

PENNSYLVANIANS PREDOMINATE IN WORLD SERIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Pennsylvania has the distinction of having the greatest representation in the baseball classic this year. Ten players from that state will battle for the highest honors in baseball. Four of them are members of the Chicago White Sox, American League pennant winners, and six are members of the Cincinnati Reds, flag winners of the senior organization.

The White Sox manager, William Gleason, heads the list of Quakers. Along with the fighting manager is Eddie Collins, one of the greatest guardians of the keystone sack in the game. Eddie Murphy, utility outfielder and pinch hitter de luxe, and J. Erskine Mayer, side-arm pitcher, are the other members from Pennsylvania.

The Reds have two pitchers, Ray B. Bressler and Ed Gerner, an outfielder, S. R. Magee, a veteran of the game, and three infielders—Jacob Daubert, first base; Morris Rath, second base, and James L. Smith, third base, as members from Penn State.

Illinois, where one end of the premier events will be staged, is next in the list. The Prairie State is represented by seven players, six of whom are members of the White Sox and one is on the payroll of the Reds. Three of the White Sox live in Chicago. They are Sullivan,

Weaver and Gandil. Ray C. Schalk, said by most critics to be the "greatest catcher of the ball," heads the list from Illinois for the White Sox. Along with Schalk is his understudy, Byrd Lynn. Then there is the peppery George Weaver, known to fans all over the country as "Buck." He will be on third base. Arnold Gandil, alias "Chick," guardian of the initial sack, and Grover Loudermilk, the elongated right-handed pitcher, and John H. Sulligan, alias "Lefty," a former Chicago semi-professional twirler, make up the others. H. O. Eller, who one time was on the Comiskey payroll, is the only member from the State of Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses S. Grant, on the Cincinnati roster, and "Hod," as he is intimately known, is one of Pat Moran's leading twirlers.

Ohio, where the other end of the world's series will be played, is tied with California for third place in the list of contributing states. It lays claim to four members. The Buckeye State quartette are all members of the Reds. Henry Groh, star third baseman, and Earle Neale, outfielder of Cincinnati, and Harry F. ("Slim") Sallee, pitcher, and Henry W. Schrieber, utility infielder.

California is represented in the fray with a split delegation, three of the players being members of the American League club and one the National League aggregation. The trio of Pacific Coast men with the Gleason outfit are Joseph Jenkins, catcher, a former lieutenant in the United States army overseas; Chas. A. Risberg, alias "Swede," the strong-armed shortstop, and Fred McMullin, utility infielder. William H. Ruether, former member of the Chicago Nationals and now one of the "aces" of the Reds' pitching staff, is the other member from the Golden Gate State.

Michigan and Indiana will be represented by three members each. The Gopher State delegation is solid for the White Sox, while the Hoosiers go strong for the Red Legs. Each of these states is the home of stars. Michigan is the home of Eddie V. Cicotte, knuckle and "shine ball" artist, and leading "ace" on the White Sox pitching staff. Harry Liebold, alias "Little Nemo," diminutive outfielder, and Big Bill James, the 6 feet, 4 1/2 inch pitcher, also hail from Michigan (this state also having the distinction of furnishing the tallest and shortest player to the American League pennant winner, in Liebold and James, the former being 5 feet, 5 inches. Eddie Roush, one time a member of the Chicago club, and now the slugging outfielder of the Reds; Lewin B. Duncan, another outfielder, and William A. Rariden, formerly a catcher of the New York Giants, are the Hoosiers on the Garry Herrmann payroll.

Two states have contributed two member each. These are Texas and Massachusetts, which go "50-50," by sending one member each to the White Sox and the Reds. Richard Kerr (Diminutive Dick), game left-handed pitcher, is the Lone Star State representative on Comiskey's club, while Roy Mitchell, also a mound artist, is the Texas member of the Reds. Massachusetts produced two veterans of the game. Patrick Moran, who piloted the Cincinnati Reds to victory, is the National League representative, while John "Shano" Collins, outfielder, member of the White Sox for the past ten years, represents the junior organization.

Urban "Red" Faber, who was a star for the White Sox in the world's series against the New York Giants in 1917, is the Iowa representative.

Three southern states will be represented in the series—Georgia, Kentucky and South Carolina. The first named state contributes one member each to the Reds and the White Sox. Ivy B. Wingo, first string catcher for the Reds, makes his home in Georgia, while Claude Williams, leading southpaw of the American League, represents that state on Comiskey's club. "General" Joe Jackson, hard-hitting outfielder of the White Sox, hails from South Carolina, although more recently he is laying claim to Georgia. Hervey McClellan, the fast little utility infielder, is from Kentucky, the home of thoroughbreds.

Vermont has sent Ral. L. Fisher, pitcher, to the Reds, and Missouri is represented on the same club by Nick Allen, catcher, and one time a member of the White Sox.

New York State is the home of three of the participants in the big conflict, but it is very unlikely that R. H. Wilkinson, pitcher of the White Sox, will get a chance to take an active part in the big series, as he is just a youth, and has been with the club but a short time. Jas. J. Ring, another New York representative in the series, is one of the leading twirlers of the Reds, and Charles H. See, an outfielder, is from Long Island.

Connecticut has one representative on the National League club, Wm. L. Kopf, the shortstop.

Wisconsin, where numerous of White Sox players have played before coming to Chicago, claims only one member in the baseball classic this year. He is Oscar ("Happy") Felsch, star outfielder of the American League.

The little island of Cuba, where baseball is becoming the national game and the place from which several players have gone into the major leagues in this country, will have its representative, in the person of Adalfo Luque, a pitcher, whose home is in Havana. Luque is a member of the Reds.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE AT ONCE

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur. An easier way is to get the pure recipe at home, though, is to use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it is done so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes dark, glossy, soft, and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

ACADEMY WILL RECEIVE PUPILS

Until the capacity of the school is reached, day pupils will be received at the Sacred Heart Academy, where the most careful attention will be given to the thorough training of your child. Full particulars may be secured by calling at the Convent, Seventh and Pine streets or at the Academy. For the present we are unable to accommodate any more boarders, but applications will be received and in case there is a vacancy it will be filled from the list of applicants in the order in which they are filed.

CONES GATHERED BY SQUIRRELS

Foresters in Montana Each Year Rob the Cache of These Little Workers for Fir Seed — Great Quantities Saved

MISSOULA Mont. Sept. 25.—Squirrel caches of pine cones are sought each year by foresters in Montana in gathering cones for planting purposes. The work this year will begin about October 15.

Sometimes a single squirrel's cache will yield as high as 15 or 20 bushels, though usually the yield is about five bushels. The squirrels store the cones in damp places to prevent drying and the seeds falling out.

About 100 pounds of Douglas fir seed and 50 pounds of larch seed will be gathered this year.

Plans which had been made to gather about 4,600 bushels of white and yellow pine cones were given up when scouts sent into the district reported there would be no crop. Most of the larch and fir cones will be gathered near Haugan and Li. by Montana.

Larch and fir cones are much harder to gather than other kinds, because they are so small that as a rule the squirrels will not store them for the winter, preferring instead the larger white and yellow pine cones.

After the cones are gathered they are taken to the seed plant where they are dried in a kiln for two days and two nights. They are then run through large drums which shake out the seeds. The largest seed plant of the entire forest service is located at Priest River, Idaho. The cones gathered this year will be taken to a small plant near Iron Mountain, Montana.

The seeds are finally taken to the Savenac nursery of the forest service at Haugan and planted there. When about three years old they are removed to the forest for planting.

Experts or Theorists—Which?

The packing industry is intricate, complex—far more so than the railroads or the telegraph.

Every day multiplying needs of society increase its problems and multiplying responsibilities demand more of it.

Highly trained experts, specialists of years' experience, thinkers and creative men, devote their lives, their energies, their activities, to solving the problems of the packing industry and meeting its widening duties.

Swift & Company is not a few dozen packing plants, a few hundred branch houses, a few thousand refrigerator cars, and a few million dollars of capital, but an organization of such men. It is the experience, intelligence, initiative and activity which operates this physical equipment.

Can this intelligence, this experience, this initiative and creative effort which handles this business at a profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources, be fostered through the intervention of political theorists, however pure their purposes? Or be replaced by legislation? Does Congress really think that it can?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.
