Western Virginia Miners Armed and Threatened to Shoot Government Officers, Says Governor in Telegram to Head of Union

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Governor John Cornwell, in an effort to avert a serious situation that threatens to lead to bloodshed, today telegraphed John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, that a second armed invasion of the Guyana Valley coal district is being planned by miners of the Cabin Creek coal section. The governor charges that arms and ammunition have been distributed among the miners and there has been much talk of shooting public officials taking control of the situation for the government in an effort to bring about a peaceful settlement of differences.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.—Orders have been received at Camp Zachary Taylor from the U. S. war department to hold four provisional battalions of infantry and machine guns of the famous First division in readiness for riot and strike duty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—Final appeal directly to President Wilson in an effort to prevent the strike of half a million bituminous coal miners, November 1, was made today after operators' and miners' representatives, meeting jointly with Secretary of Labor Wilson, had turned down two proposals to negotiate a new wage agreement. While on the point of breaking up, the two groups agreed to return this afternoon to receive the message the secretary hoped to bring from the President.

THRESHERMAN SERIOUSLY HURT

Allen Stansbie, who resides at 1143 Pine, and who operates the threshing machine which has been doing all the threshing for the farmers from Keno and Worden to Klamath Falls along the west side of Klamath river and Lake Ewanua, had the great misfortune yesterday afternoon while at work on the place owned by George Shell, to catch his left arm in the belt, while making adjustments to his machine, having it drawn into the machinery, crushing it to such an extent that it was feared for a while the result might be fatal.

Stansbie was rushed at once to the hospital and, after an examination of the injury, the physicians decided that amputation was necessary and must be resorted to at once. The arm was removed between the wrist and the elbow yesterday evening.

Those who were present and witnessed the accident, say that it is a wonder that the accident was not much more serious, for it looked for a few moments as though Mr. Stansbie's entire body would be drawn into the machinery.

The hospital report this morning is to the effect that the patient is resting easily and doing nicely, and will no doubt make a rapid recovery on account of his splendid physical condition.

Mr. Stansbie was formerly a member of the city council.

MEMORIAL MOVE LACKS IMPETUS, SAY CHAIRMEN

Men and Women Active in Work of Collecting Subscriptions Find Opposition—Ask All Americans to Rally in Putting Klamath to Front

Not only indifference but opposition to the movement for Americanization included in the Roosevelt Memorial fund campaign is reported to exist among certain classes and in certain sections of the city by canvassers of the women's organization who are active in solicitation.

The objection is not aggressive but it is there, declare canvassers. In a considerable number of cases, they report, they have been met by absolute refusal to subscribe one cent for a movement having the Americanization of America as its object.

On the other hand the response by many citizens has been prompt but apathy exists among the majority, report the county chairmen of both the Roosevelt Memorial association and the women's Roosevelt Memorial organization. The campaign for subscriptions lacks the proper impetus.

Time for canvassing is short as the drive closes Monday night. It is essential that subscriptions should be voluntary, as far as possible, for in very many cases solicitors cannot make a personal call upon citizens.

The Herald each day on the first page of the paper publishes a coupon blank, which may be filled out and mailed to C. W. Eberlein, chairman. The amount of the subscription may be as small or large as the donor wills. The main purpose is to get this community and county on record before the world as 100 per cent American. American in the sense that the character and reputation of Theodore Roosevelt, living and dead typifies.

Subscriptions may also be left at all the local banks. Five counties of the state today reported to Portland that they had raised their quotas. Two quotas were larger than Klamath county's which is only $480.

Klamath county chairmen are earnestly requesting immediate action by all those who intend to subscribe to the Roosevelt memorial funds. The men and women who are working for this movement are serving without any cost. All the money raised goes to build the several memorials planned—one a granite shaft in Washington, one a monument at the Roosevelt family home at Oyster Bay, Long Island, and the third which is the special work of the women of America, to create a memorial of the birthplace of Colonel Roosevelt's mother, Martha Bulloch, in Georgia.

At the Elks' Temple last night the Elks present gave the memorial movement a rousing endorsement, setting an example for all 100 per cent Americans to follow.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—President Wilson continues to gain strength slowly, physicians announced today.

ENTERPRISE DITCH WORK IS STARTED

Work on ditch construction of the Enterprise district is underway. The contractors, A. E. Gale and W. D. Campbell of Langell-Valley have been busy for a week or so in getting a camp ready for active work on grading.

It is estimated that the largest part of the ditch system will be completed in three months. The machinery contracts for pumps and motors are let, the Baldwin Hardware company being the contractors, and these will be installed as rapidly as possible. It is expected that the system will be finished so that the majority of the acreage can be placed under water next spring.

FIVE COUNTIES OVER THE TOP WITH MEMORIAL

Wheeler Raises Quota of $100 First; Clackamas Comes Second With $570, and Crook, Sherman and Wasco Follow in Quick Succession

PORTLAND, Oct. 24. (Special to the Herald).—Five counties of Oregon have gone over the top to date in the Roosevelt Memorial drive. Wheeler county was the first to report obtaining its quota, Clackamas second, and Crook, Sherman and Wasco followed shortly afterwards. Wheeler county raised $100, Clackamas $570, Crook $170, Sherman $170, and Wasco $600.

Enthusiasm is rising all over the state as people begin to realize that the Roosevelt Memorial association is not a partisan organization but a patriotic national society which will lead in the Americanization of the country and fight the battles of the future against the unseen enemies of the Republic.

Men of all parties and all faiths are uniting in this campaign to inculcate love of America and the high ideals of Roosevelt type of citizenship in the coming generation of Americans.

SEEKS SITE FOR EXPERIMENT FARM

D. M. Lowe, accompanied by his son, D. M. junior, is in the city for the purpose of selecting a site for an experimental farm. Mr. Lowe has operated a similar project at Ashland for 11 years, and has done much to spread the fame of the Rogue River section by the exhibits he has placed at the various fairs and shows during that time. If he decides to locate here, the farm will be in charge of his son, who has just returned from service in the army.

O. A. C. ADVISES GRIMM ALFALFA

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 24. (Special)—That the farmers of Klamath County should plant the Grimm variety of alfalfa practically exclusively is the conclusion reached by the Oregon Agricultural College at the Eastern Oregon experiment station. Extensive investigations have proved the superior adaptability of Grimm alfalfa for this climate.

More difference exists in the varieties of alfalfa than is commonly supposed, although the seeds are very similar and cannot readily be distinguished from each other. Grimm is one of the variegated types and has flowers that are often greenish, smoky, yellow, or nearly black, occurring throughout the field.

The extreme hardness of the Grimm variety is due, partly to selection in a rigorous climate, and partly to the branched taproots and low, spreading crowns which aid cold resistance. The yield of Grimm has been greater than that of other varieties and it stands the winters better.

Owing to the scarcity and high price of Grimm seed some unscrupulous dealers have adulterated it with seed of Turkestan or other less hardy varieties the seed of which is cheaper. For this reason extreme caution is necessary in buying seed, to get pure Grimm. While the seed testing laboratory maintained at the Oregon Experiment Station, Corvallis, Oregon, is free for the use of all farmers who send in samples for purity or germination, yet it is impossible to tell Grimm from other varieties of alfalfa seed. Its use, however, will enable the farmer to get live seed, free from weeds.

The county agent can be consulted regarding the sources of good seed known to be genuine Grimm, as well as upon the superiority of Grimm over other varieties.

TIDINGS OF DEATH OF LOCAL WOMAN

A letter was received here last evening conveying the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. J. F. Maguire at Monrovia, California, last Sunday. On the Thursday previous Mr. Maguire received a telegram stating that Mrs. Maguire's condition was grave and he left the next morning for Monrovia, arriving there shortly before her death. The funeral services and burial took place in Los Angeles.

The death of Mrs. Maguire is directly traceable to her illness with influenza about one year ago. At that time she was afflicted with this sickness in a particularly baffling form. Failing to regain her usual health, Mrs. Maguire went to a sanitarium at Milwaukee, Oregon, where she remained for about six months. About a month ago it was decided to remove her to warmer and drier climate, in the hope that it would be beneficial, and she was taken to Monrovia, California. She failed to rally and her illness continued until death claimed her last Sunday.

The death of Mrs. Maguire is a particularly sad one. She was a woman of exemplary character and a devoted mother. Through her death five children are robbed of the loving care and guiding hand of a mother whose chief delight was the watchful solicitude of her family. Surviving her are her husband, one daughter, Gertrude, four sons, Charles, John, Richard and James, and these have the deep sympathy of the wide circle of friends by the deceased during her fourteen years' residence in this city.

RESERVATION FIRE CONTROL

At the meeting held here in the interests of better fire protection throughout the forests in this part of Oregon, Klamath reservation was represented by Superintendent Walter G. West and Supervisor of Forests at Large James A. Howarth, Jr.

The fire season just closed is ample evidence of the efficiency of fire control under the direction of Mr. Howarth. There were above forty separate fires started on the Klamath reservation during the past season but none of them gained such proportions to be considered beyond control. The damage done compared to the number of fires was slight.

On several occasions fires were controlled outside the reservation boundary in order to prevent their spreading to reservation timber. Mr. Howarth believes in forest fire prevention and has improved the telephone and lookout system on the reservation to a great extent. Mr. West is also an enthusiastic worker in this matter and heartily backs up any move for better fire control. It is hoped that they will be able to secure the co-operation of other timber protection organizations in this locality in the matter of lookouts and patrol.

The civil action of William B. Freer against Harry F. Caton, will be heard before Justice Chapman tomorrow at 10 o'clock a. m. The issue is one of forcible entry and detainer, said to be the result of a dispute over possession of land at Malin, which defendant as lessee holds against the wishes of Freer, the lessor.

A charge of assault in which the state is plaintiff and Caton defendant arises from the same dispute, and will be heard by Justice Chapman November 11. In this action Caton is accused of assault upon Freer.

RESERVATION IS BIG ASSET FOR KLAMATH

Wealth of Figures Are Compiled by Capt. J. W. Siemens for Information of Business Leaders Show Wonder of Domain

Until the matter is presented by some one having a comprehensive grasp of the situation, the bigness of the Klamath Indian reservation as an asset in future development is likely to be overlooked. At the banquet to Portland business men last week at the White Pelican hotel, Capt. J. W. Siemens, president of the First State & Savings bank, presented a complete digest of the subject, explaining the reasons why the members of the Klamath tribe are seeking distribution of the tribal funds and distribution of their accumulated property now held under government trust. It is proposed to introduce a measure in congress to the end of placing this progressive people in control of their own affairs, and Captain Siemens' address was designed to give the leaders of Oregon affairs information on which to base judgment as to what extent they might co-operate. It contains a wealth of facts and figures.

Included in the population of the reservation are members of the Klamath, Modoc and Yahookin band of Putes, all advanced in the arts of civilization and united in desiring full citizenship. Captain Siemens said:

"There is only about 17 per cent of real estate subject to county and state taxes in Klamath county. The cause of this is the ownership of the remainder in the government, consisting of forest reservations, Crater Lake National park, bird reservation, reclamation, reservations and the Klamath Indian reservation."

Big Income Possible

"The Klamath Indian reservation consists of some 60 square miles, containing 1,198,000 acres of land, divided as follows: Timber land, 800,000 acres, the remainder grazing and agricultural land. It is estimated that there are 11,000,000 feet of timber valued at $3 a thousand, which would total $33,000,000. Agricultural lands, 398,000 acres at $1.00 an acre, $3,980,000, in its raw state, and if fully developed and in cultivation the value would be $29,850,000. The agricultural lands are capable of maintaining 2,000 families, with a producing capacity of $5,000 per family per annum, or a total of $10,000,000."

"The opening of this reservation would mean taxable property which would furnish its quota to the state of Oregon and Klamath county to the value of $62,850,000, and the tax on same would provide the treasury with $1,571,050 annually. In addition, there would be personal property to the extent of $720,000 and the income tax on it would be $15,900 yearly."

Expenditures Are Large

"Automobiles on the reservation belonging to Indians valued at over $1,000 number 42, value $42,000; those valued at $700 number 22, total $15,400."

"There are 11,260 head of cattle, valued at $563,000, and 10,000 tons of hay, valued at approximately $100,000. In addition there are horses, which item I have not at hand, but which approximate $50,000 in value."

"There are 100 families whose expenditures exceed $1,500 per annum, 10 families whose expenditures exceed $2,500 per annum, and 50 families whose expenditures exceed $1,000 per annum, making a total of $225,000 expenditures, not counting some 317 heads of families and adults for whom no estimate is made, being non-resident Indians whose expenditures are less than $1,000 per annum."

"Occupations in which the income is $35,000 per capita, figuring on the timber alone. The distribution of this timber and the manufactur-
