"Helpful Hints" A FEW DON'T'S

HERE are a few suggestions relative to using a Checking Account. Don't alter a check after it is written. If you have made an error, write a new check and tear the old one up. Don't leave a check undated. It is confusing to both yourself and the bank. Don't post-date a check—that is, date it for some future time. It is unbusinesslike. Don't leave remainder of second line blank after you have written the amount. Fill it with X marks or a heavy wavy line.
