Society

It seems like old times again in the musical circles of the city when one reads that Mrs. Zumwalt's pupils are to give a recital. It used to be that this was a regular thing in the musical circles of this city, but carried away by her enthusiasm, this gifted musician over-taxed her strength and was obliged to take a long rest in the Southland to recuperate. Now she is back again, and the glad news comes that her pupils will give a recital at the Houston Opera House next Thursday evening, November 6. There will be an admission fee of twenty-five cents, which will be contributed to the Red Cross. This is characteristic of Mrs. Zumwalt, who has always cheerfully responded to all demands made upon her, irrespective of class or creed. It was this gracious, generous, cheerful response that won for her the high esteem she so richly merits.

The program for the recital follows:

Chorus—"The Americans Come." (A blinded French soldier speaks to his little son).

Mrs. James Watkins, Jr., of 410 Ninth Street, entertained at a "500" party Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Watkins, Sr. and Mrs. W. W. Bonebeck, who have been visiting with Mrs. Watkins, Jr. The decorations were appropriate to the Hallowe'en time, and very extremely artistic. Refreshments were served. Mrs. G. B. Cozad won first honors.

Among those present were Mrs. C. F. Stenwell, Mrs. Will Hurn, Mrs. J. Perry, Mrs. G. B. Cozad, Mrs. Fred Garich, Mrs. C. Avery, Mrs. Belding, Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. Harden Carter, Mrs. A. E. Epperson, Miss Verda Cozad, Miss Ruth Avery, Mrs. Iva McLaughlin, Mrs. B. Brown, Mrs. James Foster, and Mrs. Vale of Eugene, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Merritt entertained the Epworth League of the Methodist Church at their home last evening at a "Hallowe'en party," about thirty young people being present. Decorations were appropriate to the season, and all participated in the games and stunts usual to such celebrations. Everybody present reported a fine time.

The guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Chaney, and daughters, Helen and Elaine, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. John Yaden, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Satterlee, Mr. and Mrs. Will Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Roy King, Miss Pearl Leavitt, Frank Robinson, and Vaughn Merritt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McPherran entertained a few friends at a goose dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hardenbrook who were married recently in this city. Mr. Manny of San Francisco was an out of town guest.

A delightful social evening was provided Tuesday when officers of Aloha chapter, O. E. S., entertained past officers in the lodge room of the chapter. The rooms were suitably decorated for the occasion. Besides talks from past and present officers, there was a reading by Mrs. H. H. Edmunds. Little Miss Joan Thompson gave a fancy dancing exhibition that captivated everyone.

The decorations were in Hallowe'en taste. Refreshments were served after the program. The Kedron club, the girls' Bible class of the Presbyterian Church, met last night at the home of Miss Fannie Virgils. Sewing occupied a portion of the evening. Refreshments were served. Those present were: The Misses Melby, Gertrude Parker, Faye Hogue, Jennie and Anna May Johnson, Florence Porter, Maude Carleton, and Ada Ralph. Mrs. B. C. Thomas, Mrs. A. M. Collier, Mrs. Verle Brubaker and Mrs. Rossiter.

Mrs. G. B. Cozad entertained at her home Wednesday evening at a small private card party. Those present were: Mrs. Bonebeck, Mrs. James Watkins, Sr., Mrs. Watkins, Jr., Miss Verda Cozad, Jack Horton, and Iva McLaughlin.

A typical Hallowe'en dance, with all appropriate accompanying stuffs was given last evening at the Moose Hall. There was a prize waltz, the winning couple being Miss Viola Santamau and Claude Taylor, who received a hugh box of candy; Miss Ruby Kenyon and Miss Norma Mann were a close second but failed to get the prize.

All present enjoyed a glorius time and dancing was continued until a late hour.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Gaddis, now residing in the Falls, for the winter, but whose summer home is at Eagle Ridge, on the Upper Klamath Lake, gave a duck dinner, Thursday evening to a small party of friends, including A. F. Heide, R. McCamy, and A. B. Collins. Dr. Gaddis states that ducks are very plentiful on the Lake now.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Whitman entertained at a delightful little dinner Wednesday evening when they had as their guests Mr. G. A. Trans of Portland, Mr. Clarence Burke and Mrs. and Mrs. D. O. Taylor of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Winnek were so lonely for a sight of their little granddaughter, Laura Lakin, who resides with her parents in Prineville, that they sent out an S. O. S. call for the biggest turkey they could find in Klamath and with all the trimmings that go with a big turkey and all the candy and nuts that they thought Miss Laura could eat, they set out in their machine for the 150 mile journey and arrived Sunday, despite the snow storms that overtook them enroute. They returned to this city Monday feeling greatly repaid for making the long trip.

The Misses Elizabeth Ramsby, Irene Williams and Wilma Grob entertained their friends at a Hallowe'en party Thursday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Ramsby on Fifth street. The evening was spent in games and music. The guests were Adaline Bordeaux, Florence and Clarice Elliott, Louie

Gerrue, George Connors, Roland and Lester Cofer, Anita Lawrence, Marie Davenport, Veronica McAndrews, Nellie Elliott, Zeddie Barnes, Dorothy and Don Dunham, Edna Dunbar, Ralph Williams, Gordon Loomis, Chlorene Ryan, Waive Withrow and Joan McDonald.

At the home of Mrs. F. H. Cofer, 1017 High street last night, the entire Sixth grade class of the Central school were entertained at a party given by Ruth Cofer, a member of the class.

The house was decorated with Hallowe'en trimmings. A fortune telling booth was one of the chief features of amusement. Games of various sorts helped in entertainment of the young folk. Cake and punch were served during the evening.

Miss Nellie McAndrews, Sixth grade teacher, Mrs. S. O. Bearing and Miss Gertrude Cofer, assisted Mrs. F. H. Cofer in caring for the guests.

Mrs. Harry Peltz entertained her Sunday school class Thursday evening with a Hallowe'en party at her home on Walnut street. The party was given in honor of Miss Velma Meredith and her brothers, Clyde and Claude Meredith, who are soon to leave for Portland where they will study music.

Captain Marion Nine, well known mill operator of Klamath and Siskiyou counties, was married at Macdoel, California, to Miss Susan Ellen Gleason October 27, according to announcement received by their friends. Before entering the service Captain Nine operated a mill at Fort Klamath, also other properties in this county. He also operated a mill near Weed, California. He served 18 months in France and was in charge of American milling operations there. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gleason. Captain Nine has a brother, Preston Nine, at Chiloquin. His parents live at Macdoel.

The home of Mrs. Charles Moore, 304 West Canal street, was the scene of a lovely Hallowe'en party yesterday. Mrs. John Moore was joint hostess of the 32 guests who took part in the affair.

The window curtains were overhung with yellow, and the rooms were decorated with baby chrysanthemums. The lights were shaded in yellow, while black cats, owls, and witches scattered appropriately about formed appropriate decorations for the party.

Mrs. R. H. Dunbar and her cousin, Mrs. Rogers assisted the Mesdames Moore in the reception of the guests.

"Five hundred was the chief entertainment feature of the afternoon. The first prize, a choice piece of Bohemian cut glass, was won by Miss Verda Cozad. The consolation prize, a witch and black kettle, fell to Mrs. Will Baldwin. Dainty refreshments were served during the afternoon.

The younger girls were royally entertained last night from 7:00 till 10:00 o'clock by the Misses Katherine and Beatrice Walton at their home on Conger Avenue. The girls all came masked and in suitable costume to find the house decorated with more than the usual number of witches and spooks everywhere. The usual Hallowe'en games were played and dainty refreshments served after which the girls went home, but probably not to sleep.

Those present were: Margaret Hargus, Catherine Ulrich, Elizabeth Manning, Frances McLean, Dorothy and Marian Wortley, Mary McKendrie, Mary Whiteline, Gertrude Smith, Elizabeth Graham, Rebecca Humphrey, Dorothy Deizell, Margaret Johnson, Helen Caldwell, and Nellie Elliott.

He Saw Very Well. I had employed a piano tuner for several years who was blind, writes a correspondent. One day he brought another man when he came to tune the piano, asking my permission to teach him some things about piano tuning. I left them in the parlor by themselves and when they had finished, I was dressing to go out.

Knowing they were blind and rather than keep them waiting, I went in to pay the tuner in rather scant attire. I remarked to the stranger, "It is nice for you blind people that there is work like this for you to do."

OLE OLSON. Possibly, no other Swedish Comedy has achieved such marked success as 'Ole Olson' it being the vehicle in which Ben Hendricks was starred and in which he made an international reputation as a Swedish comedian.

Dave Williams who plays the part of 'Ole' in the company coming to the Opera House tomorrow night is equally as clever as Mr. Hendricks and has that quiet droll way of presenting his comedy that goes to prove that comedians are born and not made. Mr. Williams has succeeded in following the advice of Chas. Froham to the play:—"Please the ladies for without them the theatres would have to close." Mr. Williams is supported by a clever cast of artists among whom are Miss Blanche Walsh, Art C. Walsh, Miss Esther Barry, Robert B. Hamilton, and America's foremost child actor, Master Thos. J. Walsh, who plays "Little Jim" or as Ole calls him "Little Yim."

Ole Olson is not a moving picture but is a three act comedy drama filled with funny situations which keep the audience in the height of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Remember the time and the place. There will be special vaudeville features between acts.
