STRIKES CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Italian Economists and Statesmen Are Given New Spurs to Study Big Problems of Day—"Rule Without Rule"

ROME, Sept. 9.—Intermittent and sporadic strikes, which have produced throughout Italy conditions in some instances approximating Bolshevism, in others a kind of socialism and in still others localized anarchy, have given Italian political economists and statesmen new spurs to study and remedial action.

There has been "rule without rule" according to foreign observers. The government agencies long established for the administration of public affairs existed but failed to function. Municipal authorities, communal officials and representatives of the state admitted they were helpless to deal with the unusual situations which rendered inactive the prerogatives of those in power. Striking workmen forced demands upon a helpless commercial class it is pointed out while the authorities merely looked on "in obedience to the will of the disturbers."

Styled Camera del Lavoro.

The organizations throughout Italy that planned the newest departure in governmental and economic administration were styled Camera del Lavoro. A literal translation would define them as Chamber of Labor but their functions went much beyond the province of labor, as one ordinarily conceives that province, and extended so far that prices were arbitrarily fixed and the sale of commodities ordered.

The merchant seems to have been the one who has suffered most by the "adventure." His stocks were commandeered by the Camera del Lavoro, if he did not show the disposition to sell at the prices fixed by that organization. In most cases, the arbitrary reduction of fifty percent was exacted on all commodities regardless of the cost of the goods, the condition of the market or the rate of foreign exchange or any of the factors which determine selling prices. There were examples of forced reductions as low as seventy percent but these were few.

The Camera del Lavoro would set the day on which the new scale of prices would take effect. Some of the merchants refused to open their stores but there were worse things in readiness for them. Those stores opened were crowded with people anxious to benefit by the change. There never was such business in any of the merchant establishments throughout Italy. Every storekeeper needed between ten and fifty soldiers or policemen to keep the crowd in order. There was such a rush for bargains that, in many places, the situation quickly changed to violent disorder in which many innocent women and children were either trampled upon or received painful handling by the mobs.

Wine Sold Readily.

In the case of food, there was little to be done but to hand the ready customers the product for which they asked. Canned meats could be handed out with out much trouble. Wine, which is no luxury in Italy, was sold at a considerable reduction, one dollar flasks going in many cases for fifteen cents. Wine could be easily handled and sold. So could vegetables and fruits and the usual table products.

But, when it came to the distribution of clothing and shoes, the real trouble began. While the clothing establishments did not receive as much a rush as the shoe establishments they were crowded enough and the scramble for proper sizes and fittings was a veritable catch-as-catch-can. The attempts of the salesmen and saleswomen of the shops to serve patrons was a failure, and they contented themselves merely with receiving the small cash payments that were made by the bargain-hunters.

It is said in Mexico City, that one of the banks of El Paso, Texas, has refused to accept any more deposits from President Carranza. His account is now said to be ample.

20 CIVILIAN RADIO OPERATORS WILL BE USED IN HONOLULU

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 9.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced that he had authorized the employment of twenty civilian radio operators for service in the naval wireless stations of Hawaii, thus relieving congestion of traffic resulting from the discharge of many "duration of the war" enlisted operators.

A committee of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, which presented complaints of poor commercial wireless service to Mr. Daniels, was informed that the secretary firmly believes the wireless systems should remain under the control of the navy, but that no effort would be spared to improve the service and to maintain it at a high standard.

Secretary Daniels pointed out that with several wireless stations working on this island, there would be interference which would seriously hamper communication. It was brought out that 12,000 words are now being transmitted daily by the wireless stations here as against 5,000 in pre-war days.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

NBODY CAN TELL WHEN YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day
Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.
Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning larder bath.
Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.
Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and forcing it, for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.
The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, indigestible elimination, others who suffer with skin, blood disorders and all the complications associated with a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make one enjoy a pronounced rank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Ad.
