

GERMANY NEEDS WORLD MARKET SAYS MINISTER

LEIPSIK, Sept. 23.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Robert Schmidt, Germany's food and economic minister, in a speech at the Leipzig fair, said Germany was "sick with two diseases, lack of raw materials and fuel."

"During my visit to the fair buildings," he said, "I heard constant complaints about the lack of coal. We have the workers and we have the orders in plenty, we can easily get millions, even billions of orders. But when I asked each individual exhibitor why he did not accept orders he replied invariably that he lacked raw material and fuel. It is true that every effort is being made to force Germany back into an inferior place, not in the usual way of competition, but through political methods. German trade, however, will build its way in world trade, for no power can prevent the hunger for goods where it can be advantageously satisfied.

"People are accusing us of again having recourse to the 'dumping system.' We do not merit this accusation, and I must deny it most energetically. I have the hope that, in spite of all hindrances, we will soon climb up to prosperity if work and constructive power, raw materials and coal are placed at our disposal in sufficient quantities.

"We need the world market. The pressure will be removed from Germany, and we will get credit abroad. We must be convinced that we are again to climb. This people is not to be destroyed economically. If all energies revive I hope that we are not at the end of our rope, but that German people will overcome these sad days and that the joyful times will come again. I am building on the never failing creative power of our industry, our technique and art and science."

DEATH REVOKES A CHECK

A bank has authority to pay a depositor's outstanding checks only so long as he is alive. If payment is made without knowledge of a depositor being dead, the bank is protected. This is yet another reason why a check should not be held too long before presentation.
