Quality Counts in Clothes

You'll Get It at This Store

There's a lot of talk going around about the peculiar conditions existing in the clothing markets—about the scarcity of finer clothing, the flood of inferior goods, and so forth.

You really should be cautious in buying, and careful where you buy—this fall especially.

You don't need to worry if you come to this store. We sell Kuppenheimer clothes; they are made of all-wool; the best in the land; the tailoring sets the example for all others.

The New Fall Suits Are Different

There's something unusually graceful about the new Kuppenheimer designs—something you've never seen before. The lines lend themselves to the figures of mature men as well as to young men. It's in the tailoring—softer construction, less padding; you'll like it. Single and double-breasted models; special ideas for young men. The new fabrics are as fascinating as the styles. Original color-tones. Superb values, and a wide variety, for men and young men.

We make it our business to have such clothes for you; we want you to get the things you like—the best quality and value for the price you pay. That's our idea of service-giving.

RUMANIA GETS CAPTURED DRUGS

BUDAPEST, Sept. 1. (By Mail)—Thousands of tons of American medical supplies, captured in Rumania by the Hungarian army in 1917-1918 and recaptured by the Rumanians upon their occupation of Budapest, will soon be on their way to Bucharest, the Rumanian capital.

The supplies, consisting of a trainload of huge cases, were shipped via Vladivostok in 1916, this being the only route then open to Rumania. Many of these supplies belonged to the American Red Cross, which was driven out of Rumania by the Austro-Hungarian invasion of 1917. The remainder were sold to the Rumanian army by American drug firms.

Despite the fact that the typhus was raging in Rumania at the time and these supplies were desperately needed by the civilian population, the Austro-Hungarians loaded every case, particularly American instruments and hospital goods, on their "booty trains" which left Bucharest almost daily. Together with these supplies went the equipment of every hospital and pharmacy in Rumania, the population being left to get along as best it could.

Upon the discovery of these supplies, in warehouses in Budapest, the port that belonged to the American Red Cross was immediately turned over to it by the Rumanian army. Captain Melvin M. Knight, an American Red Cross man, of Worcester, Mass., who was with the Rumanian army became custodian. They are now being shipped back to Bucharest.

Over a thousand years ago the famous mosque of St. Sophia, in Constantinople, was built with mortar mixed with musk, and the odor of the latter still exists.

FRANCE IS AGHAST AT NEW PRACTICE

PARIS, Sept. 13.—There is bitter feeling throughout France owing to the exorbitant prices demanded by some of the inhabitants of the war zone for the exhumation of the bodies of soldiers who have fallen on the battlefields of Northern France and their transportation to the nearest railway station. "The profiteers of death," they are called. Besides exacting stupendous prices the self-appointed undertakers show little consideration for the precious burdens which they convey.
