Society

At a tea this afternoon Mrs. Thomas Hampton will entertain in honor of Mrs. C. J. Cason, who is visiting her brother, Carl Cummings, from Canton, Missouri. Mrs. Hampton will be assisted by Miss Margaret Cummings.

The invited guests are: Mesdames A. G. Cummings, C. J. Renier, Gus Krause, J. C. Brockenbrough, J. W. McCoy, Ross Sargent, R. S. Moore, Charles Eberlein, M. S. West, R. E. Wattenburg, A. M. Worden, Guy Manning, Miss Elizabeth McCurdy, J. J. Steiger, Mary McClure, Frank Davis, Ed Martin, Charles Martin, Fred Schlock, Fred Goeller, E. J. Murray, H. N. Moe, A. E. Whitman, H. E. Hauger and E. B. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Griffith, Klamath Falls pioneers, were given a surprise last night by a number of friends, who regret that they have made plans to spend the remainder of their lives in Ashland, where Mr. Griffith's health is much better. Mr. Griffith, who has been the pastor of the First Baptist church of this city for some time was presented at the party with a purse contributed by the members of his congregation.

The people who took part in the surprise were, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd DeLap, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Orem, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Griffith, Mrs. W. W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Buffy, Mrs. Charles DeLap, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. DeLap, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. West, Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Phoman, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. DeLap, Mrs. Stephen Griffith, Gladys Pool, Octavia DeLap, Fay West, Oran Milam, Mildred Lewis, Florence Dillard, Eva Dillard, Zena Dillard, Jay Haines, Darland Griffith, Zeva Griffith, Ada Bumb, Earl Bumb, Eileen Lewis, Ruth DeLap, and Virgil DeLap.

A unique dinner dance was given Thursday night by Miss Eleanor Torrey, in the garage at her home on 521 Alameda street. It was a rustic affair from decorations to refreshments. A big bon fire was built at the back of the garage and the guests toasted wienies and buns between dances.

Those who enjoyed this unusual garage dance were the Misses Myler Calkins, Gladys Pitcher, Anna Hacklin, Jean Ferry, Geraldine Watt, Alice McCurt, and Wilford Henry, Vernon Kesse, Jerome Henry, Ray Trimble, Roger Torrey, Edwin Driscoll, and Bernard Hacklin.

Miss Verda Cozad entertained the first of the week at a dinner party for Dr. Paul Noel on his 23d birthday. The birthday cake was the special feature of the occasion, with its dainty lighted candles and frosting decorations. Miss Waive Jacobs, Miss Verda Cozad, Eugene Robertson, Clyde Brown and Dr. Paul Noel were the guests.

The different departments of the Methodist church entertained on Thursday evening. The Junior choir, under the leadership of Katherine Upp, met for rehearsal, and later adjoined to the church parlor, where a jitney party was enjoyed. The members of the choir are: Mrs. Mary McClane, Francis McClane, Josie McClane, Constance Crystal, Maud Revenue, Ruby Revenue, Evelyn Whitmore, Eunice Covell, Katherine Walton, Beatrice Walton, Marion Wortley, Dorothea Wortley, Inez Hamrick, Elba Hamrick, Gertrude Smith, Lena Miller, Leitha Miller, Doris Yaden, Martha Upp and Josephine Upp.

Mrs. H. E. Peltz entertained the Epworth League at a lawn party on Thursday at her home, 804 Walnut street. The party was well attended by the members and their friends. This is among a series of entertainments the Young People's Society of the Methodist church gave in July.

GOVT. CONTROL IS CONSIDERED

British Railways and Coal Mines Are Financially Invalids—Both May Be Nationalized by Government in Near Future.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—British railways and coal mines are at present financial invalids. Both of these industries still are controlled by the government, under war legislation. Proposals that both should be nationalized are among the most important reconstruction plans now being agitated here.

The British railways are managed by the new Ministry of Transport, with a guarantee of pre-war profits to the shareholders. The coal mines are operated by a controller, who fixes the compensation of the mine owners.

"The transport systems of the country are financially in a semi-paralyzed state," the minister of transport, Sir Eric Geddes, recently told the house of commons. The balance sheet of the railroads for the coming year, as he forecast it, will show a loss of from £71,000,000 to £73,000,000, against an annual profit of about £43,000,000 for the five last years before the war.

The annual wage bill of the railroads before the war was about £50,999,000, and Sir Eric estimates the increased war wages and other concessions at £57,000,000, the eight hour day and other new concessions to cost £20,000,000 to £25,000,000, and the extra cost of materials and coal £27,000,000, making the increased cost of running the railroads £104,000,000 to £107,000,000, without taking into account the great depreciation of plant during the war.

Some financiers contest these figures strongly, and assert that the deficit is merely a paper one, due to failure in bookkeeping to charge the immense government traffic at rates which private traffic would cost, and that the financial outlook is nowise as bad as Sir Eric's view of it.

The deficits of the railways and mines are defrayed under present arrangements the former directly from the treasury out of the pockets of the taxpayers, the latter by the whole community through official advances in the price of coal.

NO SHOOTING OF ELK IN OREGON THIS YEAR

"There is to be no shooting of elk in Oregon during the year 1919."

Such was the declaration made by State Game Warden Carl D. Shoemaker, who has received a number of inquiries as to the date of the opening of the season for hunting elk. In order that the misunderstanding may be corrected, the Game Warden explained that the 1909 law protected elk until August 1, 1919, but this law was repealed by the 1913 Legislature and perpetual protection was provided for this noble animal. "There will be no open season on elk in this state at any time unless the Legislature fixes one at some future session. We only have a few elk in the state and an open season would kill practically all of these off," said Mr. Shoemaker.
