THE FARM BUREAU

A work has just been undertaken by County Agent Thomas that should command the attention and support of every progressive farmer in the county. This is the formation of the Klamath County Farm Bureau. The operations of this proposed bureau will affect every farmer in the county. One gratifying aspect of the preliminary work is the splendid organization committee that is taking hold of formative plans. It shows that the movement is not a passing fancy, flaring up in enthusiasm only to die in neglect. Meetings are being held throughout the county and a large membership is being secured, indicating that the farmers of the county are ready for the work that Mr. Thomas has undertaken and with which he has been so successful.

The day has come when the farmer realizes that there are something more to farming than plowing the land and sowing the seed. Like everything else, there is a science to it. They are beginning to discover that without any additional labor greatly increased yields can be secured if certain well-established rules are followed.

It is the acceptance of these rules and the formation of new ones applicable to this section that Mr. Thomas is striving for. When he came here with his sulphur talk there were some who smiled and said things about these "college-bred farmers." We all know how they have been ridiculed in the east. And some of this ridicule was fully justified. The trouble, however, did not lie with the method, but with the man who tried to show us how to put it into practice.

Fortunately for the county, we now have a man who possesses the two necessary qualifications: A full knowledge of the rules and the ability to show us how to apply them. In addition, he understands the troubles of the farmer, for he is practical. He is not of the grandstand variety. He takes up one or two things and hammers away until he gets the results he is after. If Mr. Thomas never did another thing for the county than accomplish what he has with sulphur, the county would be justified in pensioning him for life. But he has attained equally as great results with his squirrel and gopher fight and the campaign on the grasshopper.

He is now trying to bring into being the Farm Bureau. He is going to be successful, for he is a man who gets results, but the farmers should get back of him and by their help bring about the great things he can do for them so much quicker. Every time he makes a move he puts the hard cash in the pockets of someone, and that is what the farmer wants. That is why he should take an interest in the bureau and be an active factor and not a drone.

LOOK AT YOUR DATE

Subscribers receiving their paper through the mails are requested to look at the date following their name. It indicates the date upon which the paper is stopped if the subscription is not renewed. The Herald will appreciate it if these renewals are sent in far enough in advance to avoid the necessity of stopping the paper, as it entails a great deal of clerical work to place a name back upon the mailing list again. No receipt is sent when a renewal is received—the change in the date upon the wrapper indicating that the money has been received and proper credit given.

RUBBISH FIRE KINDLES SHED

Fire about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon destroyed a woodshed, owned by Will Platts at Eighth and Commercial streets, causing a loss of about $100. The fire truck responded to the first alarm and kept the fire from spreading to the dwelling.

The premises were recently purchased by Platts and were occupied by Mrs. Ethel Howell. The fire, according to investigation of Fire Chief Miller, started from a trash fire in the yard, kindled to get rid of an accumulation of rubbish.

CALIFORNIA AERIAL PATROL PLANS MADE

Coert C. Dubois, head of the national forests in California, and forest supervisors from the Lassen, Shasta, Klamath and Trinity national forests, conferred at Redding recently for the purpose of arranging for next season's aerial fire patrol, which will be more than trebled.

The supervisors present were C. E. Dunston of Red Bluff, Lassen national forest; E. V. Jotter, of Weaverville, Trinity national forest; Norman Sloane of Sisson, Shasta national forest; and W. A. Huestis of Yreka, Klamath national forest.

NO LOTTERIES AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

The California International Livestock Show at San Francisco, November 1st to 8th, will be one exposition at least at which there will be no raffling or chance devices to get money out of the public, the directors having voted to deny concession privileges to "kewpie dolls," "candy lotteries" and a score or more of such "bunko" games.

"We want to keep this a clean show," announced President W. T. Seaton, head of the committee of San Francisco business men back of the show, "and we are not going to resort to these tricky means of making money. I would rather see the show run behind financially than to depend upon making money that way."

GRAND BALL PLANNED FOR HALLOWE'EN

A grand Halloween ball is scheduled to take place a week from Friday evening at the Moose hall. It will have all the ghostly trimmings befitting the date. Dancers will come garbed in sheets and pillow cases and witches and goblins will be much in evidence. "Bob" Ryan is one of the moving spirits in planning the affair, which in itself is a guarantee of success.

Tea was cultivated in China 2700 years before the Christian era.

WHICH

The method of payment does not concern us. Why should it concern you?

What interests us, what interests Mr. Edison, is to have you enjoy the three-million-dollar gift of music which comes with

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul" If you want to know how other people pay for their New Edisons we'll tell you. Some buy for cash. Others, who can well afford to buy for cash, take the partial-payment plan; they feel that this accommodation is a worthwhile privilege. Some dispose of the cost with a few large payments. Others make the payments small, and spread them out.

In other words, there is no set rule. Come in, select your model. Tell us how you would like to pay for it. That's all.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

WHAT IS IT?

It is the best paying class of advertising in the world if you have something to sell that belongs among little ads that you find in The Herald.

JUST TRY IT ONCE

If you have something in your attic, your basement, your spare room, your barn, around you anywhere that you want to sell, try The Herald classified ads and you will find a buyer.

IF YOU WANT SOMETHING

Advertise for it, trying The Herald's classified ads. Someone has something for sale that you want. Let The Herald find it for you. It costs you but a few cents a day. Classified ads cost you 5 cents a line a day—five words to the line. They must be paid for in advance and cannot be received over the telephone—that is why they are so cheap.

NEW FILING CASES

Two new steel filing cases, one for the sheriff's office and one for the circuit court, were received at the court house today. They were ordered several months ago but delayed by the slow freight movement.

BIG GASOLINE TAX

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 18.—(Special)—The Standard Oil company sold 2,445,195.5 gallons of gasoline in September according to the statement filed in the office of Deputy Secretary of State Sam A. Koser. The tax at the rate of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline and one-half cent on distillate, totals $25,799.10.

August sales of the company totaled 3,087,603 gallons of gasoline and 637,341 gallons of distillate on which a tax of $34,062.75 was paid. Shirts cost $175 in Petrograd, while as much as $1000 is paid for a second-hand pair of trousers.

NOTICE

After October 1 all classified advertising must be paid for in advance. The cost of this advertising is only five cents a line, counting five words to the line. This rate makes it impossible for The Herald to handle it on other than a cash basis, as the cost of bookkeeping is greater than the value of the advertisement. Anyone can compute the cost by counting five words to the line and remitting five cents for each line for each insertion. The necessity for payment in advance precludes the possibility of taking this advertising over the phone, and The Herald will appreciate it if requests to do so will not be made.

Beautiful Trees to Adorn Memorial Highways

The effect of beautiful trees is shown in the accompanying pictures. Civic societies and school children are arranging to plant many trees this fall as memorials to soldiers and sailors and as class monuments. A boulevard in Cincinnati, shown here, is to be improved with trees.
