COSTS ADVANCE ON ALL COMMODITIES THRUOUT ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The farmer's task of making two blades grow where one had grown before is becoming increasingly difficult in England, according to statistics published here today. Some of his difficulties are set out as follows:

Farm laborers before the war received $4 a week; now they get $10. Every horse must have a weekly half holiday. If 20 horses are employed on a farm this represents an annual loss of $750 at 75 cents per half day per week. Before the war steam ploughing cost 1.75 per acre. It now costs $1.75. Nitrate of soda has advanced from $45 a ton to $125; binder twine from $175 a ton and saddlers' work is from 150 to $650 and blacksmith's, carpenters' 200 per cent higher.

On top of all this the farmer's income tax has been doubled.

France has fewer paupers and fewer millionaires than any other prominent country.

SOLDIERS GET GRAPES

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Lady Woolsey has bought the grapes from the ancient King's Vine at Hampton Court, about 500 popnds, and will turn them over to the Church army for distribution in the hospitals. The vine, which is the most famous in all England, has contributed its grapes to sick and wounded soldiers since the beginning of the war through Lady Woolsey's generosity.

LIGHTNING BRINGS DOWN HUGE STATUE

STRASBURG, Sept. 15.—It has become known only recently, that the huge statue of Germania, which stands in the public square here commemorating the victory of the Prussians in 1870 and the foundation of the Empire of the Hohenzollerns was shattered by lightning in August, 1918, when the Allied armies were driving the Germans before them all along the western front. The stroke of lightning now regarded as symbolic of the approaching fate of the German armies caused consternation among the superstitious Germans and their authorities here decreed that absolute silence be kept regarding it. No one was allowed to see the monument thereafter except workmen who were at once employed to repair it.

The lightning struck the sword which "Germania" brandishes toward heaven. The Imperial Eagle was damaged and the Angel of War which stands at the foot of the statue was wrecked. Despite the repairs, traces of the effect of the thunderbolt still are visible.

In Madras the tanning of snake-skins for the manufacture of women's belts has become quite a profitable industry.

Putting the Treaty Fight Up to the People

A new referee is now judging the peace treaty fight. It is "yes common people," the fight having been brought out into the open by President Wilson and countered by the treaty opponents. Putting the treaty up to the people, in a swing around the states, the president is being met half way by Republican leaders, Senators Borah and Hiram Johnson. The engagement is expected to last over a period of three weeks to a month, more than 50 of the principal cities of the United States being selected as battleground. The map shows the general itinerary with stops to be selected as the trip progresses.

CLEMENCEAU TAKES MACHINE WITH HIM

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Whenever Premier Clemenceau travels in a special train, his automobile is always carried on a flat car at the end. If a railroad wreck delays his train he resorts to the automobile. This happened the other day when, on returning from his vacation in Vendee, a wrecked freight train blocked the track.

To one of the members of the chamber of deputies who joked him about it, the premier denied that his plan of carrying his automobile by train implied lack of confidence in the ability of his colleague, Minister of Railways Clavelle, to operate his trains on time.

336 PROFITEERS CAUGHT

LONDON, Sept. 15.—To the present 336 profiteers have been convicted by the Stephen Ford committee and have paid fines amounting to $20,000, while four have served terms in prison. The newspapers insist that more prison sentences are needed to bring the high price traders to their sense.

GOAT REPLACES COW IN EASTERN EUROPE

PRAGUE, Sept. 15.—The goat is taking the place of the cow as a milk provider in Czechoslovakia. The armies which battled in Eastern Europe stripped this land of its horses and four terrible years of war almost exterminated its cattle. Everywhere is felt the lack of fats even in regions which formerly produced enormous quantities of dairy products.

Formerly only the very poor resorted to the goat as a source of milk but now these animals are seen everywhere herded singly and in flocks by children and old persons. They are cheap, mature and reproduce quickly and furnish nutritious milk.

The absence of horses and oxen is evident everywhere. The harvest is on as this is being written and in the fields the men and women are gathering grain and dragging wagons. Although this section was untouched by actual battle the absence of live stock in the fields and pastures and as smokeless stocks of hundreds of factories show the blighting effects of the great war.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins, and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember, inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Adv
