Don and Dale Soule, who have been spending their vacation with their grandmother, Mrs. S. H. Soule of Little Shasta, returned yesterday in readiness for the opening of school here today.

J. H. Cordson, of San Francisco, is a tourist visitor in Klamath Falls. He expects to leave here some time today for Crater Lake and Medford.

William Ganong, a young attorney from Mississippi, has decided to harken to the advice of Horace Greeley, and "come West and grow up with the country," and has selected Klamath Falls as the spot to begin developments. Mr. Ganong is not a complete stranger here as he reported the last term of the Circuit Court, and it was then that he decided to make the city his future home. He will occupy offices with H. M. Manning, over the Golden Rule Store.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE RELIEF CORPS.

Our State President will visit us on October 2nd at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and a special meeting is called for that date. We must get busy and it is absolutely necessary that every member be present at our regular meeting Monday evening, September 15th to arrange for entertaining our distinguished guest. We have work or our President will find us wanting.

ARTIST AND PRETTY MODEL HE MARRIED AFTER POSING FOR HIM FOR EIGHT YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy

For eight years Nancy May Palmer was Howard Chandler Christy's favorite model. Now she is the artist's wife. She posed for one of the most popular of all war posters, "Americans All." Another poster for which she posed, done for the navy, was "I Want You." This photograph was taken just after the model became Mrs. Christy at the Broadway Tabernacle in New York.

Odd Filipino Custom. Of the inherited cover spirit of the wild people of Davao and their belief that the death of a member of the family is indicative of the will of Allah for them to change their homes, the bureau of forestry says: "When someone dies in the house built on the land or homestead given to the head of the family, the entire family will move to some other place, and in most cases the house is either burned or torn down and the land on which it was built is abandoned for some years. A bird of the pigeon family, locally known as Alimukon, is the common god or fortune teller of the wild people of Davao. Unless this bird answers favorably to their supplications to go back to the old place, their old abode or abodes are either forever abandoned or left untouched for many years."

Chinaman Finds Joy in Work. While nature has been kind to China in the gift of natural resources, the nature and quality of her people justify high expectations of their ability to utilize these resources for the benefit of all mankind. The Chinese have wrought out a standard of living which for efficiency in the realm of labor challenges the world. When the statement is made that a Chinese laborer can work for 12 hours of the 24 for 15 cents a day and board himself, the suggestion will naturally come to mind, but what of the quality of the work? The Chinaman has not yet raised the question of the number of hours which constitutes a day's work. He toils uncomplainingly from break of day until the evening star is clearly in sight, and this he will do every day of the week. Holidays are not frequent, and work is the source of his joy.

A Toothsome Thing. "I see where a poet claims to have interpreted the soul of a mushroom." "Ah!" "In association with a thick, juicy steak, I can understand how a mushroom might lift a bard on the wings of song."

Made it Worse. Mr. Plain—You are sure to admire him; he's a strikingly handsome man. The girl—I'm glad he is. I simply detest homely men. (Suddenly laughing and blushing.)—Oh, I beg your pardon; I didn't mean to say that.

Question for Debate. Judging by union standards, the good lady in Proverbs, belauded as she has been for centuries, set a most questionable example. Her price might be above rubles, but what business had she to "rise up early in the morning, before it was yet light" and continue all day her industrial pace-setting? It couldn't have been good for her husband either, for all we hear of his activity is that he "praised her" and that he "sat in the gates"—which latter I take to be the Biblical equivalent of sitting on the porch of a country store with his feet on the rail, taking all her labor for granted.—Exchange.
