At the Theatres

Exerting a powerful appeal to all married folk and especially to young brides just entering upon their marital careers, Elsie Ferguson's new Art-craft photoplay, "His Parisian Wife," will be the attraction at the Star Theatre tonight.

The story is one of exceptional dramatic interest and the various situations are most thrilling.

The story deals with Fauvette, a girl reporter on a Paris newspaper, who weds a Boston lawyer after a brief courtship. When Martin Wesley, her husband, takes his bride to the home of his parents, they resent her coming on the theory that since they had not been consulted about their son's marriage, his bride necessarily must be a devil incarnate—a designing creature with a shady past.

A spectacular effect is achieved in "The Gentleman From Indiana," starring Dustin Farnum which will be displayed at the Temple Theatre tonight. When the five hundred lynch-ers march cross country to the chant of "John Brown's body" to burn the crossroads settlement of the murderous Whitecaps.

This armed horde suddenly bursts into view over the crest of a hill, and sweeps down the slope in a great wave. It is a tremendous thing. The composition of this picture, its direction and the character of the various portrayals make this production one of the best seen here in many months.

Dustin Farnum and his winning smile are magnetic as ever in "The Gentleman From Indiana," and he receives excellent support from Winifred Kingston, the beautiful little London actress.

Beautiful Gladys Brockwell comes to the Liberty tonight in "The Pitfalls of A Big City" and the play is said to be the best Miss Brockwell has starred in this season. The story opens in New York and is a real eye opener to the restless people in the smaller towns who think they are missing half of their lives just because they do not happen to live in a large city. The story gives Miss Brockwell an excellent opportunity for the exercise of her unusual talents and her great beauty adds interest to her admitted ability.

Santa Barbara, California, where the studio of the American Film Company is located, is noted for its prosperity. When it came to obtaining "extras" for the long line of charity applicants that appear in the latest Margarita Fisher picture, "The Mantle of Charity," which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre on Saturday, there was difficulty in getting sad, worried, hungry looking people.

Even the employment exchange in Los Angeles noticed that the California idea of poverty seemed compatible with silk stockings and French high heeled shoes. It took several days of weeding out to obtain the participants in the picture. The story is a satire on the systems of charity which muddle thru in a mire of red tape and circumlocution. Although there is a strong moral in the story it is light and happy and bristling with good situations. It is said to be better than any previous production featuring the pretty brunette.

"And a little child shall lead them.

"Little motherless Bob loved the six orphaned puppies. One night a storm came and he felt that the grandfather he has never seen must be lonesome. So he gathered up the pups and thru the rain went to see him—and saved the life of the hard hearted millionaire who had refused his employes justice, and incidentally, won their battle for them.

"Then, feeding his pets, he found a strange man in the hay loft. He fed the man and consoled him with his youthful philosophy, telling the man 'Sorrow is where there is no love.' Then came his mother's sister seeking Bob and she saw in the man the lad's father who had left when his girl bride died bearing the child. It was then that the man realized that she was the one that he had loved after all. He had left home defiant and seeking the True God, but his own child had brought Him.

"And the girl said: 'I knew that God would bring you back.'

"Love has brought me back, thru a little child," he replied and then everyone was wonderfully happy, as you will be when you see the picture. From "The Turn in the Road" at the Liberty Sunday and Monday.

Necessity for Increased Telephone Rates

Increased telephone rates are necessary to meet increased costs.

Recent increases in wages alone to employees totaling for the State of Oregon upwards of $225,000.00 made an increase in telephone rates not only necessary but imperative to pay these wages.

The net return to the Company under the rates now in effect is less than 3 per cent on the valuation of its property at $13,382,378.00 as found by the Public Service Commission.

Would you be satisfied with such a return on the capital you have invested in your business? Would you consider it sufficient?

There has been no general increase in telephone rates for many years. Every user of a telephone who stops to think knows that he would be paying an inadequate rate now if he was not paying substantially more than he was before the war.

NEW INNOVATION FOR BIG REGATTA

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 12—An event for displacement boats will be added to the program of the annual regatta of the American Power-Boat Association in future years, if the suggestion of Albert L. Judson, president of the association, is followed. It is believed this will be the means of attracting county-wide interest in the meetings.

President Judson, unable to attend the regatta at Detroit August 29 to Sept. 1, because of an eye affliction, has informed officials of the association that Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis has offered a $5,000 trophy for displacement races. President Judson suggests, therefore, that the displacement race be given a place in the annual regatta, holding that the hydroplanes which compete in the gold cup number are merely racing machines and that recognition should be given boats of practical use. Such a plan has already been discussed, in fact, by association officers.

Mr. Judson, announcing that the first meeting for the Fisher cup would be held at Lake George, N. Y., under the auspices of the Lake George Regatta Association suggests that the event be coupled with the annual gold cup races and one-mile event for hydroplanes there next year and that a similar arrangement be made for the regatta at Detroit in 1921. The association head proposes a carnival week of aquatic racing "the like of which the world has probably never seen" next year at Lake George and the following season here.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

YOU CAN BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.
