollars on the silver sheet, and he has an excellent story in which to make his picture debut.

The story, "Johnny Get Your Gun," served Louis Bennison as a starring vehicle in the form of a musical comedy, and ran for a year in New York. In the picture its stunts and fun possibilities the undoubtedly realized to a far greater extent than they were on the stage. As for Mr. Stone, when he isn't making you laugh by his comery, he is doing daredevil stunts on horses, or on foot, or by walking on his hands in perilous places, that fairly take your breath away. The program will be repeated tonight.

"Daddy Long Legs", in which

Mary Pickford will be seen at the Star Theatre, starting Sunday, is filled with the most delicate and artistic imagery throughout. One of the most effective incidents deals with a comparison of the rearing of Judy Abbott, the orphan asylum girl, and Angelica Wyckoff, a spoiled rich child.

Judy, (Miss Pickford) the little girl, who, despite cruel treatment and bad living conditions in the asylum brings sunshine and aid to the smaller children is symbolized by a lily, rising from a dumping ground for old rubbish. Angelica is symbolized as a hot house rose, beautiful because of intense cultivation, but unable to stand the rigors of the ordinary out-of-doors.

The admirers of Pauline Frederick, the beautiful Paramount star, will be much interested in the announcement that her latest photoplay, "A Daughter of the Old South," will be shown at the Temple theatre Sunday and Monday. Miss Frederick portrays the role of a Creole girl in this splendid photoplay which was written by Alicia Ramsey and Rudolph de Cordova and her characterization is said to be essentially different from any which she heretofore has essayed in motion pictures.

MILITARY WORK URGED FOR ALL AMERICANN BOYS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—What is intended to be a nation-wide movement in advocacy of universal military service was inaugurated by the Military Training Camps Association here tonight with a dinner in the New Willard hotel and speeches by Senator James W. Wadsworth, of New York, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs; Senator Chamberlain of Oregon; and Representative Julius Kahn, of California.

The prepared speeches of Senator Wadsworth who presided and of Senator Chamberlain strongly emphasized the need for a trained citizen soldiery.

It was announced that Senator Chamberlain and Representative Kahn would introduce in Congress a bill drawn by Major Thomas Mellvaine, chairman of the committee on universal training of the Military Training Camps Association. This measure is to embody provisions for six months training in cantonments of all young men at the ages of eighteen or nineteen years, aliens to become automatically naturalized by completion of training.

Under this bill the regular army would be a "small professional force" and the National Guard would be "restored to its constitutional function" and could not be ordered out of the country without its own consent or that of the state authorities. The National Guard would be recruited from the men who had completed their six months of training. A certain number of men would be permitted to take their training in the navy, constituting a naval training force.

Veterans of the great war would be asked temporarily to constitute the reserve so as to transmit to the younger men their experiment and training.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs. Those who get up with a bad breath coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—Adv.
