

ROYAL NORTHWEST MOUNTED POLICE AGAIN ORGANIZED

The men of the Mounted are equipped for business

Perhaps the most famous body of men charged with preserving law and order in the world is the Canadian Royal Northwest Mounted Police. For many years they have enjoyed a world-wide and hard-won reputation for daring and tenacity. It is said that when one of the Mounted sets after a man, either he comes back with the fugitive, or he or his quarry is dead.

Few people know that during the Great War, when Canada threw her body and soul into the scales in the fight for civilization, this famous body of men ceased as an organization, because most of the men went overseas. The call came to act. They answered almost to a man.

Now that the war is over, the Mounted is revived. About 3,000 men, mostly returned soldiers, are now in this organization, the requirements of which demand an almost perfect man in physique, mentality, courage and character.

Recently in British Columbia they have undertaken a new branch of service. In the past they have been navigators of the trackless prairies, northland barrens and foothill forests of Canada. Now they have started an ocean patrol. This is the first time they have done any patrol work on any but inland waterways. A powerful 30 ton seaway launch has been fitted out to patrol the logging camps of the Pacific Coast.

Simon Gun-a-root

As an instance of the respect in which the Royal Northwest Mounted is held, it is said that the main reason why Gun-a-root, an Indian charged with killing two traders in 1906 and who for thirteen years defied capture by the British Columbia authorities, surrendered recently, was the report that the Mounted were to operate in British Columbia.

EXPLORERS ARE PUSHING NORTH

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—An American explorer, Harold Noice, formerly a member of Vilhjalmur Stefansson's party, is working his way eastward on foot along the route of the north-west passage on the northern rim of the continent, according to word received here. He expects to reach the Hudson Bay country and civilization some time next summer.

Storker Storkerson, formerly second in command of the Stefansson party, who arrived here recently from the far north, said that Noice, accompanied only by Eskimos, is proceeding slowly and mapping portions of the coast line as he goes. A stretch of the coast line of Victoria Land, heretofore unmapped, is being charted by Noice.

Noice may visit the interior of Victoria Land, which, according to all reports, has never been explored by white men. All explorers, traders and trappers who have touched Victoria Land have only journeyed along its shores. Stefansson found the tribe of "blond Eskimos" in the Victoria Land country.

Noice has no ship and but few supplies. He depends almost entirely upon his gun for his living. Stefansson, his former chief, who is noted among explorers as being able to live off the barren white lands of the north, probably taught Noice how to get about without carrying many supplies.

Noice's parents live in Seattle. The explorer is young in years, having graduated from a high school here about eight years ago. He went north in 1912 with Captain Louis Lane on the schooner Polar Bear. When Stefansson purchased the Polar Bear from Lane, Noice shipped as a member of the crew. Later, when Stefansson decided to return to the outside world, Noice left the party and remained in the North. His parents expect him to return to Seattle next year.

At the Theatres

A battle in the Rockies between a mining camp defense league and a band of desperadoes furnishes many a thrill in "The Border Legion," a picturization of Zane Grey's gripping story of the West, starring Blanche Bates and Hobart Bosworth which comes to the Star Theatre beginning tonight.

For a long time the border legion a band of plunderers, has been robbing the miners of their hard-earned gold. Now and then a few of the miners engaged the bandits in battle, but with very small loss to the legion. One morning the pony express is held up and robbed and one of the riders is killed. He is killed by Jack Kells, leader of the band, who binds the rider across the horse's head and sends the animal off in the direction of the mining camp as a warning that a like fate awaits anyone who dares to trail the band.

Dealing with the ever absorbing problem of the "eternal triangle," "Lady Windermere's Fan," which is now being shown at the Temple Theatre tonight, will make a wide appeal to picture-goers.

Lady Windermere is confronted with the knowledge that her husband finds pleasure in the society of another woman. The heart broken wife longs for the counsel of a mother. She believes that her own mother died when she was born. Shielded from the truth by Lord Windermere, she does not know that her rival, the woman whom she hates so intensely, is in reality her own mother. Nor does she ever discover it, because with the instinct of a loving parent to protect her own, the mother refuses to disclose the relationship, even though her silence necessitates a great sacrifice.

AMERICAN CASH GOES TO ITALY

NAPLES, Sept. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—Tens of thousands of checks amounting to millions of dollars each month are being sent to relatives here by the Italo-Americans who served in the American army. Therefore the money received from American soldiers' allotments, war risk insurance benefits, and United States government compensation constitutes one of the chief sources of income for Southern Italy at the present time. Of the thousands of the Italo-Americans in the American army at the present time, the great majority were from Southern Italy, which has furnished the bulk of the Italian emigrants to the United States.

At the present rate of exchange of almost ten lire to the dollar, these checks yield a profitable revenue to Italy. It is a widely known fact that thousands of families in Southern Italy today are being largely supported by such contributions from the treasury of the United States.

A special commission appointed by the British government is still engaged in winding up the affairs of the Great Exhibition held in the Crystal Palace in London, in 1851.

How Much Profit Do You Pay Us?

The United States Department of Agriculture informs us that you as an average American Citizen, eat about one hundred and eighty-two pounds of meat (181.83 lbs.) in a year.

Based on these figures, if you had purchased all of your meat foods from us, Swift & Company would have profited to the extent of 48½ cents during the first eight months of our present fiscal year.

In that eight months we averaged to make two-fifths of a cent on each pound of meat and all other products sold.

This profit you paid us equals 6 cents a month—or just about one street car fare.

More than 30,000 shareholders looking to us as trustees of their invested money, had to be paid a reasonable return out of your 6 cents a month. Volume alone made this possible.

Now figure for yourself how Government interference in the operations of the packing business is going to reduce your meat bill!!

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar." It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure, for it is more he inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

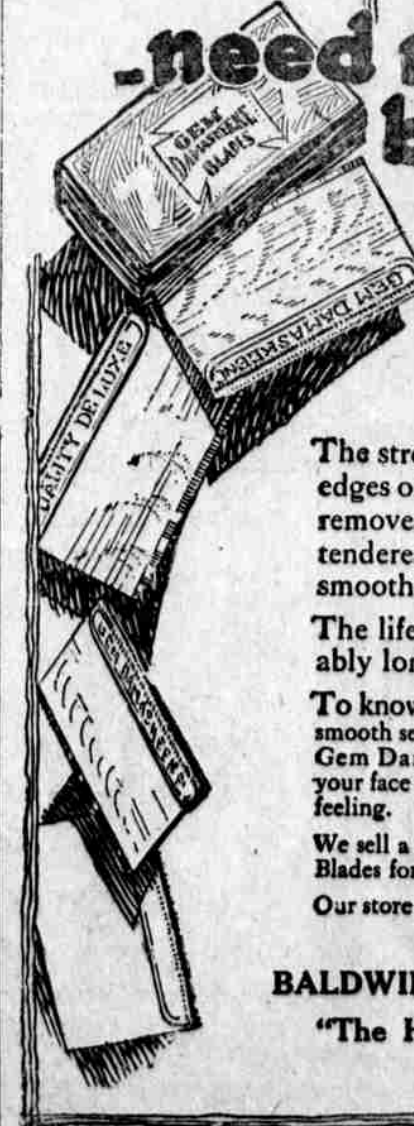

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleans, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder, and almost tasteless.—Adv.
