PARIS SAVED FROM FAMINE

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Vigilant telegraph operators in the central office here saved Paris from a possible famine during the recent food crisis precipitated by the profiteers.

Following disorders around the central markets where consumers raided the stands, and overthrew them, scattering vegetables, fruit, fish and other food to the ground because of the high prices, a number of commission merchants sent urgent telegrams to producers outside of Paris telling them to hold back their goods till further orders. Many of the dispatches indicated that, owing to a general decline in prices, the merchants were withholding their goods from the market.

The telegrams numbered about one thousand. They had gone past the wickets into the operating rooms, when the operator who was working one of the wires to Brittany noted a batch of them cancelling orders for butter. Now he had paid ten francs for a pound of butter that morning. He consulted with colleagues operating wires leading to fish, vegetable, fruit and other centres and their tables were loaded down with similar telegrams. None of the messages was sent.

In a statement issued last night the Government said that it took the responsibility for the action of the telegraphers.

MASS CELEBRATED AT FAMOUS ALTAR OF MAGI RELICS

COLOGNE, Sept. 9.—A British army chaplain celebrated mass recently in the great Cologne cathedral at the altar of the relics of the Magi, the skulls of the three wise men who came from the East to visit the newly born Saviour at Bethlehem. A number of American officers and men from the Coblenz area attended the services, and were permitted to view the relics.

Tradition says that the Empress Helena proued the bones and took them to Constantinople, whence they were removed to Milan. In 1164 they were presented by Frederick Barbarossa to Archbishop Reinold von Dassel who brought them to Cologne. At first they were kept in the Chapel of the Magi, the central chapel of the even flanking the choir, but since the war they have been put away in the Cathedral treasury, near the organ.

The bones are kept in a golden reliquary, a costly specimen of Romanesque craftsmanship in the form of a basilica, said to have been made about 1200 A. D. In the Cologne coat-of-arms three crowns are represented, the ownership of the Magi relics having suggested the design.

PARTY RETURNS FROM TRIP TO LAVA BEDS

W. A. Delzell, one of the most enthusiastic boosters for the scenic attractions of Klamath County, returned Sunday night from the Lava Beds after having acted as guide for a party consisting of Alice McCourt, Twyla Head, Edith Simon, H. W. Poole, Charles Piper, Mrs. E. T. Ludden, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dow. The whole party was enthusiastic over the Lava Beds and praised Mr. Delzell as a guide for that part of the country.

Miss McCourt said this morning that travel out there had been very light this year due to the reports of the unusually bad condition of the roads. However, their party found the roads in that section as good as any in other parts of Klamath County and people need not hesitate about making the trip.

HORDES MARVEL AT BATTLESHIP

WITH THE PACIFIC FLEET, Sept. 9.—"How did they ever put it together without leaving out any of the parts?"

That question is asked in various forms by the thousands of visitors who throng the New Mexico, flagship of Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

The only electrically driven ship of the fleet and the "last word" in naval construction, the New Mexico draws the largest crowds at every port it visits.

Comments—admiring ones—are legion, but the average man finds himself much in the mental condition of the small boy who took his watch apart and could not find room for all of the works when he wished to reconstruct it.

CHOLERA KILLS MANY.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 9.—Cholera has broken out in Petrograd killing from 200 to 300 daily, according to advices received here. Many hospitals have been closed owing to the lack of supplies.

WOODSTOCK BACK OF THIS KEYBOARD

Are All The "Worth While" Features Found in Typewriters—Simplified and Improved

The standard typewriter is a machine of business—not of sentiment. It should be judged on its merits alone—not on its name or fame. Take the label off the bottle, take the stencil off the piano—the true connoisseur, the real musician can tell; apply the same test to a typewriter.

The Woodstock is a better standard keyboard machine, with the eyes blindfolded the Woodstock among them. Let your sense of touch and hearing alone tell you, and then judge.

Put the Woodstock to this test, and then let your eyes behold its many other advantages. The Woodstock must be seen to be fully appreciated.

Give it that chance—better your typewriter equipment—it stays and grows in favor, because it is built to fit the hand, to fit the mood, to fit the job. Simplified and improved, the Woodstock with its unit system of construction has 20% less parts (20% less trouble). You get your own favorite machine and the best features of the best of others, in the Woodstock.

ORANGE JUICE REPLACES RUM AT SHIP LAUNCHINGS.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Sept. 9.—Orange juice has taken the place of champagne at the christening of ships built in the yards of the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company here. The West Neris, which recently slid down the ways, had a bottle of orange juice broken over her prow and officials of the company declare that at future christenings, the same substance will be used.
