WHEN GOD MADE THE OREGON APPLE

By COL. W. C. D. MERCER

"So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him, male and female created he them." "God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat." "And God saw everything that he had (thus far) made, and, behold, it was very good."

And then he bethought himself of the Oregon apple, and straightway He dispatched his white-winged angelic messengers throughout all the star-strewn realms of space with instructions to gather all there was that is pleasing to the taste and smell. When the angelic reapers returned from their harvesting and threw down at His feet their burden of delicious fragrances, He began in their wondrous presence the moulding and fashioning of the Oregon Apple.

With Cupid's arrow, He deftly imbedded the bonnie seeds which were destined later to disclose the love-secrets of manly swains and lovely maidens; He then took of the nectar which Jupiter sips; He took of the dainty drop of limpid wine from the moonlight colored cup of the wind-billy; He took of the pearly honey-dew from the rubbed heart of the musk rose; He took of the glittering dew-drops which fall from the rosy fingers of the goddess of morning; He took of the pure sweet snow which gleams from the petals of the lily of the valley; He took of the sanctified sweetness of the kiss of love in its first deep hour of truth; He took of the sweet beguiling melody of a mother's lullaby, and He took of the calm loveliness of the closing flowers when day is dying and the evening star so holy shines.

And God said, Let us now array this appetizing mixture in gorgeous robes of russet and scarlet and yellow, and bright with the sheen of the dew.

So God took of the resplendent beauty of the world's opening glow; He took of the glittering garlands which the angels weave in Silver Starland; He took of the triple rainbow on the mountain tops when the storm dispelling is enthroned in golden evening; He took of the radiant joy-tints upon the apple blossom cheeks of coy maidens when love within a dimple lies.

Over these wondrous tints and colorings He threw a protecting mantle of dewy purple, which, in autumn-time, rises like a cloud of sweet incense from earth's full urn. And then from out his tent of clouds the conquering sun came proudly forth, and like some grand enchanter, shed the splendor of his smile on the ripened gift, and all heaven and earth rejoiced, for lo, God had made the Oregon Apple.

HERE FROM ARKANSAS.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Scott of Little Rock, Ark., are touring the west and Arkansas are touring the West and stopped over for a few days for a visit with a relative, Mrs. Dollie Shidler. They are high in their praise of Klamath Falls. Mr. Scott is a cotton and rice grower and his farm is in the famous Rich Woods belt of Arkansas east of Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Matney were made happy yesterday over the arrival of a baby girl at their home on the Merrill road.

MANY COUSINS TO WEALTHY DECEASED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—"Cousins" from many cities of the United States have filed claims in the superior court here for parts of the $142,345 estate left by William Geisberg, who, witnesses testified, starved himself to death rather than pay the high prices charged for food. W. Geisenhefer, a friend of the dead man, testified that Geisberg had mentioned to him only relatives living in New Orleans.

Direct Marketing

The large packer represents the most direct route possible from farmer to retailer.

Large volume of business makes this possible. The public should be glad that there are large packers for this reason if for no other.

We buy live stock in the stockyards in the West.

We put them through packing houses.

We ship in clean refrigerator cars.

We sell through 400 branch houses located in all large consuming centers.

All done at a minimum of expense and a fraction of a cent per pound profit from all sources.

And it's only because we are big that we can give this service.

Let us send you a "Swift Dollar." It will interest you.
